A SIMPLE BENEDY.

A COTTEMPOUNDER of the London Field saggests an easy and, he says, most offer-saggests are easy to be says, most offer-says of gotting rid of slups and snally, not shad full slose to the plants which they seatroy most, and then, about to no eleven clock at night, so round and put a handful of quicklime on each heap; the number of sings found killed in the moraing will be almost inseredible. Slays profer bran to any fruit or vegetable, and will congregate on times heaps from all parts of the garden.

Theority-five years ago I was terribly afflicted with childhains, and had been for affleon years, being laid up some winters for reads, and a siter bring many remedies attuabled on the following if Seak the feet in hot water for at least half an hour, occasionally adding hot water to keep up the least all that can be ondured. After whying the feet hold them to a hot stove just as hot as can be ondured another half hour occasionally bathing them with some healing limiment. Repeat this for three or four nights. I have never suffored an hour since this trial was made.—P. B. S., in Country Gentleman.

NEW METHOD OF PRREERVING GRAPES.

A French vine-dressor preserves grapes through the cuttre winter, their freshness beauty and associated April. His method is thus described. The grapes are left upon the vine as also as possible, care being lad, however, to cut them before the first fresh. The bunels, in outling, is und detached from the stalk or cane, but the latter is cut set that the cluster has attached to its after entiting, two or three knots and joints below that the cluster has attached to its after entiting, two or three knots and joints below the cluster and two above. The upper and is thou covered with wax, to preven the exporation of the fluid and largest not appear to the control of the fluid and largest not be compared to the control of the fluid and largest not be controlled to the control of the fluid and largest not be controlled to the control of the fluid and largest not be controlled to the control of the fluid and the control of the fluid with water. In the water is a little wood clarson, which prevents it ferm becoming impur. The cork is covered with sealing wax around the stair, so as to close the bottle, water and sirtleful. The bottles are the placed as a sir class prevent in the bottles and the control of the

How different this edible, in our day, from the "Love Apples," of fifty years ago, when tender methers warned their children, as they went to play in the fields and lanes, not to eat the love-apples, because they were poison! But we prophesy that the difference between the love-apples of yore, and the tematoes now consumed at our tables, is not greater than will mark them the next half century. We do not mean by this that the entire crop will become time as a valuable as now; for some kinds as valuable as now; for some kinds as a valuable as now; for some kinds as a valuable as now; for some kinds as a valuable as now; for some kinds as the contract of the contract of the contract of the plant, while others, by indifference about their seed, and by careless the value of the plant, while others, by indifference about their seed, and by careless cultivation, are degrading the tomato into the same condition as when prudent mothers forbade their shifters to sait. That the formate is a health-gring food, we have useful all physicians as agreed; and we nearly all physicians as agreed; and we therefore urge all sowers of it to cultivate the plants in the best manner. In doing this they will Lave their sure reward.—

A man apparently in the advanced stages of consumption became very fond of ealt, so that he carried it is his east pocket, which he carried it is a set pocket, which is a set of the carried it is a set pocket, which is a line and allowed it of discolve in his month; he used a tables pounding or more of it overy day. The reserved with good health afteward. It way form of sekness if there is a craving for sait, it may be cafely considered as an indication that unture demands that dement, and that the authent is, in part at least, owing to the want of it. In some forms of serve and wounds which are slow to heal, or which give out had oder, a vary free which give out had oder, a vary free wat of a set a long or on the food, will often the serve and we have. There is no repugaance in its see.

Mr. T. B. Whytohead, York, who was sagaged in the Pacific Island trade in 1803, writes to the Time to corroborate the statements of the Communists regardling the Jesult missionares. Hestates that he among natives and Europeans an "almost sulversal and strong feeling of animosity tewarth the Jesuit missions. The ground opported to be the same as that uponwhich the particular of the particular the Jesuit missions. The ground opported to be the same as that uponwhich Communist principers have based their contents of the Jesuit missions were simply trading depoin and that they enrich their cooley by the labours of their "converts."
