

WEDDINGS AT BEAMSVILLE.

Marriage of Miss Fairbrother a Fashionable Event.

Norey-Hosha! Nuptials at the Bride's Home.

Recital by W. H. Hewlett and Hamilton Entertainers.

(Special to the Times.)

Grimsby, Nov. 10.—A pretty and fashionable wedding of more than usual interest to the centre of the fruit garden took place here this afternoon in old St. Andrew's Church. Miss May Fairbrother was the sweet and dainty bride, who proceeded down the flower and smilax arched aisle on the arm of her brother, Mr. W. D. Fairbrother, of Beamsville, to stand beside her future spouse, Mr. Arthur E. Simms-Bull. The bride's attire was of ivory duchesse messaline satin, made a la princess, with train en suite, and richly embroidered with silk floss and trimmed with bands of silver and pearls. She wore the regulation veil and orange blossom, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Her hat was of white plush, with white plumes. The bridesmaid, Miss Mina Fairbrother, wore blue satin, trimmed with gold and pascamentine. A white picture hat with white plumes completed the costume, with which went a bouquet of pink roses. Little Kathleen Fairbrother, the bride's niece, carried in her flower basket white and yellow blossoms. She wore a frock of white silk over yellow, and a quaint white turnover hat, with gold ribbons. Mr. Colin Paton, of Toronto, was the best man, and the ushers Messrs. A. Burland, Harry Baker and W. G. Drope, of Grimsby. The ceremony was performed by Rev. De la Rosa, assisted by Rev. J. A. Ballard. Mrs. George Pettit officiated at the organ, and the choir of St. Andrew's rendered a choral service, assisted by the Grimsby orchestra. The beautifully decorated church was filled by many friends who came from Buffalo, Toronto, Beamsville and other points. Mrs. Fairbrother, the bride's mother, wore black silk voile over taffeta, with jet trimmings, a black hat with black and white plumes and jet. Mrs. W. D. Fairbrother was in blue satin with silver and white plumes. A buffet luncheon was afterwards served by Crawford in the rooms of the Village Inn annex. Mr. and Mrs. Bull went to New York for a honeymoon trip, the going away dress being of wine colored broadcloth, with velvet hat to match. All the attendants wore the favors of the groom, which were appropriate for the occasion. The evident popularity of the bride was surely evidenced by the array of gifts. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Bull will take up their residence in town for a time at least.

NOREY—HOSHAL. A quiet wedding of a very popular Beamsville girl took place this afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hosha, when their eldest daughter, Olive, became the wife of Mr. John Norey, a prosperous young farmer of Cainsville. Rev. Judson Truax was the officiating clergyman.

ORGAN RECITAL. Mr. W. H. Hewlett, organist of Centenary Church, Hamilton, assisted by Miss Della Ashley, Mr. George Allan, Miss Clara Salisbury and Mr. Roy McIntosh, will conduct a grand concert in the Methodist Church at Beamsville tomorrow night.

PROVED FATAL. George Tait's Accident Resulted in His Death in Hospital.

George Tait passed away this morning at the City Hospital, after suffering for nearly seventeen hours with internal injuries received yesterday morning as a result of falling from the roof of his own house, corner of Niagara and Gilkinson streets. For the past four years he had been a faithful employee of the Hamilton Steel & Iron Company. Previous to that he was employed by W. A. Freeman & Co. He was 41 years of age, and leaves, besides a widow, four children, a mother, two sisters, J. R. Crawford, and Mrs. James Hillier, and one brother, William, at present employed by the Thos. Myles Sons' Company. An inquest was opened this morning, but was adjourned until William Morrison, who was also injured, is able to appear.

ISSUED WRIT. Dena Tanac Want Damages For Her Husband's Death.

A writ has been issued by Lena Tanac against the Hamilton Street Railway for damages for the death of her husband, Dena Tanac, which she claims was due to the negligence of the defendants or their servants or employees.

The plaintiff's husband was seriously injured on July 31st, by stepping off a moving car on Barton street east, at the corner of Gibson avenue, and died at the City Hospital the following Saturday. The claim is that when the car approached the corner the signal was given to stop it, but the conductor failed to ring the bell and the car did not stop. The plaintiff's husband was standing at the back, waiting for it to stop and had a number of articles in his hands. When the car passed the corner he endeavored to jump off, fell and received injuries which proved fatal.

RAMMED LOCK. Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Nov. 10.—The steamer Isaac L. Ellwood rammed the upper gate of the Pelee Dam in the Sault Canal today, demolishing the south leaf of the gate, and probably placing the big lock out of commission for the rest of this season. Navigation will not be interrupted, however, as both the Canadian and Weitzel locks are available.

