

TERTAIN VISITOR FROM THE ORIENT

an Club Will Hear J. ay McGregor of the University of Kioto adian club will have a luncheon on Friday next at 2 p.m. J. Murray McGregor, professor in the Imperial university of Kioto, Japan will be the guest of honor...

ATION ON THE UPPER YUKON

ming Rotten on Lake Laberge Steamers Expect to Pass in a Few Days

atch from White Horse of date says: "Freight is being loaded on the steamers which will winter here, preparing the first trip to Dawson from Laberge during the coming winter. If necessary the old steamers may be used as a passage through the ice."

Counsel and Client.

edics of the difference between a professional opinion of a lawyer and the honest conviction of a learned man were set forth in a case of a well known English barrister who was called in to advise the client and counsel were together. "Smith," said the client, "of course I know you didn't do it with the butt and never with a stick," "I swear I am innocent," perfectly well, but you must for if you did it with a revolver, shall say to the prosecution, the stick; and if you did it with a stick, I shall say, "Produce the stick," the client paused and looked at the barrister. "That's right," said the barrister, "I can get you off now."

Vancouver Won.

ver, May 25.—The Vancouver team won a double-header Tacoma league game in the first league championship day, winning the morning, 9 to 1, and the afternoon match, 6 to 2. Record crowds attended both games.

THOUSANDS WITNESS GORGE CELEBRATION

Record Crowds View Last Scenes of This Year's Victoria Day Event

(From Wednesday's Daily) The Gorge park was the mecca towards which thousands of Victorians flocked last evening for the closing scenes in the 1908 Victoria Day celebration. It was a fitting climax to the two days' events and in point of attractiveness was easily the first. By the multitude of pleasure seekers the scene presented in the famous Gorge will be remembered. The natural beauties of the place were enhanced by myriads of electric lights which showed up brilliantly against the vivid green of the trees and shrubbery and the still waters of the Gorge were churned into a million ripples by the swarms of small craft which gaily decorated, sped hither and thither, while from the bank were wafted the strains of music as the Victoria male choir and the City band alternately rendered exceptionally well-executed numbers. The waters reflected the thousands of lights, which hung along the banks multitudes of lights and the flocks of strung along the trees and flocked in clusters upon the many craft made the whole a veritable fairy land and presented a picture which, those who were not there, will never be able to describe. Enormous Crowd. From 6 until 9 o'clock, the street railway carried a record-breaking crowd from the city. Even as early as 5:30 p.m. was pressed into service, even to the work cars, and all were thronged to the limit. When the evening's musical programme commenced the B. C. Electric company's park contained a multitude which in point of numbers was never equaled hitherto. The space in front of the band pavilion and the platform on which the male choir was seated was so closely crowded that it was with difficulty that one could get through while along the many pretty paths slowly moved a stream of good natured humanity apparently never ending. It was an appreciative throng and the choir and band numbers were heartily applauded and vociferously cheered.

It was to the aquatic scene, however, that the palm of beauty must be awarded. From the Gorge bridge to well past the bathing pool a stream of gaily decorated yachts, canoes, and launches swept up and down upon the water. Hardly a craft but was decorated with flags, lanterns, and lights, and many of them were transformed into a bower of beauty with flowers and evergreens. The judges had a most difficult task in making their awards and for over an hour the long string of illuminated craft passed before the spectators.

Scene of Beauty.

Immediately on the completion of the musical portion of the evening's entertainment the display of fireworks was held. It was a really a beautiful display of the scenic was visible. As the rockets burst and the sparks fell, the whole scene was a blaze of light and color. The fireworks were set off from the Gorge bridge and the display was a most successful one. The Gorge and lighting up the scene of beauty with flowers and evergreens. The judges had a most difficult task in making their awards and for over an hour the long string of illuminated craft passed before the spectators.

Fine Decorations.

