

BUS THIEF STEALS PARIS TRUCK, SAFE, ESCAPES OFFICERS

Frank Stewart Blamed For Series of Thefts in Western Ontario.

VISITS THAMESFORD

Thom Garage Looted in Early Morning—Tires, Tubes, Chains Taken.

Police of the city and district are seeking a man who is believed to be responsible for a series of thefts within the past few days. It is alleged that the man is using the name Frank Stewart.

A quantity of goods alleged to have been stolen from travellers' sample cases in Listowel have been recovered in Ingersoll, where they had been sold to a dealer by a man claiming to represent a bankrupt Montreal firm.

On Tuesday night police in Woodstock intercepted a man in an auto stolen in Guelph. Despite a lengthy chase, in which the police used their revolvers, the man escaped, and breaking into the garage of the Woodstock-Ingersoll bus line made away with a new 20-passenger bus, which had been placed in service from the day before. The bus was found early Wednesday morning in Paris, where it had been abandoned, undamaged.

At Paris the wanted man is alleged to have stolen a service truck and a safe from the Bosworth-Clarke garage. The truck was reported as seen in the vicinity of Princeton early on Wednesday morning and the safe was found about midway between Brantford and Paris.

Early yesterday morning the Thom garage at Thamesford was burglarized and a large quantity of tires, tubes and chains taken. It is believed the same man was responsible for this theft as for the others. It is reported that two confederates are working with him, but only one trace of them was found, and that at Paris.

SAFE STOLEN.
Special to The Advertiser.
Woodstock, Nov. 4.—Paris police were in Woodstock today in search of the truck taken by the man who stole Bosworth and Clarke's garage at Paris early this morning. A safe and service truck were taken. The truck was reported near Princeton about a week ago. It is believed that the man who stole the truck is in this district. A search for it in this district proved fruitless. A puzzling feature was the fact that the truck was found in a field, containing nothing but a number of accounts, midway between Brantford and Paris, which is miles away in the opposite direction to that in which the truck is reported to have been seen.

GARAGE ROBBERED.
Special to The Advertiser.
Thamesford, Nov. 4.—Some time during last night thieves forced an entrance into the garage operated by A. Thom and departed with 29 tires, eight inner tubes and ten sets of chains, valued at about $400.

Mr. Thom, who lives across the street from the garage, reports that he thought he heard an auto stop near the garage this morning, but he did not see it. He did not pay any attention, as cars frequently stop near the corner. When he went to open the garage this morning he discovered that the place had been entered and goods taken. The thieves did not leave any trace, and it is believed they escaped in a touring car.

WONDERFUL RECORD FOR RADIO IN ARCTIC CIRCLE

A wonderful radio record is noted in a letter from Dewey Soper, Bathurst, which has been received by officials of the Canadian Broadcasting Company. This point is slightly north of the Arctic Circle. Mr. Dewey Soper is a government naturalist, and mineralogist sent by the Canadian government to make a survey of the interior of southern Bathurst. He was not able to this point in 1921 and is therefore continuing on during the whole of 1923. Pangnirtung, referred to in his letter, is the Hudson Bay post off Cumberland Gulf, exactly on the Arctic Circle, where there is in addition to the Hudson Bay posts a post of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Outside of this there is nothing but Eskimo. The Hudson Bay post is equipped with a Canadian Westinghouse receiving set. "Fortunately," says the letter, "the H. B. C. post at Pangnirtung received a small Westinghouse outfit from the Nasco in September. It is now in use and has given some fine results. With my three earphones extra we used to sit around over there and have some perfectly wonderful experiences. Some of the music and singing was as clear and loud as though coming from the next room. We got every imaginable kind of entertainment, from jazz to solemn classics, lectures, political speeches, plays, etc. One night we got a girl singer (I think from Hastings, Neb.) whose voice was so clear that she seemed standing among us; even her breathing could be detected. How is that for Arctic Circle? Among other things we received from the following stations: Schenectady, N.Y.; Brunswick Hotel, Boston, Hastings, Neb.; Denver, Col.; and Los Angeles, Cal.; Regina, Cal.; and Edmonton. For some reason the latter three were seldom secured and were invariably weak when we did."

ELECTED TO PROVINCIAL BOARD.

The official representatives of the Western Ontario women's institutes on the provincial board of federated women's institutes includes Mrs. George Edwards of Komoka, president of the Western Ontario federation (left), Mrs. David Chisholm of Harrow (center) and Mrs. W. J. Simpson of Tottenham (right). These representatives to the board were elected at the convention now in session in the Masonic Temple, this city.