HELD ANOTHER SECRET SESSION.

Hydro Clique Had Another Hole-In-Corner Meeting Before Council Met on Monday.

Notwithstanding the recent exposure when the Hydro clique were surprised in secret session in the City Hall, hatching up a scheme in connection with the power question, the same aldermen, or a number of them, had another hole-in-the-corner meeting before the Council met on Monday night. One of the aldermen who attended the meeting is the authority for the statement that the contents of Hon. Adam Beck's letter, which were demanded by Aldermen Jutten and Hopkins, who asked that they be supplied with typewritten copies and which some of the Hydro aldermen insisted should be read two or three times, were before the meeting and discussed. If this is true, and a Hydro alderman is the authority for the story, it is just another incident of the double dealing that has been in progress for months past. Just why the contents of a letter addressed to the Mayor should be laid before a certain clique of aldermen is hard to understand. Did Mr. Beck consent to it? The mystery of how the letter came to be placed on the city clerk's desk late on Monday afternoon, was partly cleared up to-day by Mr. Kent himself. He says he learned that a young man, who described himself as a messenger from the local office of the Hydro-Commission, brought the letter into the office at 15 minutes to 6 o'clock and left it with one of his clerks. The fact remains, however, that the letter was dated Saturday, and, for some reason, was held back until the last minute when it could just as easily have been delivered the first thing Monday morning. This is from the Toronto Telegram. It is understood to be the intention of Hon. Adam Beck, chairman of the Hydro-Electric Commission, to give to the press the terms of the power contract which Hamilton Council was authorized to enter into and which the aldermen seek to load up with impossible conditions. The correspondence that has passed between the two

GEO. T. BLACKSTOCK.

BLACKSTOCK

Addresses University Men at Delmonico's, New York.

Britain and America Must Come Closer Together, He Says.

New York, Nov. 10.—George Tate Blackstock, K. C., came down from Toronto and made a speech last night to a dinner party of English school and university men at Delmonico's, at which he went at the problem of an Anglo-American alliance, in effect turning it as a means of insuring the stability of the British Empire. The dinner was on the occasion of King Edward's birthday. All the speakers held him as the world's great peace-maker.

Mr. Blackstock, in his address, carried the British Empire through the successive steps of its formation, and then spoke of what confronted it in the future.

"Shall the empire endure," he said, "or is it a political organization which is bound to crumble? The answer which is commonly given to such a question is that such an outcome would be a catastrophe. Yet catastrophes as great have happened in the world before now."

Then he said that there were those, John Stuart Mill, Cobden and John Bright among them, who advocated the disruption of the empire, an idea that their followers were still talking the same thing. He pointed to the isolation of the several colonies and that they were particularly apt to be embroiled with their near neighbors, irrespective of the policy of the Government at home.

"To-day," he says, "we see three great empires in the world. One is the great republic. Another is the Russian empire, which is taken to be the legitimate successor of the Byzantine dynasty. The third is the British empire. Germany might by a policy of colonial aggression become a fourth."

"Yet upon two of these communities depend the hopes of the world. I cannot express the hope that in the future these two stand in closer alliance. Let us remember from the history of the race that union is natural and that separation is unnatural."

BADLY HURT. Fred Lavery Struck by a Falling Trolley Pole.

Mr. Fred Lavery, Alanson street, and of the Times business office staff, met with a painful accident last night at the corner of King and James streets, by being struck on the head by a street car trolley pole, which dropped off one of the cars. He sustained a painful wound on the head. He was assisted to Mack's drug store, where the wound was dressed. He was afterwards able to go home. To-day he is doing nicely and will be able to resume work in a few days.

Many accidents of this sort have occurred at this corner in the last few months.

LABOR NOT NATIONAL.

The Cry of Canada For Canadians Is Odious to It.

Would be Hard to Make Labor Men Fight.

The Battle Over Electrical Workers Postponed.

(Special Wire to the Times.) Toronto, Ont., Nov. 10.—The report of the recent annual meeting of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress was read this morning at the Federation of Labor Convention by Jerome Jones. It said in part: "They believed and showed their belief that labor government is not a national affair, but one that cannot recognize national boundaries. They felt, on the contrary, that to limit labor unionism to countries was a most selfish policy. The cry of Canada for Canadians is an odious to the labor men of Canada as is the open shop to the union men of the United States. As far as we, the Congress felt that while we felt loyal to England, it would take more than a fancied insult or some commercial menace to England to make us fight."