To the judges of the water carnival, Madams Lewis Hall, Jenkins and W. C. Stansfield, the lack of decorating the craft to which should fall the honors. In a launch, itself decorated in a manner worthy of the occasion, they viewed the gay parade of the craft and it required long deliberation before the three prizes were determined. To the unique display made by Mr. Carter, a swim of towing the boat, the first prize of $20. Mr. Carter had transformed his motor launch into a float which brightly lit up and formed a beacon amid the host of boats. The second honors went to Mr. Laurie's crew whose decorations of green lanterns, strung along ropes of vivid green moss and evergreens presented a pretty spectacle. "Two strings to her bow" was the quaint designation of Mr. Laurie's decorative effort and the judges' consideration before the judges awarded the place to these two entries. Mr. Laurie captured the prize of $15 while the third prize of $10 went to the Vera, owned by Mrs. Gardiner. This craft was also a difficult proposition for the judges, with its prettily arranged lanterns, strung from ropes of flowers and the hull almost lost in its covering amid which peeped many lights. Mr. Butcher's "Alak" was given the fourth prize of $5.

Operation Prevented

Bad Case of Piles Cured by Zam-Buk.

Sufferers from Piles will be interested in the following testimony of Mr. Garfield Logan, 147 Welland Avenue, St. Catharines, Ont. He says: "For years I was a sufferer from protruding bleeding piles. They got so bad that I could not walk or sit down without a great deal of suffering. The pain I endured was dreadful. I had tried many of the doctors told me I would have to be operated upon but I was very nervous and did not think that there was any remedy that I did not try, but they failed to cure me. One day I received a sample of Zam-Buk and tried that. I got some relief and decided to try a sample. I bought three boxes and before I had finished the third box I was completely cured. I had saved myself many hundreds of dollars because I had decided to have the operation. Zam-Buk did not cure me. I have recommended Zam-Buk to a number of my friends and am always praising Zam-Buk."

Zam-Buk Succeeds because it goes right to the root of the trouble. Healing, soothing and antiseptic, it is Nature's remedy for piles. It is sold in stores and druggists all over the world. Price 50c. per box. From the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

ITALIAN MURDERER TO PAY EXTREME PENALTY

Antonio Cedio, Slayer of Louise King, at Niagara, Sentenced to Be Hanged

(From Thursday's Daily) Antonio Cedio, found guilty of the murder of Louise King, the young girl who met her death in the dynamite explosion by which the Canada hotel at Niagara, a small village seven miles up the north fork of the Kettle from Grand Forks, was destroyed and several people seriously injured on November 28, 1906, will pay the extreme penalty. At the Greenwood justice today Mr. Justice Clement, before whom the Italian was tried, sentenced the prisoner to be hanged at Kamloops on July 31. The crime for which Cedio will answer with his life was the most brutal in the history of the province, and was the outcome of the forger's jealous rage at the refusal of the girl to accept his attentions. Cedio, together with a number of other Italian railway laborers, were engaged on construction work near the village.

The crime for which Cedio will answer with his life was the most brutal in the history of the province, and was the outcome of the forger's jealous rage at the refusal of the girl to accept his attentions. Cedio, together with a number of other Italian railway laborers, were engaged on construction work near the village.

MINING AT NELSON HAS GOOD PROSPECTS

A. H. Kelly, Pioneer Mining Man, Tells of Outlook in the Kootenays

(From Thursday's Daily) A. H. Kelly, a pioneering mining man of Nelson, passed through Victoria yesterday on his way home. Mr. Kelly has been up to Whitehorse looking over the new copper fields and he says that the outlook is most promising. He says that the mines in the Kootenays are being developed and that the outlook is most promising. He says that the mines in the Kootenays are being developed and that the outlook is most promising.

LAST SHOGUN'S SON VISITING VICTORIA

Marquis Ikeda Making Grand Tour of the World—Some Family History

(From Thursday's Daily) Marquis Naikano Ikeda, one of the last of the Shoguns, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, whose rule in Japan ended when the Imperial troops were driven out of the War of the Restoration forty years ago, arrived by the steamer Shinano on the morning of his visit to Victoria yesterday, accompanied by Tosaku Ihara, a director of the Japan Times, the only newspaper published in English language in Tokyo and Dr. Seiko Kitamura, physician to the family of the marquis. The young marquis, whose sister is the wife of the son of Prince Fushimi of the royal house of Japan, is 31 years of age, and in his first tour abroad. He is on a round-the-world tour, going from Seattle to San Francisco, thence to Chicago and after a stay in New York will take passage on the Cunard liner Mauretania for Liverpool and London, whence he will go to Europe and from Russia across Siberia to Harbin, whence it is his purpose to journey by way of Manchuria and Korea home to Tokyo.

