

A Spoonful of Purity

One uses so little baking powder in comparison with the other materials used in baking that it always pays to use the best.

For making the finest and most wholesome food there is no substitute for ROYAL Baking Powder. It is made from Cream of Tartar derived from grapes and is absolutely pure.

THE MINORITIES DEADLOCK.

LAUSANNE, Dec. 13. Ismet Pasha, head of the Turkish delegation, attempted to put himself in a better light with the League of Nations in an address before the East Conference to-day, in which he announced Turkey's refusal to accept international control over minority populations. He said "some people thought my statements yesterday were disrespectful to the League. I must say I give the League all the respect it is entitled to." Ismet emphasized that Turkey lived happily in Turkey, and asked for nothing. He also called attention to the fact that the Ankara Government had signed peace with Soviet Armenia. Ismet, he said, was prepared to grant minority autonomy to everybody, but would not grant exemption from military service to any minorities because military law applied to all subjects. While the Conference is badly strained by Ismet Pasha's flat refusal to consider the Allied plans for the administration of affairs of minorities in Turkey, there are many peace conferences going on between delegates, and the indications are that some compromise plan may be worked out, whereby Turkey will be asked to give a large voice in handling the minorities' problems that will not regard co-operation of representatives of the Great Powers in this work as an infringement of Turkey's sovereignty.

SEAT FOUND FOR WILSON.

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., Dec. 13. Lord Col. Leslie Orme Wilson, British Government Whip, who was designated in the general parliamentary election for Reading, has been elected for Portsmouth South, Col. Wilson received 14,471 votes against 7,000 for the Independent Liberal, Mr. Thomas.

STERLING CONTINUES TO IMPROVE.

NEW YORK, Dec. 13. Another unusual rise in sterling exchange.

change occurred to-day, demand bills being quoted at 4.68%, an over-night rise of nearly six cents. Late selling brought the rate down to 4.63 this afternoon. Extreme low was 3.18 in February 1920.

CHILE CALLS PAN-AMERICAN CONFERENCE.

SANTIAGO, Dec. 13. The Chilean Government last evening sent invitations to all American nations to participate in a Pan-American Conference to be held at Santiago beginning March 20, 1923. A rumor that Canada might be invited was current in Washington several months ago.

PRINCE REGENT OF JAPAN SERIOUSLY ILL.

TOKYO, Dec. 13. An official bulletin, issued by the Imperial household regarding the condition of Prince Regent, who is seriously ill with measles, stated his temperature was approximately 104, while the pulse had increased from 108 to 110.

The Latest in Chocolates

Confectioners are introducing a new fashion in chocolate-eating. They are offering for sale stuffed olives cased in chocolate, pickled cherries similarly coated, and cubes of cheese also in chocolate wrapping. The prospect of any extension of these varieties of filling is a little alarming. Since no chocolate shape betrays the character of its interior, one may be in danger of getting the hors d'oeuvre mixed up with the dessert and handing a dainty guest a camouflaged onion when a cherry with cognac is intended. The first fruits of this new enterprise are being offered at the price of five shillings a pound, which means that if there is any sale at all it will be a very profitable sale.

Great Production Coming to Nfld.

"GYPSY BLOOD" WILL BE SHOWN AT THE NICKEL.

The Nickel Theatre has announced elsewhere in this issue a coming attraction, entitled "Gypsy Blood." In this feature there appears Pola Negri, the renowned Continental actress who scored a tremendous hit last year in the big production "Passion," which was shown at the Casino Theatre. "Gypsy Blood" is said to far exceed all the previous pictures in which this star has yet appeared. The picture is lavishly staged by a company of the most skilled motion picture technical experts on the European Continent. Special attention has been given to the locale of the story. Showing dates of this spectacular and stupendous production will be made in a day or so, and it is without doubt that this will be one of the biggest and most out of the ordinary movie attractions seen in St. John's in a long while. Watch out for "Gypsy Blood."

Six hundred pairs of eighty cent Women's Rubbers arrived yesterday at BISHOP'S. These are the equal of any dollar twenty-five rubber.

OFFICERS' MESS DINNER.