The Credentials Committee reported against the seating of A. L. Urick, Des Moines, Iowa, representing the Trades and Labor Assembly, for violating the constitution of the A. F. of L. in retaining a seceding organization of electrical workers. It also reported against the seating of H. Mechelester, of Sioux City, Iowa, Trades and Labor Assembly, for the same reason.

It was thought that this had started the ball rolling for the big fight that will take place over the seating of the electrical workers' delegates, but it was not so, as President Gompers suggested the adoption of further reports from other committees and bodies. From the fact that the convention adopted the supplemental report against the seating of two delegates because they had joined hands with the so-called rebel electrical workers, it looks very much as if the present administration had things pretty well in hand and that a complete rout for the electrical delegates is in plain view.

The Credentials Committee also reported against the seating of Otto H. Zimmer, representing the Labor Educational Association of Ontario. No reason was assigned.

President Gompers made a brief speech on the necessity of the convention doing all in its power to adopt some means of protecting the lives of men engaged in industrial pursuits. On the suggestion of Delegate Leonard the matter was left to the Committee on Education to be dealt with. A committee of three was appointed to draft a resolution of condolence to the relatives of Delegate Earl Russ, representing the Typographical Union of Niagara Falls, N. Y., who was asphyxiated in a house on Shuter street last night.

MAY STAY. Martin Griffin Will Get a Chance to Do Right.

Martin G. Griffin, the young man who was given 24 hours to leave the city by Magistrate Jeffs yesterday, has not gone away yet, and it is very probable he will be allowed to remain here.

When the Magistrate issued his edict yesterday morning, he did so intending it to be carried out, as he was convinced that the city would be better without him.

However, since then the young man's case has taken on a different aspect, for yesterday one of Griffin's aunts, who lives in the city, called on His Worship and pleaded that her nephew be allowed to remain, and at the same time offering to endeavor to assist him to become a good citizen. Magistrate Jeffs was perfectly willing, but he referred her to Chief Smith. She talked it over with the Chief, who subsequently talked it over with the Magistrate and Griffin will likely be given a chance.

STORM IN INDIES. New York, Nov. 10.—A heavy wind storm is reported in the West Indies by the Cable and Telegraph Companies today, and communication with that territory is generally interrupted. The extent of the storm has not been learned.

The Man in Overalls

Perhaps some one from the spirit world is handling those mysterious letters at the City Hall.

The House of Commons meets tomorrow. If you put your ear to the ground you will hear the Tories quarrelling. The nest of traitors is being stirred up.

If organization can win elections, the temperance people will be winners next January. But you haven't seen the hotel men's hand yet.

Why should Ald. Hopkins or any other alderman object to the city getting the best possible terms from the Hydro-Electric Commission?

There is a good deal of doubt as to whether we have had Indian summer or whether it is to the good yet.

You have got to have your working card to be in the swim in Toronto this week.

Everything points to a good Christmas trade this year. Work is plentiful and the money crop is above the average.

I am afraid Mr. Bedford won't get that free trip to Canada.

The Tory party is in a state of rebellion, and Mr. Borden is afraid to read the riot act.

Surely ex-Mayor Stewart did not slip that letter into the City Clerk's room.

It's hard to make everybody think alike. Even the American Federation of Labor has troubles of its own.

King Edward is getting measurably near the allotted span of life—three score and ten. But being what he is, he may get an extension of time.

Perhaps Wm. T. Stoad might be able to explain this spiritualistic phenomenon at the City Hall. Some of the clerks fancy they hear sounds as of spirit rapping. It may merely be Mr. Lobb in a trance.

Mme. Steinheil's trial is apparently more theatrical if not as nauseous as was Thaw's.

There is apt to be some cutting up at a dance, but it's not often they do their cutting up with a razor.

In this scrimmage for the leadership of the Tory party, what chance has my friend, Mr. Barker?

Well, you can't blame the Hamilton police for the escape of the Falls robbers or of the Sigel murderer.

Pick your presents now and not have to carry home your parcels.

A friend of mine who patronizes a shoe shine parlor told me that a lad they named John used to polish his boots for them, and polished them well. Some time ago he disappeared from the place, and after a while he asked one of the attendants what had become of him. "Oh, John gone home. Did you notice that he was mostly always reading when he wasn't working? Well, that was his Greek Bible. He was very religious, and is now in a monastery. He is coming out as a priest of the Greek Church." That shows you, said my friend, that you never know what kind of people you are running up against.

APPRENTICE LOST CASE.

Went Out With Strikers and Cannot Recover Wages.

