German Junkerism.

Dr. Von Kuchman, the German Foreign Secretary, addressing the Reichstag on Monday, endeavored to find another scapegoat upon which to place responsibility for the war and this time fixes on Russia. This speech is more characteristic than ever of the made in Germany type and it is plain that the Herr Doktor has been instructed by higher authority to make this new departure. The German mind is not easily comprehensible, but it is wonderful how it persists in imagining that no one but Germany knows anything of Germany. Having blamed Serbia and Belgium, England and France for instigating the war, and having had, in each case, the accusation refuted, we now find that the mind of the Hun has switched around and the chief culprit named is Russia. Shortly we may expect to hear that it was America's fault, as when Russia was up to the Prussian Minister to nominate some other country. Of course it would not do to leave England and France out of completely in the Russian attack on Germany in August, 1914, consequently these Powers are named as being next in the order of culpability. France played the role of villain to Russia, and England's policy has dark passages to show. Each and every one of the allies had deep and secret designs on the German Empire, because of her many successes in the world's market, of which they were jealous; hence Russia backed up by Great Britain and France, attacked the peace loving Prussians with the intention of putting them out of business as competitors. For home consumption this must surely be intended. No sane man would expect trashy utterances of this nature to be accepted seriously outside Germany, and perhaps to-day the masses of the people of that Empire are not nearly so credulous as they were at the beginning of the war. But the setting forth of Germany's war aims brings in a new phase of the situation, and none of the silled nations will be sceptical of their true meaning. The world has experienced something of German Kultur and we do not desire to have it imposed on us. The spirit of fair play, of equality of freedom, of liberty, does not nor cannot exist in a land whose statesmen have lied again and again; whose generals and soldiers have perpetrated the most savage barbarities on the peoples of the countries they have overrun; whose admirals and sailors have sullied the traditions of the sea by their dastardly acts and whose airmen take a fiendish delight in bombing unfortified towns and slaughtering innocent women and children in cold blood. How can any spirit of justice be found in a land which rejoices over all the atrocities committed by its forces in the name of war. And Germany's war aims as announced by the Von Kuchman, are "For the German people and our Allies, a free, strong, independent existence, with boundaries drawn for us by history. A desire for overseas possessions corresponding to our greatness and wealth and the freedom of the seas carrying our trade to all parts of the world."

fer let it be said that if the conditions are to be as these named, then there can be no peace. Freedom and Prussianism are not and never will be synonymous. No terms of peace can be accepted from Germany. As she took the sword she must abide by the arbitrament of the sword.

Western Notes.

Prospects of saving the steamship which went ashore near Rose Blanche, some time ago do not look very promising. The vessel lies on the Eastern End of the Western Island of Petites (East of Rose Blanche) known as Gull Island. The bow is so close to the rocks that there is no room for a dory to pass around between the shore and stem. The stern rests on a shoal and nearly the whole length of the keel is free from ground with some 7 fathoms of water underneath. Should a heavy sea heave in the vessel will not last long. A wrecking plant on the spot making an attempt at salvage.

William Herridge of Harbor LeCou, Rose Blanche, who left for a Canadian port in his little vessel some time ago has not arrived at his destination and fears are entertained for his safety.

Salmon continues scarce and though there is a fair supply of herring bait the codfishery is not up to the average. No sign of caplin to date.

Obituary

There passed peacefully away at his home, Mosquito, Colinet Island, on Corpus Christi, May 30th, a well known and respected man in the person of John Doody.
The deceased who was 33 years of age, was ailing for years and bore the pain and sufferings of consumption with patience and resignation. Kind and obliging he gained many friends not only in his own little settlement but in many places, as he travelled a lot during his life.
He was also noted for his skill in handicraft which may be seen by the three sticks which he made and presented one each to his father, Lord Roche, and His Grace Archbishop O'Connell, the latter stick being fully completed during his illness the past winter which showed how patient he was.
He leaves to mourn their sad loss a wife, father, four sisters and a circle of friends and relatives for whom sympathy is expressed.

THE LOAN

Over-Subscribed.

