

BOY RUNS AWAY 3 TIMES VIA TRAINS

Two Youths Found in Freight Car Hungry, Thirsty and Exhausted

TOPEKA, Kan., June 17.—Hungry, thirsty and blinking, but otherwise undamaged, Fred Davis, thirteen years old, and Le Roy Flynn, ten, both of Chicago, were liberated from a Santa Fe merchandise car at Newton, Kan., one day recently at the end of a 637-mile trip in stuffy darkness. It was their second runaway trip together—Davis' third—in the last three months.

Early one morning a freight trucker in Joliet, Ill., broke the seals of a freight car and entered. He found glassware piled upon the floor. He gasped in consternation when a tumbled head rose slowly from a barrel standing on a bench.

The head belonged to the hungry, tired, chilled body of young Davis. The boy was fed and sent back to Chicago.

Two weeks later a freight man opened a car at Dana, Ill., 110 miles or so southwest of Chicago. Two grimy figures crawled stiffly from under a pile of boxes. This time Davis had his boon companion, Flynn, with him.

They were sent back to Chicago. Davis became ill with pneumonia, believed to have been induced by the exposure endured on the trip.

The same runaways gave Newton freight handlers palpitation of the heart when they tottered from the dark depths of a merchandise car.

New York Woman Rescued From Gulf Stream After Trying to Save Man

PORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., June 17.—Miss Svea Bohman, of New York, who was rescued from the Gulf Stream recently after floating five hours adrift, told of her experiences, which followed an attempt to rescue an unidentified man from drowning.

Miss Bohman was seized with cramps before she reached the man, and was seen to go beneath the water, apparently to her death. Five hours later she was picked up by a fishing smack bound for this city, unconscious and suffering from fright. She had managed to get into a comfortable floating position when the cramps seized her, and her presence of mind alone saved her.

Miss Bohman was not molested by any of the savage sharks and other fish which infest the deeper waters off the Florida shores. It is probable, though, that a few scratches on her body may have been due to them.

Escaped Felon Prefers Old Prison To Freedom

PARIS, June 17.—With three convicts from a prison in the heart of Paris making good their escape by climbing down a high wall with the aid of blanket ropes, Paris has been relieved to hear of the unusual capture of one of the escapees.

One of the escapees, who had the pleasure of welcoming back to the fold a prisoner who had escaped from France's penal colony in South America, and after a brief period of freedom, had hunkered for his old life that he voluntarily surrendered and asked to be transported to the delightful shores of French Guiana.

PASTEURIZED MILK
To the Editor of The Times-Star.
Sir,—In reference to the question as to whether or not pasteurized milk is the most satisfactory state in which milk should be delivered to the general public, it will be remembered that during the last Provincial election, several members of the present Government advocated that in the event of their Government being successful they would make pasteurization optional.

In this connection it is worthy to note that at the Seventh International Dairy Congress just held in Paris, a lengthy discussion took place as to the production and marketing of special grades of whole milk, and the grading system followed in England was reviewed by the delegates.

It was stated by the French delegates that the French Dairy Breeders are reported to be anxious to develop a National Cow Testing System, and since the war have organized seventy societies with 12,000 cows on their records.

On the whole milk question, several French doctors advocated more general pasteurization, but the delegates from England opposed this.

Mr. A. R. Mattick, a member of the English National Institute for Research declared that whereas five years ago few would have been found in such favor of pasteurization, today there were signs of responsible opinion in favor of the distribution of milk in the raw state. "We have in England," declared Mr. Mattick, "thanks to the Ministry of Agriculture, a service of inspection on the farms. We have clean milk competitions, in which hundreds of farmers in England take part, and by means of which they are shown how to produce clean, hygienic milk. The result has been a very great improvement in the hygienic quality of the milk produced throughout the country."

Yours truly,
N. C. GILBERT.

YACHT IS SHIPPED IN TWO SECTIONS

Craft, Bought by King Faud, of Egypt, is Sent to Nile

LONDON, June 17.—A luxurious yacht costing $600,000, which King Faud of Egypt ordered to be built for him in Southampton, has just been completed and is being shipped to the Nile in two sections.

When the vessel was completed experts decided that, in view of its exceptionally shallow draught, there would be grave risk in attempting to sail it to the Nile, and there were doubts whether it could reach its destination except during a single week or fortnight in the year, at the period when the Nile is in flood.

It was decided, therefore, completely to dismantle the yacht, and half of the steel structure was shipped on board a P. and O. liner.

