My dear Mr. Gordon,

I thank you most heartily for your welcome letter just received. I appreciate exceedingly the expression of confidence which it conveys. I, of course, remember you very well, and both of the occasions to which you make reference in your letter.

From every side I hear only the warmest expressions of regard for yourself and the good services which you have been continuously rendering to the party in Peterborough.

I shall welcome every opportunity to have a conference with yourself in matters pertaining to the wellbeing of the party and our country.

With warm personal regards,
believe me

Yours very sincerely,