An interesting case came up this morning at the sitting of the First Division Court before Judge Snider, in connection with the moulders' trouble. It took the form of a test case to determine whether apprentices were entitled to money which was held back by the company as a guarantee that they would complete their apprenticeship. The plaintiff was Archie Burrows, and the defendant Burrow, Stewart & Milne.

The plaintiff claimed he had made only a verbal agreement with the foreman, and at that time no reference had been made about the money being kept back. After he had been with the company for a couple of months he enquired the reason for the money being held back, and that was the first he knew of the custom. His term of apprenticeship had not expired when the strike started, and he went out with the strikers. The amount owing him at that time was $40.75, and when he applied for it, it was refused him.

His Honor decided in favor of the defendant, on the ground that the contract had been violated by the plaintiff.

NO FLIRTING BY BIG POLICEMEN.

Chief Thinks There Is Too Much Democracy —Policemen Talk Back.

Hamilton police-officers must cut out flirting with girls on their beats. The Commissioners emphasized this to-day when Constable Sharp, a big six-footer, appeared before them charged by Sgt. Pinch with deliberate falsehood. The complaint was that Sharp was caught by the sergeant talking to a girl, and insisted that he was merely answering a question, although the sergeant later saw them together again.

Sergeant Pinch said that at 9.35 on the night of October 28 he saw Sharp walking down Aberdeen avenue towards James street with a girl. When they saw him the girl walked over to the incline. "I told him," said the sergeant, "that he should not have a girl walking with him on the beat. He denied it, said he did not know the girl, and that she stopped him to ask where the James street steps were. I doubted the statement, and after the officer walked down James street I saw the girl follow. I followed on the opposite side and saw him turn at Robinson street. When I got to the corner she was standing with him. They stood there for a few minutes and then she went up to MacNab street and turned south. He went west of MacNab on Robinson street and waited until she came back. They stood there ten minutes. He should have been six or seven blocks away when the clock was striking 10. She went west and he came east on Robinson street after they parted.

"Was I behind time when I separated from the girl?" asked Sharpe.

"Yes,"

Sharpe disputed this statement and said the sergeant asked him no further questions after he gave his version.

"I had no girl walking the beat with me," said Sharpe, under oath. "I was going along Aberdeen avenue about 25 minutes to 9 o'clock when I saw three young ladies standing at the corner. As I approached they said, 'We had better go; here comes the policeman.'"

"One went down Aberdeen, the others down James street. One asked me which (Continued on Page 10.)"

DOBSON HERE SHORT TIME.

Detectives Following a Clue In Express Robbery.

Went on West In Company With Detective Walsh.

Says He Would Undoubtedly Know Assailants Again.

The local police are rather mysterious about the visit to Hamilton yesterday by William Dobson, the cashier of the Canadian Express Company, at Niagara Falls, who was slugged over the head last week when two men stole a package containing $14,000. He was accompanied by Detective Walsh. The local detectives say they gathered from what they heard that Dobson and the officer were here for the purpose of conferring with one of the chief officials of the company who was on his way to Toronto from the west.

The theory of the Hamilton police is that the men are not very far away from the Falls yet. It is believed that they will remain in Canada to dispose of the money, as Canadian bills of large denomination if passed across the border would excite suspicion.

Dobson visited his sister at 22 Tuckett street, but was reticent about the robbery. He emphatically stated he could easily identify his assailants were he to see them again.

He said that when they first entered the office, he thought they were Canadians or Americans, though when they spoke he detected a slight foreign accent. Dobson stayed but a few minutes, and went on west with the branch.

It is presumed that a clue is being followed, and Dobson is accompanying the detective, to be able to identify suspects.

GLANFORD W. I.

November Meeting Was a Highly Interesting One.

The regular monthly meeting of the Glanford Women's Institute was held on Tuesday afternoon, November 9th, at the home of Mrs. John Macdonald.

Among the matters of business was a letter from the department announcing to the Women's Institute convention at Guelph on December 9 and 10, and recommending that a delegate be appointed.

It was decided that Miss E. Dickenson be sent to represent the branch.

As the October meeting was not held on account of stormy weather, the numbers which had been prepared for it were added to that of this month, making a very interesting programme, as follows: "Good Manners in the Home," Mrs. E. T. Boyes; "Good Form in Public Places," Mrs. D. Case; "Prevention of Tuberculosis," Miss Hosack; reading, "A Sale of Old Bachelors," Miss A. C. Young; discussion of labor saving appliances, led by Miss Reed; "How to Buy Economically," Mrs. Wesley Bates; reading, "Hanging a Picture," Miss A. C. Young. Tea was served and a social hour spent by the 30 ladies present.

