FREDERICTON NEWS.

FREDERICTON, N. B., Aug. 22.—E. A. O'Brien, Jas. P. Farrell, J. D. Hanlon, John Boyle, Peter Hughes and Thomas Cain have been elected delegates from this city to the A. O. Hibernian convention at Woodstock next week.

Bishop Kingdon returned yesterday from a trip to the upper waters of the St. John. On Wednesday at New Denmark the bishop confirmed a class of twenty-five presented by the rector, Rev. C. E. Malmann, who is doing excellent work in the parish. The bishop expressed himself much pleased with the improvement made recently in the church property and church yard at New Denmark. Tomorrow morning his lordship goes by steamer to Greenwich, Queens county, to administer the rite of confirmation, and from there proceeds to Sussex and Studholm. He expects to return to Fredericton on Wednesday next.

Wednesday evening a number of the parishioners of Maudersville, Sunbury Co., waited upon Rev. E. W. Colston at the rectory and presented him and Mrs. Colston with a handsome breakfast, dinner and tea set, a quantity of table linen and a ratan rocker. The presentation was accompanied by verbal expression of the kindly feelings of the people of Maudersville towards Rev. Mr. Colston and his esteemed wife, and of the general regret which is felt over his early departure to his new field of labor at Welsford, after six years faithful and successful labors at Maudersville.

COME AND GET US.

The following articles, big letters and all, appears in the Boston Evening Record:—

"THE UNITED STATES MUST HAVE CANADA. We can well afford to stop our foray in the Philippines, our buying of bankrupt W. Indian lands, our interference with China, but Canada is naturally a part of our territory, and the only menace to our peace which exists. With Canada in our hands, the Monroe doctrine would practically execute itself. With Canada, the interests of our country commercially would be more prospered than with all the tropics. We could afford to buy Canada, or to encourage her people to demand admission to the Union.

"But Canada we must have, and the true American in public life will make that one of the fundamental stones in his foundation.—CANADA MUST BECOME A PART OF THE UNITED STATES."

RHODES' GIFT. ENORMOUS BETS. NEWFOUNDLAND.

Bequeathed Land to Countess of Warwick.
Two Million Dollars a Day on the Races.

Which Has Sold for $1,000,000—A Famous Beauty and Imperialist.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—The Essex County Chronicle says it hears that Cecil Rhodes bequeathed to the countess of Warwick lands in South Africa which have sold for $1,000,000.

The Earl and Countess of Warwick have an estate in Essex, (Eastern Lodge, Dunmow) which may account for the local paper obtaining this item of news.

The countess, who years ago was referred to as "Babbling Brooke," and who was well known as Lady Brooks the famous beauty, obtained her nickname because it was supposed that she first whispered of the baccarat scandal of some years ago. She founded Brooke House at Reading for the training of women and sometimes added to it a colonial department in which women are taught cooking, housewifery, laundry work and dressmaking. Something before the death of Cecil Rhodes the countess published an article on Training Girls for the Transvaal, in which she directly appealed to Andrew Carnegie for aid in the work. At the time the provisions of Mr. Rhodes will were made public it was reported that he had left a large sum of money to the Earl and Countess of Warwick because the countess, more than all other English women, best personified British imperialism from a feminine point of view; but, the report was denied by an intimate friend of Mr. Rhodes who was familiar with the contents of the will.

ENORMOUS BETS.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 23.—"I estimate that two millions of dollars a day are bet on the races at this track," said bookmaker Joe Ullman, when asked how this year's wagering compared with that of other seasons.

Mr. Ullman is generally conceded to be the most experienced layer in the ring.

"The amount of betting now," he continued, "is five times as great as was last year or any year that I have known here. The money does not come from any great plunger or group of plungers, but from the great assemblage of rich men who are willing to bet from $100 to $1,000 on their choices in a race.

"There are twice as many bookmakers here as there were a year ago, and they are all busy. The amount of money in circulation here is an indication of the great prosperity of the country. The summer population of this village is not one-fourth as large as the racing contingent from which the metropolitan tracks draw their attendance, and yet the clubhouse, grand stand and field are always well filled. The racing is high class, the people have lots of spending money, and they are willing to risk it on the horses."

NEWFOUNDLAND.

Sir Robert Bond is en-route to Washington.

Would Rather Negotiate With the United States than with Canada.

LONDON, Aug. 23.—Sir Robert Bond, the premier and colonial secretary of Newfoundland, sailed Friday for Montreal on his way to Washington with full powers from the government to resume negotiations for the ratification of the Bond-Blaine convention.

The Bond-Blaine convention was a special agreement entered into about ten years ago between the late James G. Blaine, then secretary of state, and the premier of Newfoundland.

The convention on the part of Newfoundland, granted to the United States fishermen considerable privileges in regard to purchasing bait and largely reduced the duties on a considerable class of American imports into Newfoundland. The United States on its side opened its markets to Newfoundland fish and raw products and conceded the privilege of transportation of fresh fish in bond to the United States markets. The Newfoundland premier has declared himself in favor of free trade with the United States as against a union of the colony with the Dominion of Canada. His success in obtaining imperial sanction for his present American visit is the culmination of 12 years of persistent effort and only this week was Sir Robert able to convince the government of the injustice done to Newfoundland by the non-ratification of the convention and secure its consent to the resumption of the reciprocity negotiations.

The premier of Newfoundland will lose no time in getting to work and the British charge d'affaires will communicate with the state departments shortly after the premier's arrival in America.

FREDERICTON BAD BOYS.

And Judge Marsh's Reflection on the Reformatory.

(Fredericton Gleaner, Friday.)

The three lads, two Bolters and one Magee, arrested upon a charge of theft at the house of Joseph Walker, Fork street, again came before His Honor Judge Marsh this morning. One of the Bolter boys is but seven years of age, and when he appeared before the Judge the other day he was sent home as being so young as to be irresponsible for his conduct, especially as he was in the company of an older brother. After being sent home by the Judge he went into a neighbor's garden and stole a lot of stuff, saying that he did not fear the consequences as he was so young he would not be sent to jail. The three boys pleaded guilty before him today and were remanded to jail until Tuesday next, when they will come up for sentence. Judge Marsh says that while desiring to deal justly by the boys and to take the course that will be best for them in the future he is puzzled what to do with them. He does not like to send them to jail, but in such cases but small corrective influences, and the reformatory at St. John has not such a reputation as makes it desirable to send the boys there.

THE MURDER CASE.

The commitment of Frank Higgins for the murder of William Doherty has not suspended the effort of the police to find further evidence. Some of the force are still working on the case, and though little is said as to the result, it is certain that they have obtained further information, most of which is of a corroborative character. Some new witnesses will be called to give evidence before the circuit court, which opens Tuesday week, and they, it is expected, will further fortify the case of the crown. It is certain that the defence has not been idle, but the exact line to be taken is known only to the prisoner's counsel. If Higgins goes on the stand sensational developments may be expected.

THE GIANT SQUID.

Undoubtedly the giant squid has frequently been mistaken for a sea serpent. In all qualities which can render a marine monster horrible this huge and frightful mollusk may be said to compare favorably with any creature of fact or fiction. When full grown, it weighs 10,000 pounds, having a body fifty feet long and two arms each 100 feet in length, as well as eight small tentacles.
