

Lost His Hair, Beard and Mustache

Terrible Plight of a Pennsylvania Man Reported by a Prominent Citizen:

"About two years ago my hair, beard and mustache started to come out in spots. These spots were entirely bare of hair."

Seeing PARISIAN SAGE advertised, I purchased four bottles and after using two of the bottles, the hair came in until now I have as good a head of hair as I had before the trouble started.

I can truthfully recommend this preparation to any one for what it is recommended for. Sam Galder, Jamison City, Col. Co., Pa. Oct. 11, 1911.

Please bear in mind that PARISIAN SAGE is not guaranteed to grow hair on bald heads.

In Mr. Galder's case the hair root was not dead and there is no good reason why PARISIAN SAGE should not do just what he writes it did.

"The next time Mr. Galder came into my store after purchasing the PARISIAN SAGE," writes the druggist who sold him, "his appearance was so changed I did know him."

PARISIAN SAGE is without doubt the most efficient hair grower beautifier and dandruff cure in the world, and people who are wasting time with ordinary commercial tonics should wake up.

PARISIAN SAGE will banish dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp; will put life, luster and beauty into faded hair, or money back. It is a most delightful and refreshing tonic for men, women and children. Large bottle 50 cents at T. B. Taylor & Sons, and druggists the country over.

The N. B. Howden Est.

The Trustful Aviator.
"Modern politics," said an English clergyman, who is visiting this country, "is worse than modern business. You here in the States are so used to political corruption that you joke about it. I heard a joke about it on the boat coming over. An aviator—the joke ran—descended in a field and said to a rather well dressed individual: 'Here, mind my machine a minute, will you?' 'What?' the well dressed individual snarled. 'Mind your machine? Why, I'm a United States senator?' 'Well, what of it?' said the aviator. 'I'll trust you.'—Washington Star.

Think of It!
Two brothers, each of whom is nearly six feet and a half tall, were one day introduced by an acquaintance to a young lady. As she sat gazing up at the pair of giants in wonder and awe she exclaimed:
"Great heavens, suppose there had only been one of you!"—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Last Resort.
Matrimonial Agent—Yes, sir, I think we can suit you perfectly. Ah, our preliminary fee is 5 guineas. The Client—Five guineas! My dear laddie, don't be farcical. Why should I want to marry if I possessed all that money?—London Opinion.

Hard Work.
"I want you to understand that I got my money by hard work."
"Why, I thought it was left you by your uncle."
"So it was, but I had hard work getting it away from the lawyers."—Boston Transcript.

Complimentary.
Maud—Miss Oldun thinks that hotel clerk just lovely. Ethel—Why so? Maud—He wrote opposite her name on the hotel register, "Suite 16."—Boston Transcript.

Supply and Demand.
The Wife—Big checks for dresses will not be in demand this season. The Husband—Thank heaven!—Baltimore American.

RAPID AMERICANS.

An English Critic on Our Barber Shops and Rocking Chairs.

I cannot find that quickness is an American characteristic. What is mistaken for quickness is a kind of nervous fidgets, for the American is infinitely restless and nervous. It is shown in his passion for doing many things at once. The barber shop, a thing characteristically American, affords a wonderful example and circumstance for real rapidity and economy of time. The business man, still in his dramatic character of a locomotive pressed for time, hurries into the barber shop and extends himself in a chair, feet and hands outspread, a bootblack engaged on each boot, a manicurist on each hand and the barber himself operating on his head. But such are the seductions of the barber shop that he probably spends twenty minutes or half an hour there, as against the Englishman's four or five minutes.

