

In Canada's Garden.

The Last of the Grapes From Pelée Island.

Important Suit Brought by John A. Robinson, of St. Thomas, Against Gray & Sons, of Chatham, and More to Follow.

George Ashton, aged 13, Windsor, has been missing since September.

The last shipment of grapes was made from Pelée Island on Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Gore Atkin, of Amherstburg, celebrated their golden wedding Friday.

C. E. Chadwick, aged 77, has resigned as police magistrate of Ingersoll. Ill-health is the cause.

The Dennis children, who were injured in the recent gas explosion at Chatham, are doing well.

Goderich has lost a centenarian in the person of Catherine Macdonald, who had passed the 100 limit in age.

Mrs. George Hall, who died on Friday in Hamilton, was a sister of Mr. John McCall, G. T. R. engineer, of St. Thomas.

A little son of Mr. John Roach, Seaford, fell on the sidewalk, and a spike penetrated his forehead an inch. He is recovering.

Wm. Swatman and other Leamington citizens intend taking legal proceedings to quash the bylaw granting $5,000 for high school purposes.

Judge Doyle, of Goderich, recently imposed a fine of $50 and costs, $100 in all, on Charles McPherson for his assault on Alex. Glen, in Colborne township.

George Burn, of Tilsonburg, put a cocked revolver in his pocket while he attended to a scrap between some boys, and it discharged a bullet into his leg.

The G. T. R. have now a considerable force of men and trains at work between Port Dover and Jarvis putting the track in thorough repair for the new coal route.

Mrs. Angelina Westbrook died at Oakland on Thursday. She was 91 years of age, and was born in Brant county. She boasted proudly that she had never ridden in a railway car.

Mrs. Lister and John Hudson were before the Guelph police magistrate on Saturday morning for not sending their children to school. They promised to do so and the charge was withdrawn.

Friday evening a camp of the Woodmen of the World was instituted at Guelph by the head organizers, Rev. W. M. Hawthorne, of Brantford, assisted by Rev. R. Truax, of Toronto, with 22 charter members.

Dan McGregor, a Chatham butcher, thoughtlessly threw a cigar stub in the bottom of a rig he was driving. In a few minutes he was converted into a pillar of fire, and but for ready assistance would have burned to death.

Mr. Mackenzie, of the Ontario Provincial Board of Health, has established a temporary laboratory in Brantford, and will during the next few days conduct a searching examination into the recent typhoid outbreaks in the city.

The management committee of the Stratford Collegiate Institute have chosen Mr. E. E. C. Kilmer as commercial master, succeeding Mr. J. A. Dickinson, removed to London. They also recommended an increase of salary to Miss Addison, B.A., and Mr. Malcolm, B.A.

Harry, the 7-year-old son of James Corbett, Ronald's block, North Chatham, had a narrow escape from drowning near the Fifth street bridge the other morning. While playing along the water front a comrade pushed the little fellow in, and it was with difficulty an older brother rescued him, he having nearly disappeared a third time.

John A. Robinson, of St. Thomas, partner of N. Macdonald, deceased, has commenced action to recover from Gray & Sons, Chatham, $400, which was paid by his partner on a private debt by firm checks on the firm bank account without his knowledge or consent, and several other items in the same position and will be sued shortly.

Miss Elizabeth Douglas, the popular daughter of Mr. John Douglas, Woodstock, was on Saturday married to Mr. John Mackay, manager of the Anderson Furniture Company, of the same place. The officiating minister was Dr. McMullen, pastor of Knox Church. Beside the groom and bride stood Miss Alice White, bridesmaid, and W. M. Deane, barrister, of Toronto, as groomsmen.

The case brought by James Payne, of Port Stanley, to abolish the tolls on the London and Port Stanley gravel road, has ended upon a new phase. The solicitor for the lessees of the gravel road recently obtained leave from the court at Toronto to serve what is called a third party notice on the corporation of the county of Elgin. Mr. James M. Glenn, solicitor for the county, made an application to set aside this order and notice, and the master gave judgment dismissing Mr. Glenn's motion with costs to the defendants as between them and the third parties. The corporation of Elgin will accordingly have to defend the suit as well as the defendants.