Methodist Bishops

Conference at Baltimore Chooses Remains of Four Eight That Were to Be Elected

Baltimore, Md., May 26.—Rev. Dr. Wilson S. Lewis, president of the Morningside college, Sioux City, Iowa, and Rev. Dr. Edwin H. Hughes, president of DePue university, Greencastle, Ind., were elected bishops at the twentieth ballot at the Methodist Episcopal general conference today. This left two to be chosen out of the eight which the conference decided should be named at this session.

Sunday Law

Rev. W. M. Rochester Expresses His Opinions at Mass Meeting Held in Vancouver

Vancouver, May 26.—Nearly four hundred attended the men's mass meeting in the city hall on Sunday afternoon to hear the latest word on the Lord's Day Act from Rev. W. M. Rochester, the western secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, who spoke for an hour. The address was a review of what has been accomplished during the year that the Dominion Act has been in force in every province of the Dominion, and there should therefore be prosecutions in British Columbia for its violation.

THE CIVIL WAR

The marquis' father lived in his feudal castle at Osaka, and in October 1868, when the Prince of Koshi sent orders to urge the Shogun to restore the power and administration of the mikados, after a lapse of 270 years, the marquis' father, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, sent a messenger to resign the administrative power in his favor. When this was noted among the dispirited of the Shogun great was the indignation of the Emperor, who was the present emperor. A few months later when the office of Shogun was abolished and the princes of Aizu and Satsuma were forbidden to enter the capital, because of their disloyalty, it became the retainers of the father, Prince Tokugawa Keikei, who arrived yesterday in Victoria, that he proposed to take up his abode in the "Castle of the Sun" in the city of Victoria.

THE CIVIL WAR

The marquis' father lived in his feudal castle at Osaka, and in October 1868, when the Prince of Koshi sent orders to urge the Shogun to restore the power and administration of the mikados, after a lapse of 270 years, the marquis' father, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, sent a messenger to resign the administrative power in his favor. When this was noted among the dispirited of the Shogun great was the indignation of the Emperor, who was the present emperor. A few months later when the office of Shogun was abolished and the princes of Aizu and Satsuma were forbidden to enter the capital, because of their disloyalty, it became the retainers of the father, Prince Tokugawa Keikei, who arrived yesterday in Victoria, that he proposed to take up his abode in the "Castle of the Sun" in the city of Victoria.

THE CIVIL WAR

The marquis' father lived in his feudal castle at Osaka, and in October 1868, when the Prince of Koshi sent orders to urge the Shogun to restore the power and administration of the mikados, after a lapse of 270 years, the marquis' father, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, sent a messenger to resign the administrative power in his favor. When this was noted among the dispirited of the Shogun great was the indignation of the Emperor, who was the present emperor. A few months later when the office of Shogun was abolished and the princes of Aizu and Satsuma were forbidden to enter the capital, because of their disloyalty, it became the retainers of the father, Prince Tokugawa Keikei, who arrived yesterday in Victoria, that he proposed to take up his abode in the "Castle of the Sun" in the city of Victoria.

THE CIVIL WAR

The marquis' father lived in his feudal castle at Osaka, and in October 1868, when the Prince of Koshi sent orders to urge the Shogun to restore the power and administration of the mikados, after a lapse of 270 years, the marquis' father, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, sent a messenger to resign the administrative power in his favor. When this was noted among the dispirited of the Shogun great was the indignation of the Emperor, who was the present emperor. A few months later when the office of Shogun was abolished and the princes of Aizu and Satsuma were forbidden to enter the capital, because of their disloyalty, it became the retainers of the father, Prince Tokugawa Keikei, who arrived yesterday in Victoria, that he proposed to take up his abode in the "Castle of the Sun" in the city of Victoria.