PROSPERITY FORESEEN BY DEPUTY MINISTER

W. Bert Roadhouse Tells Women's Institute Convention Canada Can Now Look Forward to More Stable Conditions.

That Canada has rounded the corner and can look forward to better times and more stable conditions as far as crop production is concerned, was the welcome statement made by W. Bert Roadhouse, deputy minister of agriculture, of Toronto, before the federation of Western Ontario women's institutes in the Masonic Temple, last night.

He spoke with regret of the serious injury to the Northern crop during the past few weeks, however.

"It is a source of deep regret that this phase of agriculture has suffered such a serious blow," he declared. "From reports which have come to me, I am informed that practically all of the Northern crop of corn in commercial sections of Ontario have been ruined by the serious frost of the past two weeks. It is the first time in 60 years that such an event has taken place in this province, and it is a great disappointment."

"However, this is but one unfortunate phase in what is an exceptionally good year as a whole," he said. The speaker in his address referred to the extraordinary influence which radio and broadcasting has had on the country, especially in rural communities. He spoke of radio as one of the marvels of the age, and an instance of one of those titanic forces which revolutionize the world in a few years.

"I believe," he declared, "that it will not be long before this great contribution of science will become a useful part of every home, particularly every farm home of the country."

"This is one thing that must be linked up with our farm life, for it will be an important factor in promoting education in rural communities. We should take these things as they come and enlarge our rural life. And I know that the women's institutes will be the first to take up such an idea. I hope that the time is not far distant when a radio program will be a feature of many of our institute meetings."

The speaker paid a big tribute to the women's institutes. Their organization was one which maintained a high educational and spiritual interest in the community. They have furnished that influence in the rural districts which have brought together the people in bonds of friendship.

"Nothing so closely records the rural life of the province than the records of the women's institutes," he declared.

Mrs. H. Aitken of Beeton delivered the second address of the evening, dealing with "Ontario Women in the Future." There were three classes of these women, she said: the wives who helped with the work on a farm and shared the profits with their husbands; daughters who specialized in some small line of their own; and women who farmed on their own small acreages.

The speaker pointed out the importance of production, but cautioned that the producer must give back in the form of education and culture. This held true in land, stock and poultry.

The report of agriculture given by Mrs. J. W. Macdonald of Appleton was interesting throughout. It showed that the women of the institutes were occupied in dairying, poultry raising, market gardening, beekeeping, small flower cultivation, in fact were contributing in every way to make agriculture a successful profession. They had shown splendid interest in the school fairs.

She suggested co-operation in the purchase of seed, bulbs and shrubs in a community.

A movement to have a women's institute exhibit and speakers at the Western Fair next year found expression at yesterday's meeting. The institutes are delighted with the idea, and voted to support such an exhibit similar to the exhibit held annually at the Canadian National Exhibition.

Also proposed, and will probably form a feature of the fair next year.

Mrs. Bolton Fitzgerald of Thornhill presided over the session.

About Politics.
"We feel sorry sometimes that we have only one woman at Ottawa," declared Mrs. C. Field Robertson of London, provincial president of institutes, in a very fine address given before the afternoon session. "Our only representative is Agnes MacPherson."

With this as a leading statement, the speaker urged the women of the institutes not to be partisan in their politics, but to cast their vote for the man who has the best and highest ideals.

"I know that while in the small things women have their differences, in the big issues of life they will be one," she declared.

The speaker paid tribute to the late Sir Adam Beck, not only as a citizen of London, but as a citizen claimed by the whole of Ontario.

She referred to the vast army of institute women, 35,000 in Ontario alone. Ontario, she said, was the banner province in institute work, and she hoped that it would remain

N. Y. Diamond Dealer Trusts Bogus Fellow Merchant and Loses Fortune.

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, Nov. 5.—While Louis Steinberg, a dealer in diamonds in the United Jewelers' Exchange building on the Bowery, was engaged in a telephone conversation yesterday, a young man who had posed as the owner of a Long Island jewelry store, walked out of his office with $50,000 worth of unset stones.

The man whose description was given to the police had gained the dealer's confidence during three previous visits, on each of which he had bought about $50 worth of jewelry.

Yesterday the young man had said he wanted to purchase a large amount of jewelry, and had been invited behind the counter, when the telephone rang. Steinberg expressed the opinion that the thief had timed his visit today to coincide with the absence of the office assistant, and that the telephone call was made by an accomplice.

While the dealer was in the booth, and while the dealer was in the booth, the thief walked out of the building with a wallet full of stones.

MAGAZINE CANVASSERS MAKE GREAT MISTAKE

Youths Tell Usual University Story to Wrong Person in North London.