Elmhurst is to have a new town hall, and the council committee decided to accept the plans of Mr. Wilson, of Chatham, on his guaranteeing to let the contract for its erection, including the furnishing of the building, for $7,000. The building will have the vault, cells and storage room in the basement; fine large fire hall, with hose tower and suitable room for holding engines, trucks, etc., in the rear of ground floor; large, airy council chamber, mayor's office, etc., on one side, and a suitable room for public library and clerk's office in front on opposite side; stairs leading to second story on either side of entrance, in which the large auditorium is situated, with a seating capacity of over 500. The whole building covers a space of 50x20 feet.

INGERSOLL.

Ingersoll, Nov. 9.—The "geographical" social held in St. Paul's Church on Thursday evening was a decided success. A great number of young people gathered, and many and ingenious were the representations of places shown, all of which were guessed by at least person among those present before the close. Altogether, the young people enjoyed an evening they will not likely soon forget. Miss Barraclough gave a song, and when entered returned and rendered "The Holy City" in a most pleasing manner. Miss Alderson gave two recitations, which were heartily received.

The many friends of Mrs. M. McNeil will be pleased to learn that, after a severe illness of over a month, she is now getting around again, although not yet fully restored to health.

A NONOGENARIAN DEAD.

Mrs. Grover of Wardsville, the Member of a Noted Family.

A Good Woman Gone—Her Distinguished Connections.

Mrs. Eliza Grover, wife of the late F. J. Grover, of Wardsville, died at her residence on Saturday evening last, in her 92nd year. She was a fond and affectionate mother, a good neighbor, a Christian woman, and a member of the Methodist Church for over 50 years. The funeral takes place tomorrow (Tuesday) afternoon.

Mrs. Grover belonged to a distinguished family. Her first husband was the late Major Shaw, of Toronto, and the late George C. Shaw, general manager of the Ontario Bank, was her son. The deceased was afterwards married to Mr. F. J. Grover, who died twenty years ago. Mr. Grover was one of the ablest men in Canada, and will be remembered as the author of several works on law reform. He was a brother of P. M. Grover, one of the fathers of Confederation, who represented the county of Peterboro in the House of Commons for years. Mrs. Grover leaves four sons and one daughter living: John and Charles, of the homestead; James and Johnston, of Toronto, and Mrs. (Dr.) Ostrander, of Appleton, Wis. The late Thomas Grover, B.A., superintendent of education for the Northwest Territories, was also her son, and the late Mrs. Wm. Morton, wife of the ex-collector of customs at Windsor, was a daughter.

Mrs. Grover will long be held in affectionate remembrance by a host of friends.

TRIAL OF THE TWINS.

Evidence of Witnesses for the Prosecution—Stains on Hyam's Trousers.

Toronto, Nov. 11.—At the trial of the Hyams twins Saturday Mrs. Caroline B. Wells, a relative of the deceased Wells, and Miss Lydia Leverett, testified to seeing a triangular wound over the left eye, which they powdered. Other witnesses corroborated this.

James Chambers, livery stable keeper, testified that Dallas Hyams for the use of a cab on the morning of the death, and Jas. Lovell testified to having driven him from the warehouse to his home on Gould street, and had noticed what he thought was red paint on his pant leg.

Eliza Pengelly, formerly a domestic in the Hyams household, and in that employment at the time of the death, testified that she had washed a pair of pants given her by Harry Hyams some days after Wells' death. The court adjourned shortly after 5 o'clock.

SHOT THE CHINAMAN.

A Father Averages an Insult to His Daughter.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Lindock Dunn, a Chinese laundryman on South Halstead street, was shot and killed yesterday by the father of a young girl, who had attempted to assault her. It appears that the young girl had been sent to the laundry to get some washing that had been left there. The Chinaman attempted to take liberties with the girl, who had a hard struggle to escape. She reported the matter to her father, and the enraged man at once went to the laundry and shot the celestial dead.

RAILWAY RUMBLINGS.

How Deer Are Slaughtered by Engines—Business Increasing on the London and Port Stanley Line.

The freight business on the London and Port Stanley Railway has been greatly increased since the Detroit River and Lake Erie Company obtained control of it, and the business men at Port are enjoying quite a boom in consequence.

The G. T. R. traffic returns for the week ended Nov. 2 show an increase of $8,619 over the corresponding week last year.

Conductor W. A. Deyell, who was taken to the Battle Creek Sanitarium on Monday, suffering from diabetes, became worse, and had to be brought home to St. Thomas.

