EXCITEMENT IN REICHSTAG

Anti-Socialists Bill Thrown Out—Catholics Vote Against the Kaiser.

The Despot Receives a Rebuke From Which He Dares Not Appeal.

Berlin, May 11.—In view of the rejection by the reichstag of paragraph 111 of the anti-revolutionary bill, which practically sealed the fate of that measure, nobody was surprised when the reichstag to-day, after rejecting paragraph 112, refused to further discuss the bill, and all its amendments were withdrawn. Then the entire bill, paragraph by paragraph, was rejected without debate, and the reichstag adjourned.

Though the rejection of the anti-revolutionary bill did not surprise anybody who had followed the popular agitation against it, and although the rejection yesterday of paragraph 111 hopelessly emasculated the bill, the discussion of the other sections was allowed to drag along for a time, as the government did not intend to withdraw the measure, although a continuance of the debate only promised further humiliation for the government, therefore the coup de grace administered to the unpopular bill to-day was a relief to all concerned.

The most interesting speech during the discussion was that of Herr Groeber, which showed that the centre party was irritated against the government on account of its management of the bill. He said that Herr von Koeller, the Prussian minister of the interior, apparently regarded the reichstag as an automatic machine into which bills were put in order to be pulled out as laws on the other side. The utterances of Herr von Koeller in support of the bill, he asserted, were only put weapons in the hands of the socialists. Herr Groeber then protested against the dictatorial attitude assumed by Dr. Schoenstadt, the Prussian minister of justice, toward the centre party, and declared that the party would decline further responsibility for the measure.

Dr. Schoenstadt replied in a speech which only served to further embitter matters and leave the government at loggerheads with the centre party.

The proceedings were somewhat enlivened by the remarks of Dr. Fiedl, whose of the Bavarian Katterland, and whose anti-Prussian utterances have earned him the nickname of the "Prussian-eater."

Dr. Sigl humorously criticized the bill and the minister's speeches. He declared that Herr von Koeller's speech was an insult to the reichstag, but he was interrupted by the president, Herr von Eulen-berg, who remarked that it was the president's business to rebuke insults to the house. Herr von Koeller, amid general laughter, ostentatiously applauded Dr. Sigl as the latter returned to his seat.

Upon resuming business to-day the reichstag proceeded to discuss paragraph 112 of the bill. The minister of war, Gen. Brossart von Schellendorf, declared that he could not understand the Social- ists antagonism to the army, which he declared was a solid wall against which it was useless for the Socialists to run their heads. Nevertheless, he believed socialism was picking at the foundation of this wall, and it was to prevent these attempts that the paragraph was in- tended.

Herr Bebel, socialist, replied that the ruling circles evidently wished to provoke the Socialists to acts of violence in order to crush it by military force, but he added, the Socialists did not intend to be entangled in a snare.

The minister of war warmly repudiated Herr Bebel's allegations, and quoted an article from "the Vorwaerts," the Socialist organ, suggesting that he, the minister of war, ought to be shot like a mad dog.

Herr Orsane, National Liberal, Count von Kardoff, Free Conservative, and Herr von Levetzow then announced on behalf of their respective parties that they would follow Gen. Brossart von Schellendorf in supporting the govern- ment on paragraph 112 against the com- mittee amendments. A decision was called for, and paragraph 112 was re- jected. The Conservatives, Imperialists and National Liberals voted in the minority. The same paragraph was amended in committee and then put to a vote, and was also rejected, the Centrists alone supporting it.

Herr von Richter, the leader of the people's party, then remarked: "Let us now make short work of the bill; let us abandon further debate so that by a suc- cession of divisions we may quickly rid the world of the whole thing."

The words of Herr Richter were greet- ed with much laughter, and his advice was forthwith acted upon. Amid much excitement the various amendments were withdrawn, and a curious scene ensued.

The majority, in the gayest spirits, re- jected each paragraph as it was put from the chair.

When the last paragraph was disposed of the anti-Semites and the members of the left cheered boisterously, and the sit- ting was adjourned amid intense excite- ment until Monday, when the discussion upon the customs convention with Aus- tria and the tobacco tax will be taken up.

There is much discussion in political circles to-night at the unexpected de- nouement and the effect it is likely to have on the emperor. The general be- lief expressed is that the minister of the

A BACK DOWN ALL ROUND

The Remedial Order to be With- drawn—Its Language Too Dictatorial.

Government Will Also Back Down on the Hudson's Bay Proposition.

Ottawa, May 13.—It is reported in government circles to-day that the Canadian Pacific has made an offer to the government to build the road to the Sas- katchewan for $7,000 per mile. With the strong protests which are now being made by the Conservatives against giv- ing $10,000 per mile for this work it is not likely that anything will be done this session about the matter. It is stated on good authority that the Gov- ernment is preparing for a backdown.

