

CORNS

Lift Off with Fingers

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly!

A SEN TO LET HAIR FALL OUT

35c "Danderine" Saves Your Hair—Ends Dandruff! Delightful Tonic

Happy! It's your duty! Each day you see a little more hair falling out and you are making no effort to avoid baldness. What a pity. Falling hair means your hair is weak, sick—possibly dandruff is strangling it, or the hair root pores in the scalp are not firm and tight, thus wasting the hair-growing oils.

Danderine almost instantly stops falling hair of men or women and cleans every particle of dandruff away then the hair takes on new life, vigor and strength to grow strong, thick, and long.

Danderine is delightful—not sticky or greasy. Go to any drugstore now and get a bottle. Use it. Have healthy, beautiful hair and lots of it.

MOTHER!

Move Child's Bowels with "California Fig Syrup"

Even a cross, feverish, bilious or constipated child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." A teaspoonful never fails to cleanse the liver and bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the sour bile, and undigested food out of the bowels and you have a well-playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

CONSERVATION

Much Used Word Has Two Different Meanings

"That much abused word 'conservation' has two meanings, totally opposite," says Edwin E. Slosson, in the Science News Bulletin.

"Conservation in some cases means using and conservation in other cases means not using. The legislator with his agate-bearing tongue will talk of the 'conservation of our coal and water-power' just as though the two things were alike and require the same treatment. It is just as absurd as if a man should ask a painter to have his house painted 'the color of snow and ink,' for the conservation of coal means saving it, for what is not used to-day will be of use tomorrow. The conservation of water-power, on the contrary, means using it, for what is not used to-day will be lost forever.

"The greatest waste is our failure to utilize, not our carelessness in methods of utilization. We Americans waste 50 per cent. of our petroleum through irrational and competitive drilling. We waste two-thirds of our coal before its energy gets into the engine. But we waste all of the sunshine that falls upon our arid region lands, and that means a greater loss of energy than we get from all our oil and coal. The richest region in the United States is Death Valley, California. Even the green leaves are not able to catch and incorporate more than one per cent. of the power of the sunshine that falls upon them. If some one would invent a solar engine with an efficiency of five per cent. it would add incalculably to the wealth of the country through the utilization of the wasted sunbeams that fall upon our land.

"Here is a prize bigger than any grasped by coal kings and oil magnates. But nobody comes forward to claim it. Yet very likely the knowledge necessary to achieve this supreme triumph of chemical engineering is already in existence—somewhere. If it is not, there is certainly enough brain-power in the world to solve the problem. If it were set to work at it. We are all of us the poorer because of this waste of ideas and inventive genius."

Harvesting Bananas.

Each banana plant—popularly but incorrectly called a tree—bears only a single bunch of bananas, which is made up of so-called "hands," or clusters. The "hands" grow separately in spirals, and each contains from one to twenty-five bananas, or "fingers." Commercially bananas are classified according to "hand." A bunch that has less than six is not readily marketable; the standard bunch has nine, and all bunches with nine or more clusters are classified as nine-hand fruit. A nine-hand bunch varies in weight according to the variety of the fruit and to the soil and the climatic conditions under which it is grown; the average weight is from fifty to seventy-five pounds. Occasionally you see a bunch that has as many as twenty-two "hands" and more than three hundred bananas; a bunch as large as that might weigh approximately one hundred and fifty pounds. When a bunch of bananas is cut the individual plant is destroyed, but the roots are still able to send up shoots. After the first crop of fruit from two to five of the most promising shoots are left to grow and supply fruit later. Cutting out the extra shoots is called pruning. As the season of harvest is drawing near, young plants are coming to maturity to replace those that will have to be cut down. There are areas where as a result of a single planting the plants have continued to produce bananas for a period extending to at least twenty years.

The Quest of Youth.

How superfluous was the quest of Ponce de Leon, after the rubbish some one wrote about "If Youth But Knew, If Age But Could!" Age not only can, but does. The news is filled with lively octogenarians. Mrs. Felton of Georgia, at 87, enters the Senate. "Step on the gas," yells Uncle Joe Cannon, setting out by motor from the capital for Danville, Ill. Out in Dena Mrs. Fannie Hallett, only 85, goes up in an airplane and finds it an improvement over the prairie schooner. Mrs. Richardson, 86, a football fan, of Davenport, Ia., charts a special year to carry these generations of Richardsons, headed by herself, to the Yale-Iowa game at New Haven. Up in Danbury, Conn., young W. H. Nelson, in his 82nd year, drives his trotter at the fair and takes a heat to the time of 2.11½. The moribund malampus idea has gone out of fashion. There is no such thing as being superannuated. Old age is simply a bad habit that nobody need acquire.—New York Tribune.

In Peru.

In the heart of La Joya, Peru, there are thousands of crescent-shaped sand dunes formed by the winds and slowly advancing across the level surface. One investigator measured one of these dunes, the points of whose crescent were 160 feet apart, while the length around the convex side was 477 feet. The width at the widest part of the crescent was more than 100 feet. The weight of the sand composing the dune was estimated at 8,000 tons, yet it moved 125 feet in a year. All the dunes have the same form, and all have the convex side toward the prevailing south winds.—Washington Star.

In Bavaria.

In Bavaria an attempt has been made to introduce into commerce what may be termed solidified petroleum. Soda lye, fat and petroleum are heated together for an hour and give a waxy product, which solidifies on cooling. Sawdust or other combustible may be mixed with the material, and it can be made into bricks for fuel. It would give a very smoky flame.

Pimples Disappear

"You don't need mercury, potash or any other strong mineral to cure pimples caused by poor blood. Take Extract of Roots—druggists call it 'Mother Tincture'—and your skin will clear up as fresh as a baby's. It will sweeten your stomach and regulate your bowels." Get the genuine, 50c. and $1.00 Bottles. At drug stores.
