

therein, then in the newspaper which shall be published nearest to the said county.

XXIX. And be it enacted, That the said Fair or Market shall be as respects any thing that may be sold lawfully thereat, and which shall be sold in a public manner, between the hours of ten in the forenoon and five in the afternoon, a market overt; and the usual common law incidents shall attach to such sale; Provided always that the property in any animal, article or thing, proved to have been feloniously taken from the owner shall not be altered by any such sale.

Fair or Market to be inarket overt to a certain extent

Proviso.

XXX. And be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for the Officers and Directors of such Society, if they shall think proper, to fix a moderate toll to be paid by the seller of any article at such Fair or Market for the purpose of defraying the necessary expenses of holding the same: Provided that the amount of such toll shall be specified in the public notice hereinbefore required to be given, and any Justice of the Peace, on proof of a sale at such Fair or Market and refusal to pay the said toll, may issue his warrant against the seller, and levy the amount thereof by distress and sale of the seller's goods and chattels, as in ordinary cases of distress.

Tolls may be imposed on sales at Fairs.

Proviso.

XXXI. And be it enacted, That the word "County," as used in this Act, shall be held to include any two or more Counties united for judicial purposes.

Interpretation of the word "County"