Backs Up Postal Officials.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—It is with much pleasure I hear that the postal officials have formed an association, and I know of no more worthy body of men to have their claim awarded to them than this branch of the Civil Service. As one of the public I fully realise the work—and the value of it—of the postal officials, and I am sure the public in general are one in sympathy with the postal staff in their just demands.

It has always been a matter of surprise with me that the pay given to the postal clerk is so small, and particularly is this so when we realise how important to all of us is the necessity of accuracy and quick despatch in the huge amount of work performed. I am, I think, personally acquainted with nearly every man in the St. John's office, and not a few in the outport branches, and this I know that all of those men are giving good service, each of them is competent, and none of them are sufficiently paid for the work they do.

I trust the new Postal Association will win out in their present claim, and that claim is certainly a just one. They resent the discrimination made in the department when one branch of the service (the Postal Telegraphs) was made exempt from the late "cut" and the other members of the same employ received the full force of the retrenchment. This is certainly far from fair, and it is to be hoped that something will be done to equalize matters.

Yours truly,
ONE OF THE PUBLIC.

Manoa Arrives.

S.S. Manoa which left Montreal on Friday last for here via Gaspe and Charlottetown, arrived in port at 5 p. m. yesterday. The ship encountered dense fog off the coast which somewhat delayed the passage. During the trip an interesting programme of sports was carried out, prizes being presented to the winners by Mr. J. Elliott of Belleville, Ontario. On Sunday a service was held and a substantial collection was taken up, the sum of which will be handed to the Grenfell Mission. The ship brought a large freight and the following passengers:—W. R. Atken, Chas. E. Akhurst, Jenny L. Akhurst, Rev. T. W. and Mrs. Ball, Chas. C. Beahan, Nellie C. Beahan, Elizabeth Beahan, C. P. Bingham, Henry Bell, Chas. V. Caesar, Robert Currie, Julia M. Currie, David Currie, Myrtle Currie, Sarah H. Grouchy, Margaret Coughlan, Mary Coughlan, Mark B. Coonley, Catherine R. Casey, Mary J. Casey, C. K. Disant, Thomas Capt. Eugene Bond, W. Scott, Gertrude Sweeney, Nelson Snider, Evelyn Smool, Samuel Smool, G. M. Wilson, H. Wilson, L. C. Wilson, Mary H. Wilson, Margaret Wilson, Emma K. The Labor Situation.

SEEMS TO BE A DEADLOCK.

At the meeting of the L.S.P.U. which was held in the Union Hall on Tuesday, the matter of the new wage scale was discussed at length, but no decision was arrived at. A communication was read from the Employers' Association in which they set forth their view of the situation. The proposed new scale brings the men back to 1919 wages, or a reduction from 55 cents to 50 cents per hour for steam-hoist men, and from 35 cents to 25 cents for fish handlers, and general work. Discussing why it is imperative that a wage reduction should take place, the employers state that wages and cost of living throughout the world are being reduced, and that unless there is a reduction in wages here they will not be able to compete in the European markets in the sale of fish. They further say that unless a settlement is made, many of the firms will be compelled to reduce their permanent staffs, and already several firms had done so. The Longshoremen's Union on the other hand contend that the cost of living has not declined since the reduction in May, to any extent, and that they are justified in not accepting the decrease now proposed. The Union will hold a further meeting on Friday night, when it is hoped some solution will be reached.

Buoy Removed.

VESSEL STRIKES ROCK.

Writing from Catalina, a correspondent states that for some unknown reason the buoy on Charlton Rock, entrance to Catalina Harbor, was removed about a year ago, by order of the Marine and Fisheries Department, and placed in another position, where it is by no means an aid to navigation. The schooner Saladin whilst making Catalina on Monday evening, 15th, during a strong S. W. breeze, ran upon Charlton Rock and was considerably damaged. The vessel was coal laden from Sydney and struck heavily, causing considerable leakage and necessitating three days' extra delay at Catalina to effect repairs. A lookout was kept for the buoy when going through the entrance, but the captain did not know it had been taken away, hence the accident. The action of the Marine and Fisheries Department in removing this buoy is very autocratic, and there being now no mark on this rock it is constantly a menace to shipping entering port. It is quite possible that Capt. Tulk of the Saladin will seek to recover damages by legal process against the Marine and Fisheries Department, for delay and damage, for which that department, by the removal of the Charlton Rock buoy, is responsible.

Wedding Bells.

MOULTON-KEAN.

A very pretty wedding took place at St. Thomas's Church yesterday afternoon when Dr. Cecil D., youngest son of Capt. A. and Mrs. Kean, led to the altar Miss Lella Moulton, daughter of Mrs. and the late Thos. Moulton of Burgeo. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. George A. Moulton. Dr. S. G. Kean acted as best man and the bridesmaid was Miss Allie Kean, sister of the groom. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. Clarence A. Moulton, cousin of the bride. The church organ pealed forth suitable music as the bridal party entered the church. The bride was dressed in white satin, with hat to match, and carried a magnificent bouquet of flowers. The bridesmaid was handsomely gowned and also carried a bouquet. On leaving the sacred edifice the bridal march was played, and the newly married couple with their friends, boarding motors, were driven to the "Anchorage," Topsall Road, the home of the groom's parents, where a sumptuous repast was served and congratulatory speeches and songs indulged in. The bride and groom at the conclusion of the festivities left by motor for Danquana, and will leave from the city by Monday's train for their future home at Burgeo. Dr. Kean has been practising at the latter place since his return from the war. To the happy couple the Telegram extends congratulations.