It is time simply wasted, from a business point of view; that is to say, it is spent in sheer luxury. For the Americans, being among the cleanest people in the world, have a Roman sense of luxury in everything that appertains to washing and care of the body; and their lavatories and barber shops are like temples raised to some goddess of health and cleanliness. And, finally, it was America that invented that triumph in the achievement of two opposite things at once—the rocking chair. So restless is the American that even when he is resting he wants to be moving, and consequently he has achieved this infernal engine, the rocking chair, in which (when he is obliged to remain in one place for a time) he can indulge in a continuous movement which yet does not advance him an inch. He can thus be busy even while he is at rest.—Filson Young in English Review.

ANIMALS WITH HANDS.

Kangaroos Are Fond of Using Their Fore Feet in Feeding.

Kangaroos use their hands very readily to hold food in and to put it into their mouths. As their fore legs are so short that they have to browse in a stooping position, they seem pleased when able to secure a large bunch of cabbage or other vegetable provender and to hold it in their hands to eat. Sometimes the young kangaroo, looking out of its mother's pouch, catches one or two of the leaves which the old one drops, and the pair may be seen each nibbling at the salad held in their hands, one, so to speak, "one floor" above the other.

The slow, deliberate clasping and unclasping of a chameleon's feet look like the movements which the hands of a sleep walker might make were he trying to creep downstairs. The chameleon's are almost deformed hands, yet they have a superficial resemblance to the feet of parrots, which more than other birds use their feet for many of the purposes of a hand when feeding. To see many of the smaller rodents—ground squirrels, prairie dogs and marmots—hold food, usually in both paws, is to learn a lesson in the dextrous use of hands without thumbs.

Nothing more readily suggests the momentary impression that a pretty little monkey is "a man and a brother" than when he stretches out his neat little palm, fingers and thumb and, with all the movements proper to the civilized mode of greeting, insists on shaking hands.—London Graphic.

IGNORANCE IS A CURSE.—"Know thyself" is a good admonition, whether referring to one's physical condition or moral habits. The man who is acquainted with himself will know how to act when any disarrangement in his condition manifests itself. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is a chief and simple remedy for the eradication of pain from the system and for the cure of all bronchial troubles.

FOR FAMILY USE

An Ideal Remedy for Coughs, Sore Throat, Catarrh, Weak Chest.

After having made a special study of the treatment of the throat and lungs for twenty years, Prof. D. Jackson states that in his opinion no preparation for general family use is so efficient so healing, so certain to cure as Catarrhoxone.

As his reasons for making this claim for Catarrhoxone, Dr. Jackson says: "Catarrhoxone is free from opium. The patient can breathe its rich, balsamic fumes direct to the diseased spot."

"It is a remedy that treats and cures causes—prevents disease spreading."

"Reaches the innermost recesses of the throat, nose, bronchial tubes, and lungs."

"Alleviates chest soreness. Stops coughing instantly. Prevents bronchial irritations. Relieves clogged nostrils. Cures sniffles and nasal catarrh. Prevents La Grippe."

"Has proven itself a cure for weak lungs, loss of voice, speakers' sore throat, asthma, bronchitis, catarrh, coughs, colds, and winter ills."

Catarrhoxone is unquestionably the world's greatest breathable cold, cough, and catarrh medicine, and being free from all drowsy drugs, entirely safe for children and old folks; it makes an ideal family remedy. Recommended by the medical profession, and sold by all reliable dealers. Beware of imitations, get "Catarrhoxone" only; large size lasts two months, and is guaranteed, price $1; smaller sizes 25c and 50c. By mail from The Catarrhoxone Company, Kingston, Ont.

Concrete-mixing is Easily Learned

It is no more difficult than mixing bran mash, once the simple instructions have been read.

The materials—sand, crushed rock or gravel and cement—each play a separate part. The rock provides the bulk of volume and the sand fills in all crevices between the pieces of rock or gravel. The cement, mixed with water, forms a "bond," in other words a rocky "glue," that binds the other materials firmly together.

and read the careful directions for mixing Concrete for all purposes. It also describes in detail hundreds of ways in which Concrete may be used to make the farm more comfortable, more convenient, more profitable and more valuable.