HAMILTON MAN

Arrested in London Suspected of Stealing Coat.

(Special Wire to the Times.) London, Ont., Nov. 10.—A young man giving the name of William Prevost, of Hamilton, was arrested by the detectives here this afternoon while trying to sell a fur overcoat, valued at $150, for $10. Prevost stated that he had bought the coat in Hamilton, but the police say it was stolen from a local hotel. Prevost will be given a hearing on Thursday.

PRISON FOR TERRY SCOTT.

Nine Months In Default of Paying Fine of $200.

Frank Watson Gets Six Months Term For Vagrancy.

He Made Trouble For John Street Butcher Yesterday.

Terrence Scott, 58 York street, of charcoal complexion, a Police Court celebrity, recrossed the bridge of sighs this morning enroute for that methodical institution in Toronto, known as the Central Prison, and he will not return to this city for nine long months. Magistrate Jeffs fined Scott $200, or in default, nine months, for keeping a gambling house.

Mr. A. M. Lewis appeared for Scott and pleaded earnestly and eloquently for his client, contending that it was not the universal rule to send a man to prison for keeping a gambling house and the counsel for the defence said a fine had been imposed on Monday in a similar case and he asked his Worship to impose a reasonable fine. Magistrate Jeffs said he would impose the same fine on Scott as he did in Monday's case.

His Worship said Scott was a worthless citizen. "If I find $100 will you give me time to get the other $100, your worship?"

"No."

He was then led over the bridge and his white wife waited outside in vain.

Assiduous courting of the cup that destroys all self respect is the cause of Frank Watson being one of the large fleet of human derelicts. His place of abode was given as the Bethel Mission. He is in the winter of life and he stood up when his name was called and pleaded guilty to being a vagrant and also to doing wilful damage to a show case in John Seymour's store. He admitted his guilt quite frankly—without evincing the slightest vestige of shame. He goes to jail for six months' hard labor.

John Seymour told a story of the wilful damage the aged one did. Yesterday Watson called at Seymour's butcher shop. He carried a thick stick. The sight of fresh tripe hanging there in a showcase seemed to arouse Frank's ire.

A round half dozen came seemed to have an inkling of the aged one's purpose for they gathered around and wagged their tails and waited. Then it was that old Frank, with one swift blow, shattered that case where hung the tripe; and then it was that the tripe whizzed through the air and fell with a sudden drop on the sidewalk; and the tripe that the canines pounced on that tripe on mame and they howled and growled in very satisfaction.

And then it was that a limb of the law, P. C. Gillespie, came along, and down went Frank in the growler.

Mr. Seymour said that John Watson has been a source of annoyance to him, and he (Mr. Seymour) wished the Magistrate to make the defendant keep away. He did so by imposing the aforesaid sentence.

With his hands together as if in supplication, James Doyle, a catch on the cold, hard sidewalk, last night, directly opposite his house, on James street north, and gazed heavenward. P. C. Hodgson, as he walked his beat in the still hours, rubbed his eyes at beholding such an unusual apparition. But still the man gazed heavenward, so the officer called the growler. When straightened this morning Doyle said he was not drunk.

"Where did you find him?" asked His Worship of the officer.

"Opposite his house."

"You should have taken hi minside, then."

Doyle was discharged.

According to the evidence given by Mrs. Mordecai James, her husband's devotion to the god of wine is too devout, and consequently he is neglecting to support her.

"I'll put him on the Indian list," said the Magistrate.

VERY SUDDEN.

Wm. Shelton Died a Few Minutes After Reaching Home.

A large number of the friends and relatives of the late Wm. Shelton showed their appreciation of his worth by attending his funeral yesterday afternoon. It took place from his late residence at Millgrove, to the cemetery there. The floral tributes were beautiful. The religious services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Cavers, who paid a high tribute to the sterling qualities of the deceased. The pall-bearers were all nephews. Mr. Shelton visited Hamilton last Saturday, and complained to friends here of not feeling well. He died of heart disease fifteen minutes after reaching home. He was one of the pioneer settlers of Millgrove, where he was born 73 years ago. He was a consistent living man, and an enthusiastic Liberal in politics. He is survived by three sons and one daughter, George and Thomas Shelton, of this city; Joseph Shelton, Cleveland, and Mrs. McClellan, of Hamilton. Mr. Chas. Rymal, who is with Mr. E. J. Wilson, the piano man, is a nephew of the deceased.