A bill for incorporation will be made to the Dominion Parliament by the Huron and Ontario Railway, which proposes to build from Port Perry to Chatham, touching at Newmarket, Bradford, Beeton, Shelburne, Princeville, Durham, Walkerton, Durban, Meaford, Owen Sound and Southampton. Electricity will be the motive power.

A new timetable comes into force on the G. T. R. on the 17th.

The headlights from the locomotive engines on Maine railroads attract the deer from the forests, and numbers of the animals are being killed by the engines.

The Feet Not All Dead Yet.

Even a blind man can see that more clearly than daylight, or else why should so many continue to use ill-smelling, oily, and often useless preparations for the relief of pain, when a preparation just as cheap, elegant, more powerful and penetrating as Neroline can be purchased from any dealer in medicine? Neroline cures instantly aches and pains. Neroline is the most efficacious remedy for internal pains. Neroline applied externally subdues the most intense pain almost at once.

A little boy was playing with a strange dog, when his father appeared on the scene and told him to take care or he might get bitten. "Nae fear o' that," replied the boy, "I'm no' clappin' the bitin' end."

If you suffer from looseness of the bowels, Angostura Bitters will surely cure you. Beware of counterfeits and ask for the genuine article, prepared by Dr. J. G. B. Sieger & Sons.

Glencoe Loses a Successful and Popular Clergyman.

Happenings at Komoka and Other Points in Middlesex.

Miss Flora Campbell, Glencoe, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Tolson, Melbourne.

Mr. Barclay, of Aylmer, is dangerously ill at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Calderwood, Glencoe.

The Glencoe Epworth League of Christian Endeavor have secured the services of Miss Maude Vines, St. Catharines, for a recital on the evening of Nov. 25.

Rev. W. Lowe, of Glencoe, was the unanimous choice of St. Paul's vestry, Wingham, and the Bishop of Huron will be asked to confirm the action of the vestry. Mr. Lowe is a most successful man, a good worker and loved by his people.

The anniversary services of the Glencoe Sons of Scotland were held in the Presbyterian Church there Sunday afternoon. A powerful and practical sermon was preached by the Rev. W. R. Ross, pastor of the church, from Philippians, iii., 13. A very pleasing feature of the service was the solo, "Soldiers of the Cross," which was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Pauls, a member of the Presbyterian choir, which furnished music for the occasion. Owing to the inclemency of the weather the brethren from the neighboring towns did not turn out in as large numbers, as they otherwise would have done.

Komoka.

Komoka, Nov. 9.—Mr. John McKellar has just finished the handsome brick residence of Mr. G. Tuckey, blacksmith, of Poplar Hill, one of the finest dwelling houses in the neighborhood.

Mr. Tuckey saved no expense in making one of the most commodious and attractive dwelling houses in the place. Great credit is due to the contractor, Mr. McKellar, for the workmanlike manner in which he carried out his plans, to the complete satisfaction of the owner.

The school trustees have made a good move in the right direction this time. They succeeded in re-engaging Mr. W. Heath to take charge of this school for another year at a liberal increase of salary. Since Mr. Heath took charge of this school the pupils have made rapid progress, and we trust the good relations of teacher and trustees may long continue.

There must be something good and attractive about the Royal Templars. Last Tuesday night, while they met at their hall, a number of young men assembled at the corner of the street opposite the hall and sent up a chorus of yells, shouting that of a lot of howling Derivishes.

Strathroy.

"Advertiser" Business Agent, J. D. Meekison.

Nov. 11.—Messrs. C. Jarvis, Col. Irwin, W. Wilson and M. Rapley took in "Tribby" at the Grand, London, last Saturday night.

Mr. F. Pool, of Thedford, was in town Sunday, the guest of his father, Mr. L. Pool.

Mr. and Mrs. George Prangle moved into their new home on Quality Hill Saturday.

The "Continual downpour" made Saturday a quiet day among the merchants. The farmers were conspicuous by their absence.

Mr. Shipley, a former resident of Strathroy, is spending a few days here, on a visit to his family.

The worthy grand master of the Sons of Temperance was here last Thursday and gave an address.

A meeting on behalf of the Western Ontario Bible Society was held next Wednesday evening. Rev. James Little, of Birt, will address the meeting.

Mr. John Snowden and Miss Sarah Jane Bean, of McGillicray, were married a few days ago by Rev. Mr. Yelland.

A meeting was held in West's Church, McGillicray, Friday night, for the purpose of organizing an Epworth League of Christian Endeavor.

