ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., FEBRUARY 5, 1903.

THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT.

There is always a disposition to show more interest in dominion than provincial politics. There is, indeed, too little attention given to matters which very vitally affect the welfare of the people of the province. The provincial government has to do with such questions as those concerning the schools and the roads and bridges of the province, the lumber industry, the encouragement of agriculture, and attracting new settlers to develop the great natural resources of the province. These are very important matters, and unless the limited revenues are expended with intelligence, prudence and economy the loss to the province is very serious.

The present government is neither prudent nor economical. Nobody seriously argues that it is. Even those who support it and predict its success know perfectly well that however good a government it may be for them personally, or for its own members, it is not a good government for the province at large. It is a spendthrift combination that should be sent about its business.

FLORAL CULTIVATION.

An ex-president of the Horticultural Society of Ottawa has offered prizes to school children to interest them in the cultivation of flowers. The Ottawa Free Press thus outlines the proposal: R. B. Whyte's scheme is to furnish ten children in each fourth form in the city with three packages of seeds, each containing two hundred seeds, one white, the other two mixed of different varieties. The children are to show a certain number of blooms of each variety at the September show. Four prizes are offered for each variety, making twelve prizes in all. The first prize is $2.00 and eighty gladiolus bulbs; second prize, a dollar and a half and sixty gladiolus bulbs; third prize, one dollar and fifty gladiolus bulbs; fourth prize, fifty cents and fifty gladiolus bulbs. The prizes amount to $15 in money and 660 gladiolus bulbs of Groff's best mixture. This generous offer of Mr. Whyte, it is considered will create greater interest amongst the school children in the cultivation and study of plants and have an educational effect.

The Telegraph has been giving some attention to the affairs of the opposition party in Charlottetown. The following from St. Andrews Beacon may be of some interest to our contemporaries: “That the provincial election is near at hand is generally believed. Isn't it about time that the friends of the government in Charlottetown were called together to choose their candidates?”

Discussing provincial politics last evening the Gazette informed its readers that the Hon. Geo. E. Foster was “the greatest of political tramps.” This is expected to be accepted by the public as evidence that Dr. Pugsley and Mr. Tweedie are statesmen of the highest rank.

If the Tourist Association is to continue and extend its good work in the interest of St. John and the province at large, there should be a large attendance at tonight's meeting to give the work a good start.

Amid the strident clamor of the organs of the local government the silence of Premier Tweedie falls like a wet blanket. What will he say when he finds his voice? The organs would give something to know.

Those government organs which discuss the alleged weakness of the opposition tickets might with profit survey their own candidates. The government ticket in St. John for example.

The opportunist press is fiercely attacking Mr. Hazen. This suggests that he is worthy of support by those who are not opportunists.

The Telegraph's call for a division of provincial politics on federal lines has been treated with contempt. Where is the main body?

Whatever the law concerning the question may be, young Goodspeed is not a fit companion for the boys at the reformatory.

If Mr. Tarte's statement concerning the health of Sir Wilfrid Laurier is well founded, there are troublous days ahead for the liberal party.

DOWIE CRUSADE IN NEW YORK.

KENOSHA, Wis., Feb. 4.—John Alexander Dowie has announced at Zion City at a mass meeting of his followers that he is going to invade New York. Beside the indoor meetings, he has planned to hold 1,800 meetings daily on the streets. Dowie characterized the proposed crusade as the greatest religious movement ever undertaken.

A SCANDALOUS AFFAIR.

A remarkable story comes from Sydney. It is stated that a number of refined English girls, who were induced to come to Sydney to be educated in colonial life on the farm of Capt. Hornfall, near that town, have appealed to Mayor Crowe to get them away from what was more of a prison than a school. Their education in colonial life, they say, consisted of doing all the work of the home and the farm, caring for cattle and poultry, sawing wood, tending the house and doing house work. The advertisement had promised instruction in marketing, gardening, dairying, English, French and Latin, dancing and other accomplishments. The girls made their escape from the place on Tuesday.

CARPENTERS' UNION.

The regular meeting of the local carpenters and joiners of America, held last night in the Sons of England hall, was well attended. After Mr. Glass' address there was a closed meeting of the members, and several new members were initiated. Twenty-four applications were made for initiation at the next meeting.

Several by-laws were submitted to the meeting for approval.

W. Todd of the International Cigar Makers' Union made a short address.

THE FOX FARM.
A Novel Industry Near Moncton That Gives Promise of Proving Remunerative.

(Moncton Transcript.)
Situated on the Palms Road, about five miles from Moncton, is an industry which is somewhat novel in this part of the country, and which no doubt in time will prove to be very remunerative to the enterprising owner, P. D. Bourque. Several months ago Mr. Bourque conceived an idea of starting a fox farm. He started on a small scale, buying live foxes, and leased a building on the premises owned by Alfred D. LeBlanc, on the Palms Road. In time Mr. Bourque's housing quarters were not large enough. He decided to branch out on a more extensive scale. He accordingly enclosed a large area on a line between two hills, through which runs a stream, with a wire fence eleven feet high, the top projecting inside about three feet, and partitioned in four parts. Into this trench he turned the foxes. The base of the fence is made of stone to prevent burrowing through and during the past summer the place was visited almost daily by curious sight-seers, who felt well repaid. At present there were about thirty foxes all told, but the number being considered too large, a great number were killed off, and at the present time he has one black fox, one patch fox, imported from Newfoundland, and eight other foxes. The animals killed were very big, and one, Mr. Bourque intends going into the business on a large scale.

The demand for the fur is on the increase and the skins of black foxes and patch foxes always command a high figure. The location of the fox farm is an excellent one. It extends from the top of one hill to the top of another and inside the fence enclosure are many trees through which runs a stream of water. The foxes have comfortable homes burrowed in the side of the bank.

OLDEST CITY IN THE WORLD.

No city in the East presents more charming pictures of Oriental life and color than Damascus; and no other city contains so many magnificent private houses, whose shaded courts and luxurious chambers take us back in fancy to the enchanted period of Oriental splendor celebrated in the “Arabian Nights.” But, however luxurious the houses, the gardens of Damascus have even greater charm, and they are not only profusely scattered throughout the city, but they stretch for miles around, where the waters have rescued almost a province from the desert. “Damascus,” says a writer in the February Cosmopolitan, “has had a larger continuous existence than any city that is standing in the world today. Over this garden spot of the desert there has been eternal conflict. Bloodshed has been its portion and century after century has witnessed battle without and massacre within its walls.” The article quoted is entertainingly written, and it is illustrated with a striking series of photographs.

BILLS CONSIDERED.

The bills and by-laws committee of the common council were in session yesterday afternoon, with Ald. Baxter in the chair. Bills for the legislature were discussed: To enable the city to issue bonds for water extension in Lancaster; to vest the appointment of the chief of police in the common council; and for the amendment of the market law to make it apply to the whole city in the way of licenses, and an act to prevent persons acquiring title by prescription to lands already expropriated and paid for by the city in the vicinity of Spruce Lake. The committee have under consideration a bill to regulate dealing in old junk and second hand goods and have proposed a by-law vesting in the chamberlain the collection of harbor revenues. A by-law will also be recommended to the council to prohibit the distribution of doggers and other similar pestiferous matter through the streets as well as to license bill boards and bill posters.