The annual dinner of the Officers' Mess was held in the Grenfell Institute last evening at 7.30. Capt. Herbert Outerbridge, O.B.E., Mess President, acted as host of the evening. The table was in the form of a horseshoe, Captain George House, Vice-President, and Major Williams occupying seats at the ends. About forty covers were laid. Amongst the guests were his Lordship Bishop White, Regimental Chaplain, the Rectors of St. Mary's, St. Thomas's, St. Michael's and the Cathedral, Captain Wilberforce-Bell, M.C., Military Secretary to the Governor, Dr. Arthur Carnell, Captain N. Snow, Hugh LeMessurier, Rector Ross of the Highlanders, J. M. Spears and L. J. Hickey of the Catholic Cadets, President Ern Chafe of the Old Comrades C.L.B. and Major Leonard Outerbridge, D.S.O. The decorations were in Red, Yellow and Blue, the Brigade colours, and the walls festooned beautifully with Union Jacks and the Brigade flag. The flowers were Crysanthemums. Supt. Holmes had the dining room most artistically decorated and lighted—the lights having been shaded in red, yellow and blue. The menu and service were perfect and the Officers of the Mess all voted it was the best Mess dinner they ever attended, and personally congratulated Manager Holmes afterwards for his most excellent work. The Mess President's programme contained no speeches beyond giving all the guests a hearty welcome to the Mess. The evening was passed in song and story, most pleasantly concluding at eleven p.m. Songs were contributed by Rev. E. C. Earp, Rector of St. Thomas's, Capt. Hugh LeMessurier, formerly of the Oxford and Bucks and an ex-C.L.B. officer, Captain Joseph Snow, Major Tait, M.C., Lieut. M. Job Taylor, and Captains John Spears and L. J. Hickey of the C.C.C. Recitations and stories by Revs. Canon Jeeves, Doctor Carnell and Lieut. L. Colley. Mr. Ern Fox very kindly presided at the piano and accompanied the singers as well as providing music for the many chorus songs. Mess President H. A. Outerbridge and Secretary M. Job Taylor are to be warmly congratulated on the success of the 1922 Officers' Mess dinner.

New Ten-Years' Clock.

A remarkable clock is now put on the English market, and is a revolution in clock production. It requires no special installation and has the simplest mechanism ever conceived. The main feature is that when started it is claimed that it will keep perfect time for a period of at least ten years. Worked by electricity, it is started by a small battery, which can be connected in a very few seconds. Weighing between two and three pounds, it will, no doubt, prove of great public utility, not alone for domestic use, but for public buildings, workshops, and so on. The claim that it will remain in action for ten years once started is based on the fact that the amount of current taken out of the battery is infinitesimal. It is intended to provide clocks in marble, mahogany, and in other designs. A demonstration given to a company of press representatives proved highly successful.—Western Mail.

Apricots give a distinctly pleasing flavor to scrambled eggs. Serve them together at breakfast.

Novel and attractive aprons of gingham and cottons make welcome gifts to any housewife.

Left-over vegetables can be used in a mixed vegetable salad. Serve with a boiled or French dressing. If small rubber mats are placed on the sick-room table, the clutter of bottles and spoons will be avoided.

Cold boiled rice, chopped raisins, almonds and dates make an interesting salad. Serve with mayonnaise. Pate-de-Foie Gras should be served chilled and garnished with aspic jelly and parsley, or on canapés. While ripe tomatoes are so expensive, substitute tomato jelly in all salad recipes calling for the ripe fruit.

Christmas tree trimmings will not tarnish when packed in cotton and sprinkled with a little camphor gum.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir—While glancing to-day at the Advocate of Tuesday's date, I was surprised to find an article from N.D. Bay signed "Fair Play," dealing with the subject of stolen monies from the standpoint of that correspondent. Our people around Twillingate and nearby settlements are more concerned about their letters that go astray than a contribution to the Advocate which shows such streaks of party politics. However, as far as the "Sun" is concerned we take up the cause of the public, who ask it reasonably, but as to making it public as to whom the guilty parties are, or who we assume they are, we like the Advocate's correspondent "Fair Play" are refraining from giving names in public print.

However, as long as you are a wee bit inquisitive, Mr. non-de-plume, I must enlighten you and say that I interviewed the Hon. W. W. Halfyard, and any inklings as to the source of trouble, that I could give, were given, and the Minister with Mr. Bradbury and Mr. Campbell heard the "disgruntled one" of the "Sun" very attentively, and are taking the matter up. Further than that Mr. "Fair Play," some correspondence passed between myself and others and the Postal authorities previous to the interview.

Perhaps we may receive contempt from "Fair Play" for taking the matter up, but we know of no postal official who has shown any contempt toward us, but all are eager on Bay boats and at different places in N.D. Bay to have the matter sifted to the core, and are doing something tangible other than writing to the Advocate and using such abuse.

If "Fair Play" would like particulars on the matter further than what is stated above, let him ask the Postal authorities himself, or try to do something towards finding the culprits.

Thanking you for space, Mr. Editor, I am,

Yours truly,
STEWART ROBERTS.