THE CIVIL WAR

The marquis' father lived in his feudal castle at Osaka, and in October 1868, when the Prince of Koshi sent orders to urge the Shogun to restore the power and administration of the mikados, after a lapse of 270 years, the marquis' father, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, sent a messenger to resign the administrative power in his favor. When this was noted among the dispirited of the Shogun great was the indignation of the Emperor, who was the present emperor. A few months later when the office of Shogun was abolished and the princes of Aizu and Satsuma were forbidden to enter the capital, because of their disloyalty, it became the retainers of the father, Prince Tokugawa Keikei, who arrived yesterday in Victoria, that he proposed to take up his abode in the "Castle of the Sun" in the city of Victoria.

THE CIVIL WAR

The marquis' father lived in his feudal castle at Osaka, and in October 1868, when the Prince of Koshi sent orders to urge the Shogun to restore the power and administration of the mikados, after a lapse of 270 years, the marquis' father, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, sent a messenger to resign the administrative power in his favor. When this was noted among the dispirited of the Shogun great was the indignation of the Emperor, who was the present emperor. A few months later when the office of Shogun was abolished and the princes of Aizu and Satsuma were forbidden to enter the capital, because of their disloyalty, it became the retainers of the father, Prince Tokugawa Keikei, who arrived yesterday in Victoria, that he proposed to take up his abode in the "Castle of the Sun" in the city of Victoria.

THE CIVIL WAR

The marquis' father lived in his feudal castle at Osaka, and in October 1868, when the Prince of Koshi sent orders to urge the Shogun to restore the power and administration of the mikados, after a lapse of 270 years, the marquis' father, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, sent a messenger to resign the administrative power in his favor. When this was noted among the dispirited of the Shogun great was the indignation of the Emperor, who was the present emperor. A few months later when the office of Shogun was abolished and the princes of Aizu and Satsuma were forbidden to enter the capital, because of their disloyalty, it became the retainers of the father, Prince Tokugawa Keikei, who arrived yesterday in Victoria, that he proposed to take up his abode in the "Castle of the Sun" in the city of Victoria.

THE CIVIL WAR

The marquis' father lived in his feudal castle at Osaka, and in October 1868, when the Prince of Koshi sent orders to urge the Shogun to restore the power and administration of the mikados, after a lapse of 270 years, the marquis' father, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, sent a messenger to resign the administrative power in his favor. When this was noted among the dispirited of the Shogun great was the indignation of the Emperor, who was the present emperor. A few months later when the office of Shogun was abolished and the princes of Aizu and Satsuma were forbidden to enter the capital, because of their disloyalty, it became the retainers of the father, Prince Tokugawa Keikei, who arrived yesterday in Victoria, that he proposed to take up his abode in the "Castle of the Sun" in the city of Victoria.

THE CIVIL WAR

The marquis' father lived in his feudal castle at Osaka, and in October 1868, when the Prince of Koshi sent orders to urge the Shogun to restore the power and administration of the mikados, after a lapse of 270 years, the marquis' father, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, sent a messenger to resign the administrative power in his favor. When this was noted among the dispirited of the Shogun great was the indignation of the Emperor, who was the present emperor. A few months later when the office of Shogun was abolished and the princes of Aizu and Satsuma were forbidden to enter the capital, because of their disloyalty, it became the retainers of the father, Prince Tokugawa Keikei, who arrived yesterday in Victoria, that he proposed to take up his abode in the "Castle of the Sun" in the city of Victoria.

THE CIVIL WAR

The marquis' father lived in his feudal castle at Osaka, and in October 1868, when the Prince of Koshi sent orders to urge the Shogun to restore the power and administration of the mikados, after a lapse of 270 years, the marquis' father, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, sent a messenger to resign the administrative power in his favor. When this was noted among the dispirited of the Shogun great was the indignation of the Emperor, who was the present emperor. A few months later when the office of Shogun was abolished and the princes of Aizu and Satsuma were forbidden to enter the capital, because of their disloyalty, it became the retainers of the father, Prince Tokugawa Keikei, who arrived yesterday in Victoria, that he proposed to take up his abode in the "Castle of the Sun" in the city of Victoria.

THE CIVIL WAR

The marquis' father lived in his feudal castle at Osaka, and in October 1868, when the Prince of Koshi sent orders to urge the Shogun to restore the power and administration of the mikados, after a lapse of 270 years, the marquis' father, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, sent a messenger to resign the administrative power in his favor. When this was noted among the dispirited of the Shogun great was the indignation of the Emperor, who was the present emperor. A few months later when the office of Shogun was abolished and the princes of Aizu and Satsuma were forbidden to enter the capital, because of their disloyalty, it became the retainers of the father, Prince Tokugawa Keikei, who arrived yesterday in Victoria, that he proposed to take up his abode in the "Castle of the Sun" in the city of Victoria.