The university student canvasser is busy again. Two youths, seeking subscriptions to a magazine, visited North London one day recently, and did very well until their credentials were disputed. One of them made the grave mistake of knocking on the door of Dr. K. P. R. Neville's residence on Bridport avenue. When the doctor, who is registrar at the university, answered, the student proceeded to tell him his usual story, stating that he was a student of high standing at that school. After severe questioning by Dr. Neville, he admitted that he was a student of a university.

PROGRESS REPORTED IN BAPTIST MISSION WORK

Canadian Board Hears of Departure of New Missionaries to India.

Toronto, Nov. 5.—Encouraging reports of progress in the mission field were presented at the annual meeting of the Canadian Baptist foreign mission board held yesterday in Toronto. According to the report of the general secretary there are now in India and Bolivia 121 active missionaries and 1,029 native pastors and preachers. The board's membership is 18,534, an increase of over 9,000 in the last ten years, while 694 Sunday schools have been established, together with 12 orphanages, 7 hospitals, 14 dispensaries, and 3 leper homes. Four new missionaries have left for India and two are under appointment for Bolivia.

The growing importance of the work, and the need for additional missionaries were emphasized by Rev. John Craig, Rev. Gordon P. Bares, both of whom addressed the board.

The treasurer's report showed total receipts of $232,557.27, the unfavorable condition of exchange having cost the board nearly $13,000. It was resolved to increase the income of the board for the current year by at least $15,000.

Members of the board present at the meeting were: J. S. Moore (chairman), Rev. H. E. Stillwell (general secretary), R. D. Warren (treasurer), D. D. McTavish, F. Inrig, Rev. Dr. J. B. BLUE HERON VISITS CITY IN FLIGHT TO SOUTHLAND

Apparently stopping for rest in its southward flight, a blue heron spent some hours yesterday in London. It alighted on the flats opposite the Horton street hydro substation, and approached quite closely to some men who were working there. Herons are an unusual sight in this vicinity at this time of year.

TEACHING OF SHOE SHINING IS OPPOSED BY TRUSTEE

Toronto, Nov. 5.—Strong opposition to the principle of teaching occupations with a low standing in the auxiliary technical schools, was voiced yesterday by Trustee Thomas in connection with a scheme to provide for the teaching of shoe-shining at the Jarvis street auxiliary school, which will be presented for the approval of the board of education at their meeting tonight.

Because a child was below the average standard required in the other technical schools, he was thought, for dubbing him as a half-wit, good for nothing but polishing footwear.

W. C. McBrien, chairman of the board of education, pointed out on the other hand that the function of these schools was to provide for all grades of mentality. Many of the students were in the unfortunate position that they were unable to take up more advanced trades and their needs must be considered. He advocated teaching shoe-shining, scrubbing or anything else, rather than turning them out as absolutely useless citizens.

Miss Greta Carlisle, 23 Leonard St., Brantford, Ont., writes:—"A short while ago, my face was completely covered with large red pimples, and it seemed that it was almost impossible for me to get rid of them, as nothing I took seemed to do me any good. One day I noticed an advertisement of Burdock's Blood Bitters."

SIXTEEN THOUGHT TO BE DEATH TOLL

Bodies of Eight Persons Are Already Covered at Scene of Welsh Disaster.

Associated Press Despatch.
Conway, Wales, Nov. 5.—It is estimated that not more than sixteen persons met death on Tuesday when the dam on Lake Eglwys burst and loosed some three million tons of water down the mountainside. Eight bodies have been found and eight persons are missing. It is estimated that more persons were killed by falling houses and swiftly rolling boulders than from drowning. But for the fact that the population in the valley is sparse and scattered the fatalities would undoubtedly have been greater. The material damage was relatively light.

COMMISSION WOULD LESSEN INTERFERENCE

Presence of Hydro Wires Is Blamed For Radio Reception Trouble.

Consideration is being given by the public utilities commission at its regular meeting this afternoon to the question of radio interference and to the question of heating the public utilities building by electricity.

Manager E. V. Buchanan has had several complaints as to radio interference being caused by hydro wires bringing up the question to secure a ruling from the commission as to how far the utilities staff may go in correcting matters.

Use of electricity for heating the utilities building during off peak hours also has been given some consideration by Mr. Buchanan, and he has a practical plan to be placed before the commission for its consideration.

TYPEWRITER BUSINESS BOOMS DURING OCTOBER

Fred J. Walker, London manager of the Underwood Typewriter company, received word from J. J. Seitz, general manager for Canada, this morning, stating that October business had been the largest in the history of the company in Canada.

"This includes the war years when business was running on a very unusual scale," said Mr. Walker, "and we take it to mean that there must be a good volume of business now."

He said that the business houses do not use typewriters when they have no use for them. Reports all over Canada are such as to bear out the same idea that we have more than rounded the corner toward better times. We are right upon them.