WILL BE ENLARGED.
The Minister of Finance and Customs authorizes the announcement that applications for more than the two million dollars of the Victory Loan, held for allotment in the Colony, already have been received, and that as it is desired to accommodate all persons who wish to participate in the Loan, especially those in the outports who have not yet had an opportunity of forwarding their applications, the Government has decided to increase the amount of the Loan by Order-in-Council, so as to accept all applications that may be received up to the 27th of July.
He explains, then, in thus deciding our Government is following the same policy as was adopted by the Canadian Government in connection with its first Victory Loan, when subscriptions for fifty million dollars were received. The Ottawa Cabinet, in that case, decided by Order-in-Council to enlarge the Loan to full sum, and the Minister of Finance is very hopeful that in our own case it may be possible to announce on July 27th that applications for the local part of our Loan will be for double the amount first offered and reach the equally satisfactory total of four million dollars.

Commemoration Day, July 1st.

A series of events has been arranged by the Great War Veterans' Association for Monday next, July 1st, to commemorate the deeds and sacrifices of the soldiers and sailors of Newfoundland in the war. While the anniversary naturally brings into special prominence the gallantry of our soldiers at Beaumont Hamel it is intended that with the observance of July 1st this year the names, the exploits and the memory of all our soldiers who fought gallantly and since shall be as closely associated with those of the heroes who fought on that day in 1916. Captain Donnelly, the first officer of the Regiment to win a decoration, and the veterans of Gallipoli and the men of Guedecourt and Montchy and the other battalions of the Royal Newfoundland Regiment will all be equally remembered and honored on Monday next with those who fought at Beaumont Hamel. On Sunday the churches will hold special services in memory of our dead. On Monday morning a monster parade will be held comprising the Returned Soldiers, Royal Naval Reserve, Royal Newfoundland Regiment, Legion of Frontiersmen, Red Cross, Women's Patriotic Association, Daughters of Empire, Khaki Guild, Nursing Divisions of the St. John Ambulance Brigades, Nid. Patriotic Association, Brigades, City Bands and others. A patriotic address from His Excellency the Governor will be given at the morning's proceedings to a close.

In the afternoon through the kindness of His Excellency and Miss Harcourt the young brothers and sisters of soldiers and sailors, and the children of soldiers and sailors will be entertained in Government House grounds. There will be a band and refreshments will be served and other entertainment provided of a nature in keeping with the spirit of the day. At night there will be a programme at the Barracks for the soldiers in training. This will consist of a smouldering contest, patriotic speeches dealing with the exploits of the Regiment, and the spirit of the men who established its reputation and whose glorious example the soldiers who are to carry on their work, will no doubt worthily follow in their turn.
On Wednesday evening, July 3rd, a lecture under the auspices of the Association will be delivered by Corporal Edward Shea of the Royal Newfoundland Regiment, a veteran of Gallipoli and France, on the action of July 1st, 1916, and the battle of the Somme. Corporal Shea's lecture is of absorbing interest to all friends of the Regiment, and further particulars of this event in the commemoration programme will be published later.

If you have trouble with your feet in summer, if they burn or pain or perspire too freely, or if the boots "draw" them, you can get prompt and welcome relief by the use of the "Walk Easy Tablets." A foot bath of water in which two or three of these tablets have been dissolved will give an indescribable sense of ease, and the tortured surfaces, and a few applications will enable you to walk easy in earnest. These tablets are, we believe, quite the best of this sort of thing in the market, and we are not forgetting some widely advertised remedies that are good enough in their way. But we have known "Walk Easy" to succeed when some of the best known of these have failed. Price 25c. a box.

He was elected in 1898. Dr. Curtis in thanking the conference for the honour conferred upon him, declared that the appointment was wholly unexpected, and he considered it an expression of confidence. In a brief and effective address which he termed his working philosophy, efficiency for service through a trained intellect and a developed moral nature, an efficiency absolutely necessary to a progressive and aggressive ministry.
The first ballot for secretary resulted in no election. On the second ballot Rev. H. Royle was elected. The following officers were then appointed—Rev. E. Bruntzen, Statistical Secretary, with Revs. W. J. Morris and R. H. Mercer assistants; Rev. H. Coppin, Journal Secretary. After the decision of officers the conference prayer meeting was held.