THE CIVIL WAR

The marquis' father lived in his feudal castle at Osaka, and in October 1868, when the Prince of Koshi sent orders to urge the Shogun to restore the power and administration of the mikados, after a lapse of 270 years, the marquis' father, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, sent a messenger to resign the administrative power in his favor. When this was noted among the dispirited of the Shogun great was the indignation of the Emperor, who was the present emperor. A few months later when the office of Shogun was abolished and the princes of Aizu and Satsuma were forbidden to enter the capital, because of their disloyalty, it became the retainers of the father, Prince Tokugawa Keikei, who arrived yesterday in Victoria, that he proposed to take up his abode in the "Castle of the Sun" in the city of Victoria.

THE CIVIL WAR

The marquis' father lived in his feudal castle at Osaka, and in October 1868, when the Prince of Koshi sent orders to urge the Shogun to restore the power and administration of the mikados, after a lapse of 270 years, the marquis' father, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, sent a messenger to resign the administrative power in his favor. When this was noted among the dispirited of the Shogun great was the indignation of the Emperor, who was the present emperor. A few months later when the office of Shogun was abolished and the princes of Aizu and Satsuma were forbidden to enter the capital, because of their disloyalty, it became the retainers of the father, Prince Tokugawa Keikei, who arrived yesterday in Victoria, that he proposed to take up his abode in the "Castle of the Sun" in the city of Victoria.

THE CIVIL WAR

The marquis' father lived in his feudal castle at Osaka, and in October 1868, when the Prince of Koshi sent orders to urge the Shogun to restore the power and administration of the mikados, after a lapse of 270 years, the marquis' father, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, sent a messenger to resign the administrative power in his favor. When this was noted among the dispirited of the Shogun great was the indignation of the Emperor, who was the present emperor. A few months later when the office of Shogun was abolished and the princes of Aizu and Satsuma were forbidden to enter the capital, because of their disloyalty, it became the retainers of the father, Prince Tokugawa Keikei, who arrived yesterday in Victoria, that he proposed to take up his abode in the "Castle of the Sun" in the city of Victoria.

THE CIVIL WAR

The marquis' father lived in his feudal castle at Osaka, and in October 1868, when the Prince of Koshi sent orders to urge the Shogun to restore the power and administration of the mikados, after a lapse of 270 years, the marquis' father, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, sent a messenger to resign the administrative power in his favor. When this was noted among the dispirited of the Shogun great was the indignation of the Emperor, who was the present emperor. A few months later when the office of Shogun was abolished and the princes of Aizu and Satsuma were forbidden to enter the capital, because of their disloyalty, it became the retainers of the father, Prince Tokugawa Keikei, who arrived yesterday in Victoria, that he proposed to take up his abode in the "Castle of the Sun" in the city of Victoria.

THE CIVIL WAR

The marquis' father lived in his feudal castle at Osaka, and in October 1868, when the Prince of Koshi sent orders to urge the Shogun to restore the power and administration of the mikados, after a lapse of 270 years, the marquis' father, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, sent a messenger to resign the administrative power in his favor. When this was noted among the dispirited of the Shogun great was the indignation of the Emperor, who was the present emperor. A few months later when the office of Shogun was abolished and the princes of Aizu and Satsuma were forbidden to enter the capital, because of their disloyalty, it became the retainers of the father, Prince Tokugawa Keikei, who arrived yesterday in Victoria, that he proposed to take up his abode in the "Castle of the Sun" in the city of Victoria.

THE CIVIL WAR

The marquis' father lived in his feudal castle at Osaka, and in October 1868, when the Prince of Koshi sent orders to urge the Shogun to restore the power and administration of the mikados, after a lapse of 270 years, the marquis' father, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, sent a messenger to resign the administrative power in his favor. When this was noted among the dispirited of the Shogun great was the indignation of the Emperor, who was the present emperor. A few months later when the office of Shogun was abolished and the princes of Aizu and Satsuma were forbidden to enter the capital, because of their disloyalty, it became the retainers of the father, Prince Tokugawa Keikei, who arrived yesterday in Victoria, that he proposed to take up his abode in the "Castle of the Sun" in the city of Victoria.

