From a California Orange Seedless Slices

—a Feature at this Season of the Year

THIN dainty, glistening, juicy morsels without a single seed to mar them—get them from a California Orange.

Serve them in your breakfast dishes, and in your salads and desserts.

Note particularly their delightful tenderness. Here are the "tendercuts of fruit" like the tendercuts of meat that you prefer.

Observe too the ease with which you peel a California Orange.

And mark how readily you may separate the segments when you want to use these pieces whole.

All of these are California features. They'll be more and more apparent as you use these oranges regularly.

Sunkist are the selected California Oranges. So when you order use that name to be doubly certain that you get them.

RATS VALUABLE. MOSCOW, Dec. 19.—Newsboys, young peddlers and street urchins are leaving their haunts to trap rats. They are now considered precious animals, as they are worth eight cents each. The rats will be used in the production of a moving picture which will show the destruction which the rodents cause to Russia's wheat supply.

FALL IS FATAL. BRANTWOOD, Halifax, Dec. 19.— Mrs. Marguerite Virginia Whitley, wife of J. H. Whitley, Speaker of the House of Commons, is dead at her home here.
While suffering from a slight attack of illness more than a month ago, she stumbled and fell down a flight of stone steps. The injuries resulted in her death.

ME, DROPPED FROM SKY. LOON, Dec. 19.—Experts are working on experiments in hope of evolving some method by which mails can be safely dropped from aircraft flying at 4,000 or 6,000 feet.
At present the technical devices that have been tested are being kept secret but they are the clockwork delayed-action principle.
