FLORENCEVILLE HAS SCHOOL FAIR

Home Efficiency Club Having Put Up 300 Cans of Fruits and Vegetables, Also Shows

A very successful school fair was held in the assembly hall of the Florenceville Consolidated school on Friday atternoon, Oct

The weather was favorable and a large number of people availed themselves of the opportunity to see some results of the work done in connection with the school during the last year.

Much credit is due the princial, A. D. Jonah, with the assistance of the staff, Miss Jean Adams, first intermediate; Miss J. P. Alward, second intermediate and manual training; Miss L. B. Perley, primary and domestic science for collecting, and arranging the exhibit. Special mention should be made of the work of the Home Efficiency Club of eighteen members, who have canned about 300 quarts of fruit and vegetables. The splendid exhibit shown on this page was a representative of the work they had done.

The household science served light retreshments during the afternoon and raised $23 in aid of the blind soldiers' fund.

Among those present were T. Atkinson, A. D. McCain and S. M. Fiske, members of the school board. R. P. Steeves, director, director of elementary agriculture, delivered an address in which he expressed himself much pleased with the exhibit. He pointed out the advantages of teaching the child how to make a success of the industrial life, and also the necessity of linking the home with the school.

The prise lists were as follows; Cake (girls over 13 years)-1st, Helen McCain; 2nd, Doris Peters; 3rd, Francis Atkinson; 4th, Muriel Hunter.