THE CIVIL WAR

The marquis' father lived in his feudal castle at Osaka, and in October 1868, when the Prince of Koshi sent orders to urge the Shogun to restore the power and administration of the mikados, after a lapse of 270 years, the marquis' father, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, sent a messenger to resign the administrative power in his favor. When this was noted among the dispirited of the Shogun great was the indignation of the Emperor, who was the present emperor. A few months later when the office of Shogun was abolished and the princes of Aizu and Satsuma were forbidden to enter the capital, because of their disloyalty, it became the retainers of the father, Prince Tokugawa Keikei, who arrived yesterday in Victoria, that he proposed to take up his abode in the "Castle of the Sun" in the city of Victoria.

THE CIVIL WAR

The marquis' father lived in his feudal castle at Osaka, and in October 1868, when the Prince of Koshi sent orders to urge the Shogun to restore the power and administration of the mikados, after a lapse of 270 years, the marquis' father, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, sent a messenger to resign the administrative power in his favor. When this was noted among the dispirited of the Shogun great was the indignation of the Emperor, who was the present emperor. A few months later when the office of Shogun was abolished and the princes of Aizu and Satsuma were forbidden to enter the capital, because of their disloyalty, it became the retainers of the father, Prince Tokugawa Keikei, who arrived yesterday in Victoria, that he proposed to take up his abode in the "Castle of the Sun" in the city of Victoria.

THE CIVIL WAR

The marquis' father lived in his feudal castle at Osaka, and in October 1868, when the Prince of Koshi sent orders to urge the Shogun to restore the power and administration of the mikados, after a lapse of 270 years, the marquis' father, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, sent a messenger to resign the administrative power in his favor. When this was noted among the dispirited of the Shogun great was the indignation of the Emperor, who was the present emperor. A few months later when the office of Shogun was abolished and the princes of Aizu and Satsuma were forbidden to enter the capital, because of their disloyalty, it became the retainers of the father, Prince Tokugawa Keikei, who arrived yesterday in Victoria, that he proposed to take up his abode in the "Castle of the Sun" in the city of Victoria.

THE CIVIL WAR

The marquis' father lived in his feudal castle at Osaka, and in October 1868, when the Prince of Koshi sent orders to urge the Shogun to restore the power and administration of the mikados, after a lapse of 270 years, the marquis' father, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, sent a messenger to resign the administrative power in his favor. When this was noted among the dispirited of the Shogun great was the indignation of the Emperor, who was the present emperor. A few months later when the office of Shogun was abolished and the princes of Aizu and Satsuma were forbidden to enter the capital, because of their disloyalty, it became the retainers of the father, Prince Tokugawa Keikei, who arrived yesterday in Victoria, that he proposed to take up his abode in the "Castle of the Sun" in the city of Victoria.

THE CIVIL WAR

The marquis' father lived in his feudal castle at Osaka, and in October 1868, when the Prince of Koshi sent orders to urge the Shogun to restore the power and administration of the mikados, after a lapse of 270 years, the marquis' father, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, sent a messenger to resign the administrative power in his favor. When this was noted among the dispirited of the Shogun great was the indignation of the Emperor, who was the present emperor. A few months later when the office of Shogun was abolished and the princes of Aizu and Satsuma were forbidden to enter the capital, because of their disloyalty, it became the retainers of the father, Prince Tokugawa Keikei, who arrived yesterday in Victoria, that he proposed to take up his abode in the "Castle of the Sun" in the city of Victoria.

THE CIVIL WAR

The marquis' father lived in his feudal castle at Osaka, and in October 1868, when the Prince of Koshi sent orders to urge the Shogun to restore the power and administration of the mikados, after a lapse of 270 years, the marquis' father, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, sent a messenger to resign the administrative power in his favor. When this was noted among the dispirited of the Shogun great was the indignation of the Emperor, who was the present emperor. A few months later when the office of Shogun was abolished and the princes of Aizu and Satsuma were forbidden to enter the capital, because of their disloyalty, it became the retainers of the father, Prince Tokugawa Keikei, who arrived yesterday in Victoria, that he proposed to take up his abode in the "Castle of the Sun" in the city of Victoria.