Lord Aberdeen has asked Archbishop Langevin to wait here until the arrival of Hon. Messrs. Greenway and Sifton from Winnipeg, when a conference is to be held between these parties in regard to the school question. It is understood that the government will withdraw the remedial order which they recognized now to be, as Laurier said, too dictatorial after the defeat of the anti-revolution bill in the reichstag. After the order is withdrawn a conference will be held as to a compromise in the matter. It is thought here that it is possible now.

In the house to-day, Dickey said to- day that the government did not intend over the powder magazine on Beacon hill to the imperial authorities, as the im- perial government did not think it safe.

The generous response made by several of the leading churches has been sufficient to allow of this. The money due will be sent forthwith to the several presby- teries.

WOMAN'S SALVATION.

HOW SHE MAY SAVE HERSELF FROM UNTOLD MISERY.

One Who Has Passed Through the Or- deal Speaks for the Benefit of Her Suffering Sisters.

Not the least among the many valu- able services Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have rendered to suffering women, is that of tiding them over the critical period commencing at middle age, com- monly known as the change of life. It so often happens that at this climac- teric women relapse into a stage of chronic invalidism, and the actual dan- ger to life which attends the change is so great that a medicine which can be relied upon to carry the system over this dangerous time, is nothing less than a life-saving invention. What Dr. Wil- liams' Pink Pills will do for women at this change of life is shown in a case reported in the Dewsbury, (Eng.) Chro- nicle. It is that of Mrs. Benjamin Smith, who lives at Hanover street, Dewsbury. The change of life had left her weak and miserable; with constant pain, dizziness and shortness of breath on the slightest exertion, together with chronic rheumatism in the head and eyes. The pain in her head was too acute for words. She got no sleep either by night or day, and her agony was at times so great that it took two people to hold her in bed. A skillful doctor was called in but did no good. My cheeks would swell up as big as saucers," said Mrs. Smith, "my eyes were as red as fire and there was no getting rid of the pains in the head. I suffered also from a sluggish liver and weak heart, and at times my eyesight was so bad that objects before me were but dim shadows, and there was none of my friends who looked for my res- toration to health. I saw an account in a newspaper of a cure similar to mine through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and my husband urged me to try them. Before two boxes were used the pains had disappeared as if by magic, and the continued use of the pills for a little more than a month, has left me enjoying as good health as ever I had in my life. I consider Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a blessing, and as I know there are thousands of women who suffer in silence from troubles having the same origin as mine, I am grateful enough for what they have done for me to tell my story in the hope that some suffer- ing sister may be similarly helped, and give me full permission to publish what I have told you, which statements can be verified by any of my neigh- bors." The statements made by Mrs. Smith prove the unequalled merit of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as there are thousands of women throughout the country similarly troubled, her story of renewed health will point to them the remedy which will prove equally effi- cacious in their cases. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are especially valuable to women. They build up the blood, re- store the nerves, and eradicate those troubles which make the lives of so many women, old and young, a burden. Dizziness, palpitation of the heart, nervous headache and nervous prostration especially yield to this wonderful medi- cine. They are sold only in boxes, the trade mark and wrapper printed in red ink, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of druggists or by direct mail from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Convention of the B. C. Branch of the Woman's Missionary Society

Of the Methodist Church of Canada—The Opening Proceedings To-Day.

The British Columbia branch of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church of Canada held their first meeting yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Metropolitan church, Pan- dora street, with Rev. Mr. Cleaver in the chair. After singing and prayer Rev. Mr. Hart, gave a very appropriate and interesting address on Indian missions, and Mrs. Colter gave a very enthusiastic address on Chinese missions, which was listened to with great attention. The meeting closed with singing and benediction. A collection was taken up, which amounted to $130.

Monday morning, May 13th, the meet- ing opened with devotional exercises, led by Mrs. Chapman. At the close of the exercises Mrs. Watson, president of the branch, took the chair. The roll was then called, and most of the delegates being present, the business of the con- vention was proceeded with.

Mrs. Major, assistant recording secre- tary, being absent, Mrs. J. F. Betts was appointed to fill the place pro tem. The ladies of the executive then withdrew and appointed the following committees: Committee on memorials.—Mrs. J. F. Betts (convener), Miss Burpee, Mrs. Tate, Miss Beavis, Mrs. Davis, Miss Gould.

Committee on Modes of Work.—Mrs. Colter (convener), Mrs. Green, Mrs. Chapman, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. T. W. Hall, Mrs. Firth.

Committee on Courtesies.—Mrs. W. J. Pendray, Mrs. Morris.

Mrs. J. E. Gardner was appointed press correspondent with Miss Beavis as assistant.

Minutes of the previous meeting, held in Homer street Methodist church, Van- couver, May, 1894, were read and adopt- ed.

