Very Surprising Reports come in for Dr. Pitch er's Backache Kidney Tablets.

CURES ARE MADE OF ILLS THEY ARE NOT ADVERTISED FOR.

A mass of strange symptoms are often reported as relieved by Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets. symptoms that are generally common to other diseases than those of the kidney and bladder.

This, however, is not at all surprising when we consider the fact that the kidneys, the urine tract, and the bowels are the great waste pipes of the system, and the perfect working of these organs means the perfect elimination of all sorts of material that retained and re absorbed would only cause trouble in all directions. It is due then to this riddance of the system by the kidneys and bowels of waste and dangerous substances, liquid and solid, that relief is obtained in so many instances from symptoms they are not advertised to cure.

Geo. Harris, painter and paper hanger, Talbot St., west, Aylmer,

"Eighteen months ago, due to exposure out of doors, I acquired a kidney trouble that has given me a great deal of trouble and pain in the back. I have tried other kidney remedies with no relief, finally giving them up I procured a bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets from Ern A Caughell, druggist, and they alone have benefitted me. They are the only thing that has done so. and I am so much improved that I am now certain of a cure."

Mrs. John Perry, Victoria St., Avlmer, says: - I heard so much of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tab lets that I got a bottle at Ern. A. Caughell's drug store, and took them for a backache kidney trouble that had been bothering me for a year, brought on by lifting. In addition, I had severe headaches. I only took one half the bottle, and gave the other half to my daughter, Mrs Walls, who lives in the country, who suffers from both kidney and liver troubles, and in both instances the tablets acted splendidly, relieving the pain and generally acting as a tonic and strengthener.'

You mustn't eat too much, said the small girl's mother. If you are careful you will be perfectly well to-morrow, when so many other little children are sick. Yes, answered the small girl; and then wouldn't I be dreadfully out of style!

THE NERVOUS MAN.

Me Who Requires the Constant Care of an Attendant.
A crowded car of an up town bound
Lexington avenue elevated train, Wednesday afternoon, about 3 o'clock, was deeply interested in a couple that entered it at Reid avenue station. The man was so nervous that he could scarcely stand, and he fairly trembled as his wife supported him to a seat.

As soon as he reached it squarely, his eyes closed, and he appeared to be in a deep sleep. The woman carried in her right hand a saw, a hammer and several other sorts of carpenter's tools. She sat stern and erect, and looked as though life to her was a pretty tough experience. The passengers guessed that she was leading her nervous hus-band home from work, but how on earth he ever used the tools she carried was a puzzle. If you look about you sharply these days it is no uncommon sight to see women careworn of coun-tenance leading along faded men. The other morning a silent woman walked into the barber shop on Evergreen avenue, near Cooper street, followed by her husband, a pale faced, thin individual, who acted as though he was walking on air. He fell into a chair, and the barber rapidly shaved him, while the woman sat in a corner and waited until the process was complete. Then she handed over the price of a shave, with no tip, and walked out, followed by her broken down better half.

"Oh, that's nothing," said the barber, as he looked after the queer couple. "I have had numbers of men come to my place like that. Some of them are so confounded nervous that before you get half finished they want to jump from the chair. I've got six outside customers whom I shave at their homes, and two of them I shave in two morrow, because of their excessive excitability. When I was over in the Produce Exchange building, I had men jump from my chair and run out of the shop because they couldn't sit still long enough to be shaved."-Brooklyn

AFRICAN WOLVES.

They Are Very Ferocious, and Even

The African wolves, when hunting in packs, are very formidable, and M. Foa, the great French explorer, says: Experience has shown me that they attack not only all animals of medium size, but also the lion itself. They wage terrible battles, in which the lion suc cumbs to numbers, though not without having ripped open some of the enemy But the survivors in their turn soon tear it. Consequently the large, raven ous beast has a salutary terror of them. In this connection he relates a story of how his servant once scared away some lions who had surrounded them in the darkness away from camp.

The night was as black as pitch, and we did not distinguish the trees until upon them. Lions prowled around us, and one of them roared within alarming proximity; but we could not see them; we heard them walking in the leaves on all sides. Reaching the tree. we found one of our companions with the rifle cocked, another trying to relight a half extinguished torch. Still the lions walked. We guessed them coming and going in the darkness.

At that moment Tambarika whispered to us the advice to imitate the n'umpls (wolves) in the distance. So we immediately began barking and shouting "Hu, hu, hu!" in an undertone, as though the pack was still at a distance, while the man at the camp made the same well imitated cry. The effect was instantaneous. There was a rapid gallop in the dry leaves; the lions decamp proach of a pack of wolves rid us of them for the whole night. We returned to the camp with our honey, and noth-

THE PAGE'S DIFFICULTY. Re Told His Troubles Right Out at the Wedding.

A good story comes from Atlanta, but the incident happened several seasons ago. The occasion was a swell church wedding. The edifice had been gloriously decorated. The bride, surgioriously decorated. The bride, sur-rounded by a company of pages, flow-er girls and maids of honor, was slow-ly passing down the aisle, while the prospective bridegroom and his best man and the officiating clergyman were taking their places. The church organ was pealing forth the sounds as of joyous wedding bells. Fashionable people dressed for the occasion occu-pied the seats of the handsome church. It so happened that one of the pages had in the rush of business preparatory to dressing for the occasion been turned over to the care of a nurse. As he proceeded down the main aisle of the church in company with the other youngsters, who in white satin suits said small boy.

"Mamma," he shrilly cried, "nurse put on my panties wrong side before, and I can't hardly walk!"

Of course the horrified mamma could do nothing but blush scarlet, but lifted a prayer that the young scion would keep still from that time on. And he did and received a hearty kiss from the bride at the close of the ceremony. This is a true story and can be vouched for by those who attended the wedding.—Galesburg (Ga.) Mail.