Goodyear Quality Lowers the Cost-per-Mile. Goodyear Value does not stop at fair prices—or rather, it does not begin at any price. Long mileage is the first aim of the Goodyear factories and excess mileage is the aim of Goodyear Service Stations and Dealers everywhere. We believe that there is not another tyre manufactured today that will give so low a cost-per-mile as the new type Goodyear. We believe it from our own experience, and because we have seen it proven by figures gathered from many sources. You can make your decreased tyre cost-per-mile, through fitting Goodyears to your car, offset your increased petrol-cost-per-mile. General Motor Supply Co., Ltd., St. John's, Agents.

To-Day's Messages. 9.30 A.M.

GERMAN DOCTRINE REPUDIATED.

LONDON, To-day. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—Ambrose Chamberlain, former Secretary for India, speaking at a meeting of the Victoria League, at the Guild Hall, said the Imperial War Cabinet was the creation of the war, arising out of its necessities. He was confident it would never be allowed to drop. (Cheers). To sit on such a body was a liberal political education. If anything were needed to stir the people to sterner resolve, it would be found in the speech of Mr. Chamberlain. German peace resolution was one thing, but a German peace quite different. "Might made right and where there was no might there was no right," was the doctrine had been beaten to the ground.

WHAT'S IN A NAME!

LONDON, To-day. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—In the House of Commons, Noel Pemberton Billing, M.P. for Hertford, alleged that Sir Albert Stanley, Controller of Shipping, was a German named Knut. Mr. Bonar Law replied "Sir Albert Stanley has no German blood in his veins." Sir Albert Stanley subsequently stated that his parents were English. His father's name was Knatteries, an old English name, which was changed to Stanley, because Knatteries was very difficult to remember and pronounce. (Laughter and cheers). His family had resided in Derbyshire very many generations and there was not the slightest foreign blood in it. (Loud cheers).

BLOOD-THIRSTY AS EVER.

AMSTERDAM, To-day. Following the speech of Dr. Von Kuchmann, in the German Reichstag, dealing with Germany's war aims, Deputy Crocher, (Centrist) expressed regret that the German Foreign Secretary was still as blood-thirsty as ever. He added, nevertheless I believe we have passed the climax of international hatred. German war aims are no obstacle to a truce of God. Count Von Westarp, Conservative, said that the words of the Foreign Secretary regarding responsibility for the war alarmed him, and that Dr. Von Kuchmann's declaration didn't strengthen his will to peace. Abroad he continued, they will, I fear, regard it as a new peace offensive. An appeal to the goodwill of England is useless. Secretary Von Kuchmann made a general reply to the criticisms raised in the debate. He said the most difficult questions for the conclusion of peace would be territorial questions, and proceeded to deal in some detail with the rectifications that would be required by Austria-Hungary and Bulgaria.

DIVERSITY OF OPINION.

AMSTERDAM, To-day. Germany's minimum program for peace discussions, as announced by the Foreign Secretary Von Kuchmann, in his speech to the Reichstag, says the Koelnische Volks Zeitung, The Foreign Secretary is clearly demanding that goes beyond German vital necessities, or that vitally threatens other countries. The Germans of Berlin consider that the speech opens wide the field for peace discussions, and says it keenly awaits the reply of the Entente countries. Many sentences in the speech, says the newspaper, might be termed longer or shorter steps forward on the road to conciliation, and they came very near the aims and regarded as fair by the social democracy. The paper contends that recognition of present territory of Germany and her Allies is a self-evident condition of peace, while freedom of the seas and trade are also of the highest importance. German colonies must be restored. The Voelkische Zeitung says the speech confirms the idea that for the Foreign Secretary an understanding with Great Britain is necessary and worth striving for.

LABOR MEN TO END TRUCE.

LONDON, To-day. Arthur Henderson, a former member of the Cabinet without portfolio, in moving the resolution that the political truce should be no longer recognized, said that the resolution was read along with the context, it could have no other meaning but that the truce should no longer be recognized, and that the political truce has been no signed truce between the labor party and the government since Lloyd George went into power. Henderson continued, as the Government desired to include the words which the labor party wouldn't accept, a change had to be made. However, owing to the action of the parties in bye-elections, the speaker declared, he had hoped that the old truce would be continued because it was much better on the whole not to contest bye-elections. The executive of the party, Henderson added, was of opinion that the labor representatives shouldn't be withdrawn from the Government. Robert Smilie, leader of the miners' organization, expressed surprise Mr. Henderson's statement. "We are going to end the truce to-day," he said, "for the country is as sick of the truce as it is of the Government."