THE CIVIL WAR

The marquis' father lived in his feudal castle at Osaka, and in October 1868, when the Prince of Koshi sent orders to urge the Shogun to restore the power and administration of the mikados, after a lapse of 270 years, the marquis' father, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, sent a messenger to resign the administrative power in his favor. When this was noted among the dispirited of the Shogun great was the indignation of the Emperor, who was the present emperor. A few months later when the office of Shogun was abolished and the princes of Aizu and Satsuma were forbidden to enter the capital, because of their disloyalty, it became the retainers of the father, Prince Tokugawa Keikei, who arrived yesterday in Victoria, that he proposed to take up his abode in the "Castle of the Sun" in the city of Victoria.

THE CIVIL WAR

The marquis' father lived in his feudal castle at Osaka, and in October 1868, when the Prince of Koshi sent orders to urge the Shogun to restore the power and administration of the mikados, after a lapse of 270 years, the marquis' father, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, sent a messenger to resign the administrative power in his favor. When this was noted among the dispirited of the Shogun great was the indignation of the Emperor, who was the present emperor. A few months later when the office of Shogun was abolished and the princes of Aizu and Satsuma were forbidden to enter the capital, because of their disloyalty, it became the retainers of the father, Prince Tokugawa Keikei, who arrived yesterday in Victoria, that he proposed to take up his abode in the "Castle of the Sun" in the city of Victoria.

THE CIVIL WAR

The marquis' father lived in his feudal castle at Osaka, and in October 1868, when the Prince of Koshi sent orders to urge the Shogun to restore the power and administration of the mikados, after a lapse of 270 years, the marquis' father, Prince Keiko Tokugawa, sent a messenger to resign the administrative power in his favor. When this was noted among the dispirited of the Shogun great was the indignation of the Emperor, who was the present emperor. A few months later when the office of Shogun was abolished and the princes of Aizu and Satsuma were forbidden to enter the capital, because of their disloyalty, it became the retainers of the father, Prince Tokugawa Keikei, who arrived yesterday in Victoria, that he proposed to take up his abode in the "Castle of the Sun" in the city of Victoria.

Advertisement for Campbell's Costume Sale Today. Features a woman in a dress and lists various clothing items and prices. Includes the text: 'Everything Ready-to-Wear for Ladies', 'The Home of the Dress Beautiful', 'Campbell's Costume Sale Today', and 'Elaborate and Beautiful Model Blouses from $2.25 Up'.

Advertisement for Butter That is Pure and Sweet. Includes the text: 'Butter That is Pure and Sweet', 'Is the kind that good housekeepers demand and the kind that a supply clerk will buy', and 'W.O. WALLACE, The Family Cash Grocery'.

Advertisement for Marmalade Oranges. Includes the text: 'Marmalade Oranges', 'The last of the season. You know how much delicious the luscious preserve is when made from the genuine Marmalade Oranges. Now is your time for I will clear them at 35c per dozen.', and 'W.O. WALLACE, The Family Cash Grocery'.

Advertisement for COOLING DRINKS. Includes the text: 'COOLING DRINKS For the Good Old Summer Time', 'Everything here that is excellent and seasonable. Rigid scrutiny reveals nothing but goodness at sight prices.', and 'DIXIE H. ROSS & COMPANY'.

Advertisement for Famous Stock Farm Sold. Includes the text: 'Famous Stock Farm Sold', 'Craigie Malins' stock farm, eight miles from Louisa and twenty-five miles from Regina, has changed hands.', and 'Rev. Mr. Rochester'.

Advertisement for Famous Stock Farm Sold. Includes the text: 'Famous Stock Farm Sold', 'Craigie Malins' stock farm, eight miles from Louisa and twenty-five miles from Regina, has changed hands.', and 'Rev. Mr. Rochester'.

Advertisement for Famous Stock Farm Sold. Includes the text: 'Famous Stock Farm Sold', 'Craigie Malins' stock farm, eight miles from Louisa and twenty-five miles from Regina, has changed hands.', and 'Rev. Mr. Rochester'.