PROPERTY PUT IN HER NAME, BUT PAPERS WERE STOLEN FROM HER.

HAMILTON, Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Justice Middleton had an interesting case to deal with at the assizes on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Mackie, who was formerly Mrs. R. N. Kronk, was given possession of her late husband's property for which she sued the executors of his estate. The plaintiff stated that her husband was an invalid, and that, as she had the property in question. They later went to the west for the benefit of his health, but on returning east, she discovered that her husband's relatives were trying to get possession of his property. She asked her husband to put the property in her name, and this he did. However, not long afterwards the papers were stolen from her, and when her husband died, he left the property to other relatives.

Sermons on Licentiousness.
In the course of a sermon on sensuality, one of the seven deadly sins, to-night, Rev. J. A. Wilson of St. Andrew's Church said that the Crippen, Anderson and McNulty-Nolan murder cases were all the result of sensuality. He hoped that the authorities here would not adopt the segregation system as a means of stamping out vice, as it had been a failure in Winnipeg. While other sins had killed tens of thousands, and the insane asylums were full of those who were a prey to it.

Rev. E. B. Lancelley delivered a warm sermon in First Methodist Church to-night on intemperance, gambling and licentiousness. He used for his text a quotation, which he ascribed over his chair after his election, and the result was that during his administration Toronto enjoyed the greatest prosperity it had ever known. He said the men who raced horses were after the cups and stakes, and not for the improvement of the breed of horses. He said licentiousness was a leprosy that walks abroad in the great cities, and he regretted that the police left open places of iniquity and arrested the vagrant on the streets. He also said that the license law was being violated in the city. He said that two policemen had been retained on the force after being convicted of drinking, and under such circumstances the law could be expected with impunity. The conclusion he asked was returned could be violated when judges occupy public positions as directors of jockey clubs.

It has been intimated to Mr. Hoodless that he should enter the field, several of his friends having assured him that he would pull a large vote. Mr. Hoodless set at rest all talk in that connection when he made the following statement: "You can announce for me most decidedly that I will not be a majority candidate. The condition of my health would prevent me entering the field."

Is the Canadian Northern Railway going to abandon the proposed north shore route for the Toronto, Niagara & Western Railway? This is the question of City Engineer MacCallum, who announced yesterday that the company's engineers were working on the north shore, revising the route. It is believed that the company has no chance of securing approval of the railway commission for that route, and that it will endeavor to secure a right-of-way on a higher level.

NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA A CURE FOR ALL.

Not a Patent Cure-All, Nor a Modern Miracle, But Simply a Rational Cure for Dyspepsia.
In these days of hurry and hurry and deception, the manufacturers of patent medicines, as a rule, seem to think that their medicines will not sell unless they claim that it will cure every disease under the sun. And they never think of leaving out dyspepsia and stomach troubles. They are sure to claim that their nostrum is a radical cure, and to cure every dyspeptic and he need look no further.
In the face of these absurd claims it is refreshing to note that the properties of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been carefully refrained from making any undue claims or false representations regarding the merits of this most excellent remedy for dyspepsia and stomach troubles. They make but one claim for it, and that is, that for indigestion and various stomach troubles Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a radical cure. They go no further than this, and any man or woman suffering from indigestion, chronic or nervous dyspepsia, who will give the remedy a trial will find that nothing is claimed for it that the facts will not fully sustain.
It is a modern discovery, composed of harmless vegetable ingredients capable of taking to the weakest and most delicate stomach. Its great success in curing stomach troubles is due to the fact that the medicinal properties are such that it will digest the most wholesome food taken into the stomach, no matter whether the stomach is in good working order or not. It rests the over-worked organs, it regulates the body, the blood, the nerves, creating a healthy appetite, giving refreshing sleep and the blessings which always accompany a good digestion and proper assimilation of food.
In using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets no dieting is required. Simply eat plenty of wholesome food, and take these Tablets with each meal, thus assisting and resting the stomach, which rapidly regains its proper digestive power, when the Tablets will be no longer required.
Nervous Dyspepsia is simply a condition in which some portion or portions of the nervous system are not properly nourished. Good digestion invigorates the nervous system and every organ in the body.
Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists at 60¢ per package.

NORTH TORONTO PEOPLE TAKE OVER TROUBLES

Endorse Sewage Scheme For General Rather Than Local Tax —County Briefs.

