

TALES OF DESTINY

BY EDMUND MITCHELL

6/-

In "Tales of Destiny" Mr. Mitchell has furnished an extraordinarily vivid and haunting set of new Arabian Nights. The time is 1580, in glorious Akbar's reign, and eight of various creeds and professions are assembled in the interior of a caravanserai in Fathpur Sikir, the new capital of the Empire. There they pass the time in relating each his own startling and unusual experience. All are amusingly and charmingly told in pleasant narrative form, by one who has intimate knowledge of the East and Eastern men.

---

THE IMPOSSIBLE SHOT

BY
R. RAMSAY
Author of "The Straw," "The Key of the Door," etc.
With Frontispiece in Colour

6/-

A hunting story, vividly and vigorously told. The hero is of noble birth, but forced by stress of circumstances to leave his fine old country mansion, and his love-story with Julia, a charming little protégée of his tenant, makes a delightful and spirited narrative.

---

London: CONSTABLE & CO. Ltd. 10 Orange Street