[To the Associated Press.] BOSTON, May 30. Boston was visited with another destructive fire this forendon, which at one time threatened to equal the one of last November. The wind was strong from the northwest, and chaders were carried in every direction. The fire broke out in the upper portion of the extensive furniture of manufactory of Healey, Morse & Co., 411 Washington street, and destroyed that building, with the International hotel, Jourdain's Anatomical Museum, with other buildings on the west side. The flames then crossed to the east side of Washington street, destroying the Globe theatre, Chickering's piano-forte warerooms, Arlington Hall, corner of Essex street, and several buildings on the north side of Essex st. The total loss is estimated at a million ston was visited with another de-