NORTH TORONTO, Nov. 12.—(Special.)—The second weekly meeting of the Ratepayers' Association, held in the town hall on Saturday night, was like that of the preceding one of the week before, fairly well attended, and marked through by the best of good humor.
The dual subjects, sewage and annexation, were discussed pro and con for the best part of three hours, and the neither side could claim any great majority. Judged from the feeling displayed, the anti's were admittedly in the ascendancy, outnumbering slightly the friends of annexation.
President T. W. Banton was in the chair, and as everybody predicted, made a rattling presiding officer, keeping the orators well in hand and dealing out even-handed justice all round.
Probably 40 people in all were in the room, among them two members of the town council, Messrs. Howe and Reid, and by the way one of the humorous incidents of the evening came about thru this very fact.
Councillor Frank Howe had made a stinging speech in favor of charging up the cost of a sewage system against the general rate, instead of a general rate and local improvement, as is generally favored among the other members of the town council.
The cost of installing the trunk sewer and disposal tanks, together with the putting down of all pipes over the length of the sewerage system, against the general rate, said Councillor Howe. "Why not go a little further and make the whole thing general, and put down the whole system all over the town as soon after the passing of the by-law as is consistent?"
He charged that Toronto was a "local improvement cursed city," and that under the local tax man was put to all the other suburbs as well as to the general rate, and annoyance and delay in securing any improvement.
"I tell you frankly where I am on this question," said Councillor Howe. "I intend to vote my fellow councillors out of the office, and stand on this matter, too, and Councillor Reid, who is here, can tell you just where he stands." There was a lot of applause following this statement, after which Councillor Reid (who, by the way, is chairman of the sewage committee), rose and said: "Do I have to define my stand in this matter to-night? Councillor Howe's reply to the latter is quick as a flash, replied. "You can just please yourself, Councillor Reid. You can answer it, fairly and squarely before the Ratepayers' Association to-night, or you can hedge around on the matter if you want to."
The ready repartee of the member for Davisville caused a lot of amusement, but the worthy chairman of the sewage committee failed to enunciate his platform. Probably he will do so at the meeting of council on Tuesday evening.
But there was a lot of good information thrown out by some of the speakers, the chairman in the outset stating approval of the time favoring the immediate prosecution of the sewage scheme.
First Vice-President Adamson also put himself on record in this matter, and lamb to travel around with his good grasp of local affairs that he did not altogether endorse the movement, neither did he condemn it very strongly. "I do not see where we would be any better off in the end. We get nothing from the town council now," he admitted, "and it is dangerous to the health of the city to have a Bedford Park, and annexation could not be any worse." Still he was not very enthusiastic over the idea of annexation.
Two or three others spoke up for the return of union with the city. Mr. Richards opposed annexation on the ground of restrictive legislation on the part of the city which would render North Toronto a less desirable place of residence.
Chairman "Bob" Ferguson of the local board of health would not divulge his views concerning annexation, but he made a strong plea for local improvement versus a general rate to cover the cost of installing the sewage system.
W. G. Ellis, in a talk replete with information, and with a strong bias against annexation, conjured up many evils as likely to accrue from a casting in of lots with the big municipality.
Did the city help us any in the cemetery thing? said Mr. Ellis. "Not a bit of it, and in all our dealings with the Metropolitan Railway we have shown the city that they have more to gain at Ottawa than they. We are well able to handle our own problems, railway or otherwise. Just as well as the city. They cannot handle their own railway, how can they hope to handle ours? And another thing," said Mr. Ellis, "they have never shown any disposition to take us in."

That a single passenger escaped death is remarkable. The train was running into the city at high rate of speed, it is said, and just as it rounded the curve, at the East Main-street crossing, it crashed into the street car. Conductor Vanhorn of the street car was standing between the Michigan Central double tracks. He had signalled his car ahead. Vanhorn says he did not see the oncoming train or hear it until it was directly upon him. It was then too late to stop his car.
The train hit the front end of the car, tearing it into pieces. Mangled passengers, living and dead, were carried on the front of the engine for nearly a block before the train was brought to a stop. Motorman Abbott, with both legs cut off, was pulled from under the engine. Palpitation of The Heart.

When the heart begins to beat irregularly or intermittently, palpitate and throbs, skip beats, beats fast for a time, then go slow as to seem almost to stop, it causes great anxiety and alarm.
The least excitement or exertion seems to affect it.
Many people are kept in a state of morbid fear of death, become weak, worn and miserable, through this unnatural action of the heart.
To all such sufferers Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills can give prompt and permanent relief.
Mrs. John Thompson, Mill Cove, N.B., writes:—"Just a few lines to let you know what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have done for me. I have been troubled with weakness and palpitation of the heart, would have severe choking spells, and could scarcely lie down at all. I tried many remedies but got none to answer my case like your pills did. I can recommend them highly to all suffering with heart and nerve trouble."

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Nov. 12.—Six persons, including a woman, were killed, four of them, it is thought will die, as a result of a street car on the Kalamazoo city lines of the Michigan United Railways Company being run down last night by a fast west-bound express train on the Michigan Central Railroad. All of the dead and injured were passengers on the street car.
The dead: Ward Abbott, motorman, aged 25 years; Wm. F. Schaffer, 48 years old; Miss Elvira Craig, 20; Geo. M. Norman, 49; Theodore Mosk, 28; J. P. Lang, 85. All of the dead except Mosk, who was from South Haven, Michigan, lived in Kalamazoo.
Fatally injured: Miss Jacoba Vroegendewey, aged 18, internally injured and burned; Miss Cora Frenthway, aged 15, found early this morning beside the track unconscious, terribly bruised and cut; Miss Florence Wilnot, 23, skull crushed and body badly bruised; Miss Clara Crawford, 20, burned, crushed and possibly internally injured. All are residents of Kalamazoo.
That a single passenger escaped death is remarkable. The train was running into the city at high rate of speed, it is said, and just as it rounded the curve, at the East Main-street crossing, it crashed into the street car. Conductor Vanhorn of the street car was standing between the Michigan Central double tracks. He had signalled his car ahead. Vanhorn says he did not see the oncoming train or hear it until it was directly upon him. It was then too late to stop his car.
The train hit the front end of the car, tearing it into pieces. Mangled passengers, living and dead, were carried on the front of the engine for nearly a block before the train was brought to a stop. Motorman Abbott, with both legs cut off, was pulled from under the engine. The living were lifted from the front of the engine, and, with those taken from the ruins of the street car, were hurried to hospitals.
