

RACE MEETING HATS

It takes some little social event or a large one to bring out the well costumed women and well groomed men. We want to look after the men particularly, and to do it we have gone to some trouble to procure a selection of hats of all makers in all designs for the Race Meet.

$5 to $8 SILK HATS, with Dunlap's New York design at $8; Heath, maker to His Majesty, at $8; Tress, at $6; Christy's of London, at $6 and $5; Dineen's Special Silk at $5, and some special lines in Silks by French and German makers specially suited to elderly gentlemen.

$2 to $5 DERBY HATS, in brown and black felt, English, American and German makers. Dunlap's superb Stiff Felt Hat, $5; Heath, $4; Dineen's Special XXX, $3; Christy, $3 and $2.50; Dineen's Special Easy-fitting Hat, $2.50; Stetson's, $4.50.

LOOKING FOR HER HUBBY WITH LOVE AND CLOTHES

Mrs. Robert Rae of Detroit Thinks He Must Be Afraid of Her Relatives.

If Robert Rae, 23 years of age, barber, formerly of Detroit, Mich., and a Scotchman, will speak up, he may have a new suit of clothes, some clean socks, a loving wife and a trip home to Detroit.

Robert left his home to visit his brother in Cobalt in December last. He worked there during the winter and then came on to Toronto, telling his brother that he was going back to his wife at Detroit.

Last Thursday, Mrs. Rae, who had come to Toronto looking for him, received a letter written by him from Toronto to her in Detroit. It had been forwarded to her in the hospital, where she was in the hospital, Mrs. Rae has enquired at all the hospitals and of the police, but has found no trace of him.

"The poor lad is likely down on his luck and I think my family will not be able to see him. But I want that lad back. I have brought him a new suit and some clean shirts and socks and will take him home with me. My little girl is asking for him all the time."

"I feel more like a mother to him all the time," said Mrs. Rae, who was married before her venture with Robert. "If he will call at The World Office or notify his wife at the Y.W.C.A. on Elm-street he will set her mind at rest. There is also mail for him at the post-office."

MERGING INSURANCE COS.

MONTREAL, May 19.—(Special)—William Wallace, general manager of the Crown Life Insurance Co. of Toronto, is in the city conferring, it is understood, with H. Markland Molson, director of the Crown Life, and R. Forgett, M.P., relative to matters in connection with a proposed merging of the Crown Life with the Royal Victoria Insurance Co. of this city.

Mr. Wallace is not in favor of the merger, but leading shareholders of the Crown Life are to be determined to take action in the near future.

Riot at Windsor.
WINDSOR, May 19.—Upwards of two hundred men employed on the Michigan Central tunnel went on strike to-day for increased wages. Some of the men who kept their jobs were attacked, resulting in a small riot. Sergeant Nash, chief of police of the tunnel patrol, was assaulted by a forerunner. He was struck on the head by a club, but was not seriously injured. The assault was later arrested.

At the Beaches.
The Daily and Sunday World is delivered to Kew, Dalny and Scarborough Beaches before breakfast. Order now. Telephone M. 22.

Charged With Theft.
"Knocking down" on the "fare-boxes" at Orr Bros' pool and billiard rooms the charge that landed Stanley Frost, 137 Sydney-street, and James Baird, 137 Sydney-street, in the hands of Detectives Murray and Guthrie yesterday.

Epidemic of Dysentery

It affects many people more in winter than in summer—in the one case it is due to improper eating—in the other to congestion excited by cold. A very small dose of Nerviline repeated every hour or two removes the trouble thoroughly. If there is pain, relief is immediate—if merely relaxation, the result is just as certain. You can't find a treatment for bowel troubles, indigestion and stomach disorders half so good as Polson's Nerviline; thousands say so.

HOSSACK OPENS FIGHT WITH A FINE MEETING

Broadway Hall Was Crowded and the Candidate Was Among Friends.

Donald C. Hossack had the best campaign meeting of the present election so far last night in Broadway Hall. The place was full and the platform was robbed of chairs to accommodate the audience. Before the close Mr. Hossack had warmed them up to great enthusiasm on the abolition of the bar, which he claimed to be a non-partisan plank, and in favor of which he cited two utterances of Premier Whitney.

