JOHN CAMERON, President and Man. Dir. London, Tuesday, Oct. 2, 1896.

The New Minister. It is now well understood that Hon. Clifford Sifton will be the Minister of the Interior in the Laurier Administration.

Mr. Sifton is only in his 36th year, but he has for a considerable time been ranked as one of the ablest minds in the Government of Manitoba.

The Duties on Oil. The Hamilton Herald professes to be bewildered because The Advertiser "rejoiced" over the failure of Mr. Davin, Sir C. H. Tupper, and their associate Conservatives to have it declared that there shall be no duty on foreign oil...

Our contemporary professes to believe that The Advertiser stands not by its own principles in regard to the question of tariff. Such anxiety on that score is unwarranted. The Advertiser is in favor of a tariff for revenue.

Four weeks from today the United States Presidential election takes place. The candidates doubtless wish that the contest ended tomorrow. It is wearing.

Not Coal. But Anthracite. Some months ago, the report was sent out that anthracite coal had been discovered in Algoma. The report was denied by the Bureau of Mining.

The St. James' Gazette thus refers to Mr. Gladstone and his recent wonderful speech at Liverpool in denunciation of the Turkish Sultan: "So far as physical vigor is concerned, Mr. Gladstone bore the speech wonderfully."

St. Nicholas for October, which is splendidly illustrated, has a long list of good things—verse, pictures and text, all calculated to endear it to the young people of the family who watch for its coming...

It is disappointing to find that the deposit is not real coal, as reported. No one would rejoice more than the director of the Mining Bureau if such a discovery were made, but geologists do not hold out hopes that this addition to our great mineral wealth will be made.

President Van Horne, of the C. P. R., is about to go on a tour of the Northwest. The C. P. R. magnate has great faith in the Territories, as well as in the Pacific Province.

Mr. Cl. Mercer Adam, the well-known Canadian author, formerly of Toronto, now resides in Chicago, where, besides other literary labor, he is doing great work as editor of Self-Culture, and secretary of the Home University League.

A Long-Continued Strike.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Toronto Telegram announces that Hon. Clarke Wallace did not attend a single Government caucus during the recent session.

Mr. Wallace, it seems, is still at it—gerheads with Dr. Montague. It was pretty strongly insinuated by Mr. Wallace, during the exposure of the "conspiracy" last winter, that the member for Haldimand had scarcely been acting the part of a friend.

Montague last winter solemnly asserted he had begun at once, have never been heard of since. But the rupture, naturally enough, continues, and Mr. Wallace has given it out to his friends that while the great anonymous letter mystery remains unsettled he will not play around the cellar door of the Opposition.

Mr. Martineau has arrived at Washington, and has begun his duties as apostolic delegate to the United States, in succession to Cardinal Satolli. There is some prospect that his supervision may extend to the Catholic population of Canada.

Killed by a Fall.

Fatal Accident at a Chatham Hotel. Disastrous Explosion at Dent, Kent County.

Chatham, Ont., Oct. 2.—A sad accident occurred at the Idlewild Hotel on Saturday, which resulted in the death of Thomas Kendry. Mr. Kendry, who has boarded at the Idlewild for some time, on Saturday morning, wishing to adjust something on the wall of his room, stood on a chair. While reaching up the chair slipped, and he was thrown violently down, his side striking heavily against the end of a trunk.

Several of his ribs were broken, one of them penetrating his lung, and causing intense agony. Little hope of his recovery was entertained from the moment that the extent of his injuries became known, and at 9 o'clock death relieved his sufferings. The deceased was a well-known citizen, and for some time kept a carpet weaving store in this city. His son is member of Parliament for West Peterboro.

Chatham, Ont., Oct. 2.—At Dent, a village three miles east of Merlin, Saturday night, Peters' mill was blown up by a boiler explosion, and Solomon Gray, the assistant, was killed, and the proprietor, George Peters, was badly injured. The building was completely wrecked. Gray was found 25 yards from the mill, terribly mangled, but still alive. Peters will recover. The two men were working together in the mill, and it is supposed that they allowed the water in the boiler to run too low. Gray leaves a wife and three children.

DIED IN JAIL. James Gambio of Watford Blazes Himself With a Knife. Simcoe, Ont., Oct. 2.—Sunday morning at his home at Watford, James Gambio, a 40-year-old man, attempted to commit suicide, but was caught in the act, after inflicting some dangerous wounds with a knife. He was brought to the jail here, and yesterday morning was found dead in his cell, corner of the jail, and a jury was summoned to investigate. The man was subject to epileptic fits, and it was thought one of them that he tried to kill himself.

IMPORTANT RULING. Regarding the Arrest of Benj. Vanzant. Chatham, Ont., Oct. 2.—A decision of wide interest was given in the police court yesterday morning, when the adjourned case against Benjamin Vanzant was reached. It will be remembered that a Division Court warrant for contempt of court was issued against Vanzant, and placed in the hands of Bailiff Theo. Nelson for execution. Nelson was unable to effect the arrest, and the warrant was returned over to County Constable McGregor. When McGregor attempted to arrest Vanzant, the latter pulled a revolver and threatened to do McGregor injury if he persisted in carrying out the warrant. Vanzant was arrested, charged with carrying a dangerous weapon and with obstructing a peace officer in the discharge of his duty.

On the first charge he was convicted, and the sentence imposed being two months in jail. On the second charge, O. L. Lewis, counsel for Vanzant, raised the objection that his client was justified in resisting arrest by McGregor, who was not qualified to execute the warrant. It was held by Mr. Lewis that under the Division Court Act the bailiff was the only man with authority to execute that warrant. Magistrate Houston held that Mr. Lewis' position was sound, and dismissed the charge against Vanzant on the ground that McGregor had no authority to make the arrest.

The Arena for the month gives considerable space to argument on the financial question of the hour. Senator J. P. Morgan discusses "Silver—A Money Metal." Senator J. P. Jones tells us what the remonetization of silver would do for the Republic; and Prof. Parson's theme is "Free Silver vs. Free Gold." Wm. Zjewe Tulman writes of "Munich's Reform," and trenching on another branch of the reform question is Rev. G. D. Colman's "Religion of Jesus Christ in Its Relations to Christianity and Reform." Ernest W. Clement has discovered some Japanese elements in Bulwer's "Last Days of Pompeii," and the editor, B. O. Flower, shows us the peril of encouraging the persecuting spirit. Mr. E. Q. Norton answers the ten objections to women's suffrage made by non-suffragists at the last meeting of the New York State Assembly from her point of view. The frontispiece is a portrait of George Fred Williams, one of the leaders of the new Democracy. (Boston: The Arena Publishing Co.)
