WE HEARD A MAN ASK, the other day, "When will this incessant begging for money" (he meant for church purposes) "cease? It is call upon call, now for this, now for that, and I am sick and weary of it."

The answer is as easy as the question. It will never cease. It is a part of the law of the situation. While their remains a heathen on earth, an unfaithful Christian, a sick man, soul-sick or body-sick, an orphan child, a cripple, an out-cast, a wretched creature anywhere with any wretchedness, the demands will still be made, and they will still be answered worse or better.

When all men on earth are biessed, when the sunlight of heaven gilds the hills and valleys of the world, and wraps the blue before.

Till then let the demands be made, and made boldly. The situation is plain. God owns a man, and all he has, and is, and will be. Ask him to give for one of God's purposes. You only ask him to accept the situation, to acknowledge the facts. is no call for timidity. Let the applicant do his duty. It rests with him to whom he applies whether he will do his. He should at all events be turnished with frequent and favorable opportunities.

The sins of a teacher are teachers of sin. The teacher who neglects prayer seems to expect that he can do God's work-convert a soul.

An ignorant teacher is like a blind torchseas in eternal calm, then may men rest bearer with an unlighted torch; he holds from their working and their giving-not it up but it gives no light, and he does not not know it.