Mrs. Geo. Janney, sen., of Sylvan, is still very ill, and grave fears are entertained that she will not recover.

THE CUBAN CONTEST.

Sharp Engagement—Thirty-Six Rebels Left Dead on the Field.

Washington, Nov. 11.—The Spanish Minister has received an unofficial dispatch from Cuba confirming the reports of an engagement fought between the Government forces and the insurgents. Thirty-six insurgent dead were left on the field, indicating a heavy loss in killed and wounded.

The dispatch adds that the engagement had an important moral effect in assuring that the insurgents would not be able to cross the river and enter the Matanzas district.

A dispatch to the Madrid Herald from Havana says that the insurgent leader, Maximo Gomez, has sent a circular to all the insurgent leaders directing them to destroy all the property of persons who do not contribute to the rebellion, and that Maximo is also to be exacting enormous sums of money from the landed proprietors of Cuba under the threat of destroying their plantations. The insurgents are said to have disappeared from the Province of Havana, but it is admitted that the rebellion is gaining ground in the Province of Matanzas.

A FRIGHTFUL WRECK.

On the Louisville Railroad—The Fireman Killed.

Franklin, Tenn., Nov. 11.—A frightful wreck occurred on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad near here last night, resulting in the death of Fireman Lowe and the serious, if not fatal, injury of Engineer Ed. Corbett. A number of passengers were considerably shocked. The accident was the result of the through New Orleans passenger train colliding with a freight train from Louisville.

The passenger engine was demolished and Fireman Lowe buried under the ruins.

A Session of Dominion Parliament
Said to be Approaching.

Chatham Man Appointed Judge, and
Then Bitten Out of It—What Chapleau Demands.

It is now semi-officially announced that the Governor-General will be back at Rideau Hall within a fortnight, the six bye-elections in Ontario and Quebec will be fixed as to their dates, the vacated seats in the Senate will be filled, and Parliament will in all probability be in session within 40 days. There may be another story tomorrow, however.

The sudden "wobbling" which has characterized the men now in power at Ottawa is thus set forth: "A gentleman living in Chatham, Ont., was last summer appointed a judge by order in Council, but he never got it. It was intended before it received the signature of the Governor-General, or canceled after it had been signed, and another gentleman, Mr. Valin, of Ottawa, was appointed to the office. First, the Cabinet decided to appoint the Irish Catholic barrister from Chatham, and they did appoint him. Then they decided to appoint a French-Canadian. Unfortunately the district of Nipissin called for only one judge, and consequently both orders-in-council could not remain in force. Sir Frank Smith must have been present when the first order was passed and absent when the second one was put through."

Mr. Chapleau does not believe in the Bowell Ministry, and he would dissolve it and form another as the only chance of carrying the general elections. He has communicated his views to the Government, and in reply Sir Mackenzie Bowell went to Montreal and met Mr. Chapleau on Thursday. Mr. Chapleau insists on a reorganization of the Ministry if he has any chance of going. Mr. Outin would have to go. Mr. Clarke Wallace would be required to pledge his support to remedial legislation, and in default receive his walking ticket. Premier Borden himself must give a pledge to resign immediately after the approaching session. These are reasons why it is improbable that Mr. Chapleau will come to the rescue.

It is understood that either Mr. Angers or Mr. Perrault, advocate, of Murray Bay, will be the Liberal candidate for Charlevoix for the vacant Federal seat. The Conservative nominee is not known yet.

NO NEWS OF THE CREW.

Quebec, Que., Nov. 11.—The Government steamer Aberdeen arrived at Gaspé Saturday morning having in tow the wrecked steamer Rivardale. The vessel was evidently struck by a sudden squall, which dismasted and filled her with water. The body of Captain Adams was found in a bunk in the forecastle. There is no sign of either of the other three men, including the captain's son, also his daughter, who are supposed to have been swept overboard.

SHOT THE MESSENGER.

Stockton, Cal., Nov. 11.—While the stages from Oakland and Angeles were changing horses at Chinese Camp early Saturday morning, George Morris, the assistant postmaster and express agent, was shot to death by two robbers. Five thousand dollars in coin were being carried on the stage, and the robbers were evidently aware of the fact. Morris had the money with him at the time, and when called upon to surrender, opened fire on the robbers. One of them had a shotgun, and returned the fire, riddling Morris' body with buckshot. They left without taking the money.
