

SHOULD BE A LAW TO PROTECT GIRLS

Miss E. C. Elwood Protested Against Conditions Which Forced Long Hours on Factory Workers.

INDUSTRIAL QUESTION

Wage Problem Is Driving Girls to Hell on Earth, Says Dr. T. Albert Moore.

Two interesting addresses were heard last night at the Fred Victor Mission, when Dr. T. Albert Moore spoke on "Methodism and Her Social Work," and Miss E. C. Elwood presented an address on "The Home in Relation to Social Welfare."

It was Miss Elwood's opinion that if all homes were ideal, there would be no need for social duty. She touched upon various social questions. The house problem was a very important one and should engage the attention of the people. Houses of poor people should not be located in the congested areas of the city, but they should be built in the outskirts in order to bring about such a scheme it would be necessary to have rapid transportation facilities.

The health of the child is one of the most important questions that should engage the attention of social workers, she said. This fact is being appreciated as shown by the decrease of infant mortality. She protested against child labor. There were a great many children who were taken out of school at a too early age and sent to work. She strongly protested against the conditions which forced young girls who labored in factories to work all day and overtime two or three nights a week. There should be a law which states, not that girls may work so many hours a day, but that girls must not work more than a certain number of hours each day, she said.

Members of Churches. Kenneth Douglas declared that in 29 factories which employ girls, the owners, with two exceptions, are members of churches, and it was his opinion that this question should be preached from the pulpit.

Dr. T. Albert Moore gave a resume of all the social work done from the time of John Wesley, the founder of Methodism, up to the present time. As usual, he was strong in his denunciation of the liquor traffic. "There is no one more pleased than the Methodists that 70 bars were out of yesterday," he said. "We look forward to the day when there will be total prohibition."

Throbs With Pain. "The industrial world is one that throbs with pain and we must do something to relieve it," he said. "This wage problem is driving young girls down to hell on earth."

It was his opinion that the average girl factory worker in Toronto was saving of a character far more important than the saving of cash. "The great trouble with social workers is that they do not know what they are going to reform," he said. "They see the evil, but they do not comprehend it. Therefore, we should have a continuous social survey of the city in order that we may become intimately acquainted with all the facts connected with social conditions."

"RUBBISH" SAYS COCHRANE. Has No Intention of Resigning from Cabinet.

OTTAWA, Jan. 7.—(Special).—"I have never heard of such a thing, and I know nothing whatever of what you tell me. It's pure rubbish." In this characteristic fashion Hon. Frank Cochrane, minister of railways, said of the rumor that he is to be made Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario. The suggestion apparently was not even pleasing to the minister of railways, who is evidently well satisfied with the more arduous duties of his present office.

Weak Blood Made Strong

NOT BY STIMULANTS, BUT BY SCIENCE.

How do you think weak blood should be made strong? Well, when you come to think of it, common sense seems to say, weak blood is made strong by having fed to it the elements to which it is composed, so that when the blood cannot get the proper nourishment it is made strong by the addition of the elements which supply the blood-making properties that are ordinary in nature. This is just what Sanguinol does, for it is composed of the elements of iron, etc., etc. that the life-giving red corpuscles are made of.

No false stimulants used to whip the heart into increased activity and make you think your blood is getting stronger, only to find out after you have stopped taking the remedy that you are as badly off as before. There is not a particle of alcohol in Sanguinol, not a trace of harmful drugs, and the ordinary composing elements of the blood-making corpuscles, of which your nervous system is built. Is not this an ideal tonic? Isn't it worth a trial?

Get Sanguinol today at any of the Owl Drug Stores and know again the joy of perfect strength and health. 70 Queen East, 1501 Dundas Street, 481 Parliament Street, 282 College Street, 990 Balfour Street, 1215 Bloor Street, West, 282 Dundas Street, West, 282 Dundas Street, West, and E. CANADIAN SHIP-OWNERS CANNOT GET REDRESS Act Passed in the United States Protecting Exporters Stirs Up Protests--No Remedy in Sight.

