

A vague rumour is afloat that there is to be re-union of all the graduates at the close of this session. Such a gathering would be alike beneficial to graduates, professors and students, as well as to the church at large. The tie which binds the graduates to the college would thus be strengthened and counsel could be taken touching mission work in this province and also in the foreign fields.

The Rev. C. MacKillop, B.A., 78, has been appointed inspector of the schools belonging to the Lethbridge district, N.W.T. Whilst Mr. MacKillop takes a deep interest in educational matters, yet a glance at the annual report of the congregation will show that he has not been neglecting his work proper. The membership at the commencement of Mr. MacKillop's ministry, a short time ago, was only 16 and it is now 51. The reports presented by the Board of Managers, Sabbath School, Ladies Aid Society and Session, were exceedingly satisfactory. On the suggestion of Mr. John Craig it was agreed to call the congregation Knox Church, Lethbridge, in honor of the Knox College Missionary Society under whose auspices it was organized.