The remaining portion of the yacht will follow in another liner within a week or two, and the yacht will be re-assembled on the banks of the Nile by the Public Works Committee of the Egyptian Government. Carvings and other decorations executed by famous artists were shipped on board the Kashmir in 135 packages.

To Sell by Auction Lord Nelson's Ring

LONDON, June 17.—The famous Carmichael collection of objects of art, drawn from almost every civilization and century of the world's history, is to come under the hammer this month.

Many buyers from abroad are expected to be present at what will be one of the most interesting sales of the year. Lord Carmichael of Skirling, who died last January, was a life-long collector who acquired many treasures in nearly every branch of art, and to his enthusiasm he added extremely good taste and a contempt for convention.

One of the most interesting "lots" is a marquis ring given by Lord Nelson to Lady Hamilton. In the centre is an anchor in brilliant on a ground of hair, and inscribed on the back is "Horatio Viscount Nelson, Duke of Bronte, 1796, 1798, 1800, 1805."

She Couldn't Sleep Heart Was So Bad

Mrs. J. D. McClintock, Charlotte, N. C., writes: "About a year ago I was greatly troubled with my heart."

"I could not sleep at night, and was so nervous I imagined that I could see everything in the room moving, and would have to turn on the lights before I could get to sleep."

After having read of your MILBURN'S HEART NERVE PILLS.

I took several boxes of them, and now get a full night's sleep without any trouble, and feel fine in every way."

& N. Pills have been on the market for the past 32 years; all dealers sell them; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Trails Circus To Look For Missing Children

UTICA, N. Y., June 17.—Search for the persons who kidnapped three small children from the home of Mrs. Walter L. McGill, their grandmother and legal guardian, last week, was extended to Vermont today. Police said that a warrant would be asked for the arrest of their mother, Mrs. Gertrude Getman, who is a snake charmer in a circus which gave a performance last Wednesday at Herkimer, not far from the scene of the abduction. The circus was said to show at Rutland, Vt., today.

According to Mrs. McGill, Mrs. Getman directed the kidnapping, which was carried out by a woman and two armed men. Local officials, after ruling that the parents were not competent to care for the children, recently placed the little ones in the custody of the grandparents.

Oil-Wealthy Indians Will Become Farmers

BOSTON, June 17.—The Ponca tribe of Indians, rich with royalties and lease money from oil properties in the north-central part of Oklahoma, are turning to agriculture under modern methods.

Work which calls for manual labor is deemed a disgrace by the Poncas; they are a peace-loving and pleasure-loving group; their feasts and dances are a feature of their daily life. Few of this tribe have followed the glare of circus life, but the majority have remained at home, letting "hole-face attorneys" look after their affairs.

Under a plan, now well under way, of the business council of the tribe tracts of five and 10 acres have been broken for cultivation. This will be planted to corn, potatoes and vegetables during the first year.

CAROL'S PAYMENTS CUT $60,000 YEAR

Prince's Name is Dropped From Rumanian's Royal Civil List

BUCHAREST, June 17.—Prince Carol of Rumania, whose recent escapades with Madame Lupescu attracted worldwide attention, has been dropped from the Royal Civil list by the Rumanian government. His abandoned wife, Princess Helen, and her four-year-old son, the Crown Prince, will receive Carol's former allowance, which amounts to $60,000 a year.

The Prince will hereafter be obliged to live on the revenue from his small holdings in Rumania and on the income from the money left him by his great-grand-uncle, King Carol I. These together are said to aggregate about $80,000 a year. The Prince continues to live in Paris with Madame Lupescu.

Nicholas Nano, former Rumanian charge d'affaires at Washington, recently saw Carol in Paris. He says the Prince is showing keen interest in Rumanian affairs.

An Extraordinary Society Romance of Italy ONE OF THOSE GRAND FIRST NATIONALS

First National Pictures, Inc., presents MILTON SILLS in

"THE UNGUARDED HOUR"

With DORIS KENYON

Sixty Thrills of Life and Love Crowded Into Sixty Golden Minutes of Romance and Daring.

WE WILL NOT SPOIL AN EXCELLENT PICTURE BY TELLING YOU THE STORY, but we will say that Miss Kenyon answers the question most satisfactorily. She tames Sills, who has the role of an Italian duke, indifferent to feminine charms. But in the end he succumbs, and the manner in which the character is played by Miss Kenyon brings about all this, furnishes enough thrills, laughs and heart interest to satisfy any motion picture fan. Sills, as ever, is excellent in his characterization of the Italian duke.