The reports from auxiliaries were lis- tened to, and many good ideas were gathered for the benefit of the work.

The committee on courtesies during the morning introduced to the convention Mrs. Nicholas, Miss Fitzgerald and Miss Paul, the last named young lady being on her way north to engage in the Indian work in the Girls' Home at Port Sim- pson.

Rev. Dr. Reid, upon being introduced, made some very happy remarks and con- gratulated them upon their work gener- ally.

Mrs. Nicholas was then called upon to give her experience in connection with the eventful trip of the Glad Tidings and her work among the Indians. It was most interesting, and the ladies felt that they were much edified in listening to one who is so thoroughly consecrated to the work.

After singing the Doxology prayer was offered by Mrs. Nichols, and the conven- tion adjourned until 2 p.m.

AMERICAN NEWS.

Buffalo, May 13.—The frost nipped the early vegetation in small fruits, buds and garden truck throughout western and central New York last night. A dis- patch from Dunkirk says Sunday night's frost has desolated Chautauq's grape belt and buckened the vineyards as if a fire had passed over them. Farmers re- port cherries, strawberries and early gar- den stuff destroyed and all small fruits badly damaged. Grape growers are dis- couraged, as the crop will be a total fail- ure. Lake Port also reports grapes ruined and garden truck injured. At Gen- esee the mercury touched 30. At Clay- ville, Oneida county, snow fell for two days, and even as far east as the Moh- awk and Herk counties many ice formed and buds were bitten by frost.

THE HYAMS MURDER TRIAL

Evidence of Mrs. Harry Hyams—A Sen- sation.

Toronto, May 11.—Judging from the present rate of speed the Hyams mur- der trial will go on indefinitely. The defence is displaying thoroughness in investigating every minute piece of testi- mony that evidences an intention to take full advantage of every point. To-day Mrs. Aylesworth, sister of the dead boy, related incidents connected with Harry Hyams' visit to her house after Wells' death. Hyams was nearly fainting, his cuffs were bloody and his sleeves were also covered with blood. It was after the death of her brother that the engage- ment between her sister and Harry Hyams took place, but she supplemented this statement by saying that they had been engaged five or six months prior to his death. Harry had got big, and his weight had fallen on and broken Wells' collar bone; witness asked, "Is he dead?" and Hyams said no.

There was a sensation when the name of Mrs. Harry H. Hyams was called. Counsel for the defence strongly object- ed to her evidence. Mr. Blount held that a wife could not be a competent witness against her husband. The judge said that the matter could be discussed at the end of the case if necessary, and Mrs. Hyams was then examined. She remem- bered so that she was not able to stand, and a chair was given her. She never glanced at her husband in the dock. She told how she first met Harry Hyams in Muskoka. He told her he could not be married for some cause while his mother lived, but they became engaged with that understanding. Questioned as to insurance, Mrs. Hyams said Harry told her brother that if he would be ex- amined he would give him $2500 at the end of five years, Harry to pay the pre- mium. If Wells lived Harry was to get it in twenty years, but if Wells di- ed she was to be the beneficiary. Coming to day of Wells' death, witness told how Harry came in after lunch and was so excited that Aylesworth helped him to bed. Told her Willie was hurt on the shoulder but would be all right soon. Aylesworth told her that her brother was dead. Asked as to the $30,000 in- surance she received on Wells' death, she said she had none left. She had given Dallas Hyams a check for $794. After telling of her marriage to the pris- oner, Mrs. Hyams gave a shriek and fell forward from the chair, calling out as she fell: "O, Harry."

TUG MOGUL WRECKED.

She Springs a Leak and is Beached Near the Tatoosh Lighthouse.

The tug Mogul is beached two miles this side of Tatoosh lighthouse, and it is feared may be a wreck. The Mogul sprung a leak Sunday afternoon, and later she was beached by Captain Smith, her master. These meagre particulars came in a dispatch later in the day to the owners of the tug, the British Pa- cific Tug Company. The Mogul Satur- day afternoon towed the British bark Darrra from Port Townsend to sea. She parted lines Sunday morning, several miles off Cape Flattery. It is not known when it was first discovered that the tug was leaking, but the owners think Capt. Smith believed it was a serious case and beached the tug, as the sea was running very high and a heavy west wind was blowing. "The coast is very rugged and rough, and the action of the captain in beaching is thought to have been to take no chances with the lives of his crew."

As the heavy sea and the hurricane-like gales continued throughout the afternoon and evening, the damage done to the tug is probably considerable. In fact, it is not thought unlikely she may be a total wreck. The crew are supposed to be safe, as nothing is said in the dispatch about them, and the owners feel sure that if anything befell them the tele- gram would have contained the news. Further particulars are hourly expected.
