INFALLIBILITY CURED DAILY N. B.

DIAMOND RHEUMATIC CURE Effectually cured 15) of our St. John eitizen from that terrible malady. RHEUMATISM!

DIAMINO RHEUMATIC CURE !! In its history, this invaluable Medicine occupies the most honorable position ossible for any remedy to attain. A few years since it was known only to the friends and neighbors and patients of the proprietors, and alw ys sought for by them wh never troubled with Rheumatism, and in this way came to the notice of physicians generally, and alrough their favorable expression, and its acknowledged value as a Rheumatic Remedy, the domaind f rit became so frequent and urgent as to oblige its preprietors to increase their facilities for its manufacture. Its reputation rapidly extended, and soon orders, le ters of enquiry, letters of thanks, and certificates of praise were daily received from all sections of the United its merits alone—unaided by "tricks of the trade" or special efforts—it has risen to its present enviable position. Wherever introduced it has received the most flattering preference in the treatment of all rheumatic complaints. In this we are really greatful and happy, not alone because our medicine finds ready sale, and is consequently profitable to us, do we say this, but because we open a new field in medical sei nee, and cure at once what the medical practitioners have for ages found so difficult even to rel eve. We fill a place heretofore unoccupied. We relieve the suffering and Minister to God's poor; we restore the laboring man to the use of his injured limbs, and save him scores of times its costain dector's bills; we carry contentment and glanned into the homes of the afflicted, and consequently are remembered by millions of grate-utsouls.

THE MIST. The mist crept over the valley
Heavy and chill and gray;
The mist crept into the chamber
Where she sitteth alone : Iway, The mist crept over the mountain
Which loomed through its shadow dark,
And kissed with its cold embraces,
The old oak's gnarted bark. She cowered close to the fire,
The firmes shot clear and fair,
They flashed on her pallid features,
And they saw that the mist was ther A mist that is born of sorrow, A cloud that is formed of dread, Like the faint gray shade that gathers Over the face of the dead, On them 'tis the sign that showeth Life's conqueror hath descended On her the mark that telleth The life of life is ended. The mist will pass off from the valley
When the spring's first pulses stir:
But the mist that rests on her spirit,
Will never pass off from her.
