

Motor Transport Through West Coast Archipelago

1. Cruise-like islets thrusting up from smiling summer seas. 2. The "Motor Princess" after launching.

The magnificent chain of fine motor roads which wind through the Pacific and the Canadian Pacific from the coast to the interior, and points on the southern British Columbia border, thence through the western states of America, touching as they do the finest of the Canadian and American National Parks, need no introduction to the world of motorists. Every mile of roadway, especially through the Canadian Parks where it has, in many places, been cut out of solid rock and at stupendous cost, has been built with an eye to easy travelling and scenic grandeur, and from early spring until late in the fall a continuous stream of automobiles, bearing licences issued in every town on the continent, pour along the highway. No where else can the motorist obtain such a long run through such ever changing scenes of natural beauty.

During the past few years it has become quite the thing to motor through vacation time and those who choose this way of holidaying are unanimous in their choice of a "hunting ground" British Columbia and the Rockies are not the places to be "vacated" because having travelled through them once means never to have willingly done with the country. No less attractive on account of its good roads, scenic properties and tourist accommodation is Vancouver Island. The city of Victoria at the southern extremity of the island is the hub from which the "round the island" and shorter roads radiate and the town itself, with its broad, tree-lined streets, its numerous gardens, its avenues of hawthorne, acacia, lyburnum and other fragrant trees is the goal of all who have covered the scenic routes of the mainland would still enjoy the pleasures of the road without travelling the same road again, and those who are attracted to the island by its particular type of beauty, which is after the English style with "just enough of the tropics thrown in."

The passage to the island is usually made by ferry from Vancouver, or Bellingham in the State of Washington to Victoria or one of the west coast ports nearby. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company has this year put into service a new automobile ferry, the "Motor Princess," a motor driven vessel which operates between Bellingham and Victoria and which, with a capacity for fifty automobiles and well appointed accommodation for 250 passengers, plies twice daily.

The route traversed by the ferry is marked by islands, some of which are miles in extent, others gem-like islets thrusting up from smiling seas, making the waterway a succession of pictures to which the most famous of salmon fisheries cannot compare. The lovely Mount Baker is also seen from the ferry to advantage, standing as it does in a mantle of dazzling snow amid the foothills of the mainland.

Tourists Help Develop Ontario

1. A Typical Bungalow Camp at Emerald Lake. 2. This from the Nipigon. 3. A Vista of the French River.

MOST of the newer parts of Canada have received their first impetus toward development through the tourists. In many cases it has been the tourists that have first gone in to spy out the land. They have found it good, and, by the trade which they brought in, have encouraged settlers to set up their homes with the result that the district has been well started on its way to becoming an organized and productive community.

With the idea of inducing traffic, and by so doing, helping to popularize and settle those vast, beautiful and productive lands along the right-of-way in Central and Western Ontario, the Canadian Pacific Railway has decided to establish a number of bungalow camps, modeled on those which have proved so successful in the Canadian Pacific Rockies during the past three years, and it is expected that in a very short time this part of the country will be as famed for its scenic and sporting possibilities as any other part of the Dominion. The French River, Nipigon Bay and Lake of the Woods districts are, and have been for many years, well and most favourably known to anglers and hunters, particularly those from the United States and the Western provinces; but owing to lack of adequate housing facilities the traffic has been confined chiefly to the more adventurous spirits who are satisfied to live in tents. It is in these districts that the first three of the Bungalow Camps will be located, and it is expected that they will be ready for occupation by July first.

The Camps will consist of a central community house where meals will be served, and which will also serve as a recreation hall, surrounded by small rustic bungalows suitable for two or four persons. The privacy, simplicity and rusticity of these bungalows appeals to those who like outdoor life, and the moderate cost of construction and maintenance makes it possible to charge much lower rates than an elaborate hotel where operating expenses are necessarily high.

The Hon. Mr. Bowman, Minister of Lands and Forests in the Ontario Government, has expressed himself as entirely sympathetic with the extension of the Bungalow Camp idea in Ontario, and any sites that may be selected on Crown Lands will be available at agreed rates with the cordial co-operation of this department, so that the Company will be able to establish camps in some of the choicest spots of this beautiful and inspiring country.

Beaverbrook Denies He Is Buying Papers

NEW YORK, Dec. 21—"You may deny that authoritatively. There's nothing doing. I don't want to buy anything," said Lord Beaverbrook tonight, when he was asked whether he contemplated purchasing any Canadian newspapers. Lord Beaverbrook thus definitely set at rest a rumour that his visit to this side of the Atlantic might indicate that one or more Canadian journals would be purchased by the owner of the London Daily Express.

Lord Beaverbrook, who arrived on the Aquitania this morning, said that he did not know whether he would pay a visit to Canada or not. "I am simply enjoying a very pleasant holiday," he said.

Says Vicks Is Only Remedy For Croup

Quebec Mother Enthusiastic Over Vaporizing Salve

Every mother wants her children to be active and to grow strong through outdoor play. But infrequent colds sap their vitality, use loss of school standing and keep youngsters puny and delicate. Mothers who use Vicks VaporRub for children's colds find that their kiddies can play outdoors and that their cold troubles can usually be checked overnight.

Applied externally, Vicks acts like a liniment or poultice. In addition the ingredients are vaporized by the body heat and are inhaled directly into the inflamed air passages. This double action quickly loosens up a cold.

Mrs. Leon Crandall, Box 247, Lake Megantic, Quebec, writes: "I used Vicks VaporRub for my little girl when she had croup and I found that it relieved her at once. It is the only remedy for croup, and I would not be without it."

At all drug stores, 50c a jar. For free test size package write Vicks Chemical Co., 344 St. Paul St., W. Montreal, P.Q.

Although Vicks is new in Canada it has a remarkable sale in the States. Over 17 million jars used yearly.