"Not as a clergyman; but as a plain and simple citizen like one of yourselves," was Mr. Hossack's exposition of his standing in the present contest. He had voted for John Shaw for several years for municipal positions and expected to do so again next January. (Laughter.)

If elected to the legislature he did not intend to practice a merely captious opposition, as a mere machine to register vote after vote irrespective of the merits of a question. He would support Mr. Whitney on matters worthy of support. (Applause.)

Law reform was one thing that he would insist upon. The courts should be so regulated that the common man would be able to go there without difficulty, and he would press for the abolition of harassing appeals.

If it was socialism to take every dollar that came out of a great natural resource like Niagara and give it to the common people then he was a socialist. (Applause.) There were many men in the country who would be willing to serve the public for the benefit of their fellows. Public ownership would give an opportunity for such service.

His Socialism.
He opposed the three-fifths clause and government by commission because these were against the great principles laid down in Magna Charta. The principle of responsible government should not be frittered away by unnecessary commissions. Premier Whitney had stated that some churches believed in a three-fifths vote, but Mr. Whitney knew very well that scarcely any of the churches were democratic. He had recently married a man, and as there were no fixed fees in the church for this service, Mr. Whitney would not like to conduct his government on this principle, and he must see that he could not run the province like a church. (Laughter.)

Mr. Hossack reviewed the prohibitory act and he considered Mr. Ross had made the mistake of his life in ignoring it. (Applause.)

"The Ross government has been defeated once and we are not going on defeating it forever. Let the dead past bury its dead. It is a mistake for the Whitney government to try to excuse their shortcomings by pointing to the delinquencies of the Ross government," said Mr. Hossack.

His Supporters and Why.
Dr. John Ferguson occupied the chair, and was admirably brief in his introduction.

Controller Harrison endorsed Rev. Mr. Hossack as one who would have the interests of the electors and of humanity at heart. (Applause.) He took it that Mr. Hossack represented a principle and not a party or a section.

Ald. James Hales stated he was not an opponent of the Whitney government, and he was breaking away from his party affiliations to support Mr. Hossack on account of his temperance views.

W. F. Raney will vote for Mr. Hossack as a man who stands for independence in politics. No such high-minded partisanship could be found anywhere as existed in Canada. Dalton McCarthy was an instance of the influence exerted by an independent politician.

Ald. Eredin as an independent Liberal was prepared to support the party as long as they were right, but his sympathies would not carry him to support them when they were wrong. (Applause.) Mr. Hossack had pledged himself to the temperance question, and that was a stronger position than if he had been asked to do so.

John Scully called for cheers for A. C. Mackay, the candidate and the chairman, and the meeting dispersed before 10 o'clock.

Mr. Hossack and other prominent speakers will address a meeting to-night at Prospect Rink, corner of Prospect and Ontario-streets.

Crushed to Death.

ST. JOHN, N.B., May 19.—(Special)—The second man to be crushed to death on the Donaldson liner Indramet met death this afternoon when Alex Anders, a Norwegian, was caught between the heavy cargo stage and the ship and smashed to a pulp. The body dropped to the water but was recovered.

SIMPSON COMPANY, LIMITED

WEDNESDAY, MAY 20.

With Clank of Iron and Steel

WHEN somewhere in the network of steel a man strikes a blow with his sledge on a girder in the new Simpson building it rings. The deep reverberations resound through the mighty frame of steel as though a thousand beams and columns were as one. And so they are. The vibrations of sound play on the great structure as on a huge complex tuning fork. It's thousand and one parts are welded practically into one. Each part fits in exact line with its fellows, each angle is exactly a right angle. The strain and stress is distributed equally throughout the fabric as a whole. On no one part depends the safety or stability of the structure.

Each joint is riveted with red hot bolts, which cooling weld with the beams. The building is just as self sufficient as an iron cage would be if it were braced through and through with partitions, horizontally and perpendicularly. And when a man beats on a member of this vast system of steel caging—it rings like one piece.
