at a meat. A quart of ice water might be risky.!

A countryman was very sick and not expected to recover. His friends got around his bed, and one of them says, "John, do you feel willing to die!" John "made an offert" to give his views on the subject, and answered with a feeble voice—
"I—think—I'd rather stay—where—I'm better acquainted."

A man was brought up by a farmer and accused of stealing some ducks. The farmer said he should know them anywhere, and went on to describe their peculiarity. 'Why said the counsel for the prisoner, they cannot be such a rare breed, I have some very like them in my yard.' That's very likely, sir,' said the farmer: these are not the only ducks of the sort I have had stolen lately.'

'If you will throw away that eight eaid a friend of ours to a man who was puffing a villanous 'long nine' in the bar-room of a hotel in a western village, I'll give you a quarter of a dollar.' 'Well I'll do it' said the emoker. He threw away the cigar took his quarter, and then stepping up to the bar, said: 'Here give me a brandy toddy and four more o'them cigars!'—When he had lighted one, our friend departed straightway from that house."

ONE VOTE HAND TO GRT .- At a late political barbacue the guest of the occasion announced, with a knowing look at the fair portion of his audience, that he was a candidate for nothing except matrimony. An old gentleman in the crowd exclaimed so that all the ladic sould hear if the west. that all the ladies could hear: "Ah well, I reckon you can be elected to thet—it takes unly one vote."
