

Tyler, John, president of the United States; message respecting the Sandwich Islands, 372. Messages respecting Oregon, 378.

U

Ukase of the Russian government, prohibiting vessels of other nations from frequenting the North Pacific coasts, 322. Correspondence respecting it, between the secretary of state of the United States and the Russian plenipotentiary, at Washington, 333. Protest of the British government against it, 335.

Ulloa, Francisco, voyage through the Gulf of California and along the west coast, 56.

Ulloa, Antonio, secret information afforded by him to the Spanish government, respecting the state of the Spanish provinces in South America, in 1740, 105.

Unalashka Island, 36. Visited by Cook, 156, who there first meets with Russians, 155, United States, first voyages of their citizens to the Pacific and to China, 179. First voyages to the north-west coast of America, 180. Obtain possession of Louisiana, 276. War with Great Britain, 301. Ended by treaty of Ghent, 306. Their citizens alone can occupy Oregon, 403.

Urdaneta, Andres de, discovers the mode of crossing the Pacific from west to east, 65. Supposed to have discovered a northern passage between the Atlantic and Pacific, 77.

Utah Salt Lake, 20.

V

Vancouver, George, sails from England on an exploring voyage to the Pacific, and as commissioner on the part of Great Britain to receive the lands and buildings to be restored by Spain, agreeably to the Nootka convention, 217. Reaches the north-west coast of America, 232. Declares that no river or harbor of consequence is to be found between the 40th and the 48th degree of latitude, 233. Meets Gray, and receives from him an account of the discovery of a great river, 232, which he disbelieves, 233. Enters the Strait of Fuca; explores Admiralty Inlet, and takes possession of the whole surrounding territory, 238. Remarks on this act; meets Galiano and Valdes, and continues the survey of the strait, 239. Passes through the strait, and arrives at Nootka, 240. Claims the discovery of the Washington or North Marquesas Islands for Hergest, though he knew them to have been first seen by the Americans, 242.

Negotiations with the Spanish commissioner Quadra, 242. Claims the whole territory around Nootka for Great Britain, 243. His unfair synopsis of the letter of Gray and Ingraham, 244, 417. Receives accounts and charts of Gray's discoveries from Quadra; sends Broughton to examine Columbia River, 247. Unworthy attempt to take to himself the merit of discovering the Columbia, 248. At the Sandwich Islands, executes persons falsely charged with the murder of his officers, 249. Examines a large portion of the north-west coast, and returns to the Sandwich Islands, 250. Pretended cession of Owyhee to him for his sovereign, 251. Circumstances connected with that affair, 252. Returns to the north-west coast, of which he completes the survey, 254. Names given by him to places, 255. Returns to England; his death; great value of his journal; his hatred of Americans, and constant injustice towards them, 256.

Vizcaino, Sebastian, exploring voyage along the north-west coast, 91. Desires to found colonies on those coasts, but dies before his plans could be executed, 92.

W

Washington's Island, so called by Gray, who first explored its east coast, 199. See Queen Charlotte's Island.

Washington or North Marquesas Islands, discovered by Ingraham, 226. Discovery claimed by Marchand, who, however, admits the priority of Ingraham's claim, 228. Discovery claimed by Vancouver for Hergest, 242. Occupied by the French, 374. Medal granted by the King of France to the crew of Marchand's ship for discovering the island, 228.

Webster, Daniel, secretary of state of the United States, concludes a treaty with Lord Ashburton, settling the boundaries east of the Lake of the Woods, 378.

Whidbey surveys Bulfinch's Harbor, 246.

Wiccanish, king of Nittinat, 167.

Wilkes, Charles, his voyage of exploration in the Pacific, 375.

Willamet, river and valley, 26. First settlements of citizens of the United States there, 361.

Wrangel, Admiral Von, Governor of Russian America, prevents the British from occupying the mouth of the Stikine river, 363.

His work on Russian America, 329. His explanation of the north coast of Asia, 328.

Wyeth, Nathaniel, endeavors to establish trading posts on the Columbia, 359. Great value of his accounts of Oregon, 360.