OTTAWA, Jan. 7.—(Special).—The recent amending by the United States authorities of the Harter Act, which sought to give greater protection to United States exporters against carelessness or negligence on the part of shipping companies and masters, has brought a loud protest to the Canadian Government from Canadian shipping interests on the great lakes. The Harter bill was introduced in the United States Senate some years ago. It provided more just protection especially when it could be shown that the loss was entailed through the negligence of the part of the shippers. It also provided that if the goods were shipped in foreign bottoms the claim of the shipper must be settled according to the laws of the United States as embodied in the Harter Act and not by the laws of the country to which the vessel carrying the freight belonged or was registered in.

No Action Likely. Owners of Canadian vessels on the great lakes have protested to the government that all claims against them for losses should be settled in Canadian courts and according to Canadian laws.

Hon. J. D. Hazen, minister of marine and fisheries, has the matter under consideration. It is believed, however, that Canada can take no action in the matter, and that the Canadian shipping men's claims are not upheld by either right or international law.

A bill almost identical to the Harter Act and with the same object in view with respect to Canadian shipping was introduced in the senate by the late Senator Campbell three years ago, but it was killed by the Liberal majority in the commons.

GOOD PROGRESS MADE BY GERMAN EXPLORER

Lieut. Filchner, Back From Antarctic Regions, Reports Discovery of New Land.

BERLIN, Jan. 7.—(Can. Press).—Lieut. Wilhelm Filchner, the German Antarctic explorer, returned with his expedition today to Buenos Ayres, after an absence of 15 months in the southern seas. Lieut. Filchner cables from Buenos Ayres that the expedition has been most successful. He discovered new land, which he named Prince Luitpold Land, and also an ice barrier which he named K.W.I. Wilhelm I. continuing his explorations.

It was not Lieut. Filchner's intention to attempt to reach the south pole. His declared purpose was to learn if possible the character of the land in the Antarctic circle and whether it was really a continent or consisted of islands divided by frozen arms of the sea. His vessel was equipped with wireless telegraph apparatus. He carried a number of hardy Khirgiz ponies for work on the ice and the expedition was also provided with motor sleds. He was to follow the route marked out by Sir Ernest Shackleton and to form a depot at the half-way point to Shackleton's winter quarters.

R. T. WOODSIDE DROPS DEAD. Mills Superintendent at Cornwall Ruptures Blood Vessel.

CORNWALL, Jan. 7.—(Special).—R. T. Woodside, superintendent of the Stormont mills of the Canadian Cottons Limited, dropped dead on the way home from the mill shortly after 6.30 o'clock tonight. He was in his usual good health and worked all day today. It is probable that death occurred from the rupture of a blood vessel in the brain.

Mr. Woodside came originally from Milltown, N.B. He went to Hamilton and then to Merriton, Ont., and came here nearly eight years ago. He leaves a wife and six children, one an infant of only a few days.

Dr. Hamilton, coroner, decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

MANY CHINESE STUDENTS ARE COMING TO CANADA

Seven Hundred Now on Way to Enter Schools in Canada—Some Coming to Toronto.

REGINA, Jan. 7.—Fifteen hundred Chinese students left Hongkong two weeks ago, and are now on their way to North America to enter schools in Canada and the United States. Of the total number about 700 will come directly to this country, according to Mr. Geryee, Chinese agent here, and will take up courses of study at the big schools in Toronto and other educational centres.

This migration of students is the result of a promise made by the officials of the new government of China to the fathers of families prior to the recent war of independence. A man who enlisted and who had children, the father promised that if he was killed on the battlefield his children would be educated at the expense of the government, and his wife given an allowance until her death or re-marriage. The boys are to be maintained in good schools until they reach the age of 18 years, and the girls wish to attend school they will be maintained there until they are 20 years old. Altogether practically all the money is furnished in contributions by wealthy Chinese, the government has kept its promise, and the present seekers for those whose fathers were killed in the war against the old regime.
