

I N D E X.

- sists; their treaties; audience given to ambassadors, ii. 271, &c.
- Niagara*, River; its description, i. 341. Project for a settlement on that river; fruitless opposition of the English, i. 343. Description of the country of Niagara, i. 345. Description of the falls of Niagara; observations on, i. 352, &c.
- Name*, observation on the names of the Indian chiefs, ii. 23. Of the ceremony of imposing names among these people: observations on that subject, ii. 55, 56.
- Noquets*, Indians; bay of the Noquets, ii. 60.
- Newfoundland*. Of the inhabitants of that island, i. 273.

O.

- Observations* on the heat and on the latitudes, ii. 355, 356. Observations on the colony of Cape François, in St. Domingo, ii. 373.
- Oiseau Mouche* of Canada, in what it differs from the Colibry of the island, i. 241.
- Ontario*. Description of the southern coast of lake Ontario, i. 326, 327.
- Onneyouth*. Courage of an Onneyouth captain, burnt by the Hurons, i. 377, &c.
- Orleans New*; its description, ii. 273, 274. Remarks on its situation; little depth of soil below that city, ii. 289, 290. Its condition at the departure of the author, ii. 291.
- Onabuche* river; its situation, ii. 241.
- Oumas*, an Indian nation, ii. 284.
- Outagamies*, Indians, i. 287.
- Outaways*, Indians, i. 285.
- Oaks* of two kinds in Canada.
- Oysters* of two sorts on the coast of Florida, ii. 336.

P.

- Parrots* of Louisiana, ii. 205.
- Passengers*, escaped from the shipwreck of the Adour; what passed between them and the Indians of the Martyrs, ii. 322. They suspect the crew, ii. 323. Several saved by interposition of providence, ii. 324. Anxiety which the Indians occasion them, ii. 325.
- Partridges*,