

CHARGED WITH SELLING
SHORT WEIGHT, BUT NOT GUILTY, MAGISTRATE SAYS*Butcher Firm Acquitted on Ground of Acting in Good Faith.

Charging that he had received from a local firm a box of meat, the defendant, John Wilson, a Dominion policeman, failed to secure a conviction at the city police court today. Magistrate Graydon expressing the opinion after hearing considerable evidence, that the defendant had acted in good faith.

Mr. Wilson claimed that he had ordered eight pounds of green crushed bone on Friday last, and that the parcel delivered and produced in court weighed only 1 1/2 pounds. He weighed it at his own home, because it felt light, in the presence of his son and wife. He paid 40 cents for the bone, the price of eight pounds at 5 cents per pound. He later had it weighed and sealed by inspector John McCallum. His son, Harold B. Wilson, gave corroborative evidence.

Defendant, through W. B. Henderson, clerk, pleaded not guilty. A clerk gave evidence to the effect that the parcel for the bone was for 10 pounds, and as there was not this quantity in stock eight pounds was sent. He swore that the parcel sent out weighed eight pounds. Defendant told of being called by the plaintiff, who complained of the short weight, and stated that he offered to send for the parcel and replace it. This was declined by Mr. Wilson, who stated that he had a good mind to take the matter to the Ontario food board. The magistrate, in reply to a question, that the scales on which the parcel was weighed were new ones, and had only been in use two months. The magistrate advised that he have them tested.

In dismissing the charge, his worship said: "I do not think, in view of the contradictory evidence, that I can convict in this case. I believe that both the clerk and the proprietor acted in good faith."

EVERY VOTER GETS FULL INFORMATION*City Clerk Trying Best to Arouse Interest.

If a keen and active interest in municipal affairs is not shown at the next election it will not be through any fault of City Clerk Sam Baker. In addition to the statement on city activities which is being supplied to every voter, a letter is being sent to each citizen telling him exactly where he is entitled to vote and for what objects.

For instance, each landowner will receive a letter to this effect: "The person named on the envelope in which this is enclosed is entitled to vote only where he resides as an owner at the following: All ballots, election of council and board, and bylaws submitted to a vote of the ratepayers and once in each ward other than the one in which he resides is qualified to vote for aldermen, industrial bond bylaw, Western Fair bylaw, Springbank reservoir bylaw, municipal yard bylaw, Ridout street bridge bylaw, storm sewer bylaw, London railway commission bylaw and municipal hall bylaw."

Each income voter is receiving a similar notice with the exception, of course, that it informs the voter only for mayor, aldermen, board of education members, public utilities commissioners, hospital trustees and the plebeians. He may also vote once in each ward other than the one in which he resides if qualified.

Tenants will be notified to the same effect.

"That we, the Ministerial Alliance, heartily commend the proposal to spend $20,000 in providing well equipped and supervised playgrounds for the children and youth of this city, and would urge the ministers present this matter favorably to the attention of their people before the 1st of January," was a resolution that was unanimously passed at a meeting of the Ministerial Alliance held this morning in the Y. M. C. A. hall.

Rev. W. J. Knox introduced the subject of recreation for the youth of London, giving examples of what had been done in other cities in this way. He expressed the opinion that the need for means for physical expression among the young people of this city was great.

Achievements and Plans.
An old member of the London Ministerial Alliance, present in the person of Rev. J. W. Pedley of Toronto, a minister in the Congregational denomination, Mr. Pedley, in some amusing reminiscences of his early days, among them "some of the ministers were straight jackets and did not stand for singing from choirs and dancing and prancing around."

"I have learnt a great deal in the years of this ministry," Mr. Pedley said, "I had to start all over again I'd leave a lot of things out and get right to the point of the people. It's quite right to build fine edifices and have all that sort of thing, but if you do not get to the heart of the matter, you are just as well with out them. The apostle Paul did not care what his minister preached, he cared long as he did something in spreading the gospel."

Mr. Pedley, remembered by all who know him, to be very humorous, kept the audience in a uproar of laughter with his humorous remarks.

He outlined the various congregations should unite for the week of prayer in January was made. The general assembly of the various congregations should hold the week of prayer in its own church.

Rev. L. C. MacGregor, president of the Alliance, presided.

PAID DEAD SOLDIERS

That returned soldiers who have an idea that they would like to go on the land are interested in the "short course in agriculture" which is to be held at the local agricultural office from January 1 to 30, was expressed by one of the veterans visited the office and asked Representative R. A. Fitch for further particulars.

"There are numbers of returned soldiers planning to take up farms under the government scheme," he said, "and most of these, if not all, will undoubtedly take the course." He said that the course was a very good one, and that it was a pity that the government did not make it a compulsory one for all returned soldiers.

REAL HOME BOOSTER APPEARS IN STORE

An amusing incident occurred in a local haberdashery Saturday night, when a real home town booster was discovered by those present at the time. A young man entered the store and announced his desire to purchase a certain hat. The obliging clerk produced the goods as requested, and in a short time made a sale. As he was turning the purchase over to the customer, the young man, who was a "home town booster," said: "Any gloves, handkerchiefs, neckties, or any other furnishings?"

"No," replied the patron, "I can get all those articles in my own town. I could not get this kind of hat at home, and so I came to you."

And as he passed out of the store the proprietor remarked: "That is very good logic. If every Londoner followed suit, the city would be filled with boosters, and things would progress here far better than they do at present."
