

THE HAMILTON TIMES

THURSDAY, OCT. 24, 1907.

A PERILOUS SITUATION.

The financial situation in the United States is far from assuring, and a condition of things has been brought about that will require all the generalship and resources of the country's financiers to avert a great national disaster.

From New York the disturbance has spread to Pittsburgh, where four of the United States Westinghouse firms have been placed in the hands of receivers, and the Stock Exchange has been closed to prevent foolish sacrifices of securities during an uncalmed panic.

That is not a bad record, but the Brantford Expositor points out that a still better showing is made when we include the fiscal year just ended. It says that a short time ago Mr. Fielding was able to announce that the surplus of the past fiscal year had more than wiped out the debt increase of the past ten years, and that Canada's debt-to-day is less than it was when the Conservatives went out of office.

The Hague conference was not altogether a failure. The restaurant keepers and caterers furnished more than half a million dollars' worth of food and drink to the delegates. The florists also did well. The telegraph and cable companies received $1,125,360 for transmitting messages from delegates to governments and vice versa.

THAT SANDSUCKER.

The Fire and Water Committee last night decided to repair the sandsucker, damaged by fire in the filtering basin, at a cost that the insurance will probably cover, and put it in working order again.

Now, when the financial fabric of the country is threatened with collapse, her great industries with ruin, and her commerce with resulting stagnation, it is the great princes of finance who have been so much assailed, the Morgans, the Rockefellers and their associates, who are looked to to save the situation and avert national disaster!

EDITORIAL NOTES.

But the automobile owners are not yet sacrificing their machines to buy balloons.

Thanksgiving turkeys, we are told, will be plentiful and cheap. Something to be thankful for.

Saskatoon has sold $100,000 5 per cent. debentures at 90. But that is getting money at a rather high rate.

When Foreman Nelligan gets his accusers before the jury they will be obliged to produce the goods or own that they were misled.

New York is adopting the same style of street car as Montreal, with one door for ingress and one for exit. It is said to avoid much confusion.

Why is it that a lot of students who have passed the bib and nursing bottle stage cannot behave themselves when on a party visit to another town?

OUR GROWING BUSINESS.

We hear a good deal from Tory papers about the increase in the national expenditure under the Liberals. It has increased very materially; but who would wish to decrease it? Take the Post Office, for example. The increase in that branch of the service has been very large. But the demands of the country made it necessary, and there are not lacking Tory speakers and newspapers which assert that it should be much larger, and that higher pay should be the rule.

service has been greatly cheapened and extended.

And what applies to the Post Office applies to the other departments of the Government. The business has increased, and the figures of expenditure have largely increased. What the dishonest critics do is to conceal the fact that the business has also grown vastly.

What's wrong with Judd's gullotine? Was it out of order? A London despatch to the New York Sun says Canada is carefully guarding against the entrance of unfit immigrants even from Great Britain.

Toronto people are kicking over the increased cost of coal, which they suspect is the work of a combine, and they ask for a Government commission to investigate.

The Board of Governors of Wesleyan Theological College sent heterodoxy in Prof. Workman, and ask him to resign, the vote standing 10 to 7.

Beer now goes up in price. My, my! but the necessities of life are flying so high the poor man soon won't be able to touch them with a ten-foot pole.

A United States army balloon came down near Hamilton yesterday, but not so hard as a United States army came down near Queenstown Heights in 1812-13.

Other members of the court will give like entertainments during the winter season.

The High School Commencement entertainment in the town hall to-morrow evening, promises to be a great success.

Another concert of much interest will be that of the Citizens' Committee on Nov. 14, when Owen Smiley, the humorist, will contribute to the programme.

Navigation on the canal has closed for the season, and Capt. Reynolds will dry dock the Maud for the winter.

French-Canadian and Italian Detained to Await Arrival of Officer.

Toronto, Oct. 24.—With Louisa Barbican, a French-Canadian girl of fourteen years, Olivia Bogie, an Italian laborer, came to Toronto from Welland a week ago, and yesterday the young man was arrested on a charge of abduction preferred by the girl's friends at Welland. The prisoner was found at 381 Concord avenue, where the man formerly lived.

They were a couple of veterans who had played on the course since the middle of the dark ages, and they progressed with leisurely enjoyment. Behind them came a fiery young couple, who were anxious to be on to the next, and the veterans felt that they were being pressed. Going up the hill the young couple drove into the heels of the men in front in a manner that became offensive. By and by back came a youthful caddy with this polite message: "Master Blank's compliments. I am to tell you that he and his partner are going slow, but they can gang a dashed sight slower."

He has several convictions against him in Toronto, and states that he never did a day's work in his life.
