

THE SEMI-WEEKLY TELEGRAPH, ST. JOHN, N. B., JUNE 24 1905.

ALL CANADIANS ARE INTERESTED IN THESE INTERNATIONAL RACES.

For the Seawanhaka, the Canada, and the America's Cup—
The First on Lake St. Louis; the Second Off Toronto, and the Third Off Sandy Hook—Some Remarks
About the Rival Yachts.

Three international yachting events are now beginning to arouse great interest among Canadian yachtsmen and the public generally. The first of these will be the races on Lake St. Louis, in the St. Lawrence, on July 30, 31 and Aug. 1, for the Seawanhaka cup, now held by the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club. The second will be the races off the harbor of Toronto, beginning Aug. 8, for the Canada cup, now held by the Royal Canadian Yacht Club. The third will be the great races off Sandy Hook, between the Reliance and Starbuck III, for the America's cup.

With regard to the first of these, the Canadian defender has not yet been selected. A series of trial races is scheduled for today at Lakeview, when the Thorold II, the Thetis and the Acadia will be the participants. It is expected that the Omsa will participate in all the trial races and after July 1 next, Thorold II appears to be a favorite, and is described as a capable racer in every respect. The challenging American yacht will probably be the Kootenai, of the Manchester Yacht Club. In the trial races she won three out of four and only lost the fourth by misjudgment in over-reaching at the finish line. The other contestants in the trial races off Manchester were the Vampire, Frontenac, Duke, Atlanta and Merida, but all except the Vampire were outclassed in light weather and well beaten in a gale of wind. The Vampire, however, which is also a Manchester boat, was a good second, and a dispatch says that after some alterations have been made she may also be sent to Lake St. Louis and tried out there with the Kootenai before the final races for the cup. But the general opinion is that the Kootenai will be the challenger. The St. Lawrence yachtsmen appear to regard her, from what they have heard of her, as a formidable competitor. She and the Vampire are expected to be at Montreal by July 10, to become acquainted with the peculiarities of Lake St. Louis.

The Canadian defender of the Canada cup in the races off Toronto, will be the Strathmore, and the challenger is the Ironclad, designed for a syndicate of Rochester (N. Y.) club men, and sent to be a formidable craft. She was built at City Island, and is now trying out on the waters of Long Island Sound. The Strathmore was designed and set up in Southampton (Eng.), but taken down,

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

J. Harvey Brown on the Management of the Halifax School for the Deaf and Dumb.

To the Editor of The Telegraph:—
Sir,—Referring to your remarks in Saturday's issue of The Telegraph respecting the institution for the deaf and dumb at Halifax, I wish to direct the attention of your readers to two or three items which appear on the debit side of their balance sheet without any satisfactory explanation, viz:—

Interest on mortgage... $ 900.00
Interest on overdraft... 77.00
Sundries... 737.31
$1,715.30

These, in my opinion, should not be charged against what the institution spent for board and education, especially as the sum of $2,748.30 appears on the credit side of their account as "balance and interest" on the above $1,715.30. It will be seen from your previous calculation that the per capita cost of 116 pupils would be reduced to less than $130 per annum while our good results have been provided for the payment of $165 for each pupil. In view of this, and with a building suitable for the purpose offered free of rent, and equipped by generous contributions from our own citizens, there seems no reason why a competent staff of teachers and other officials should not be provided and equally good results realized on behalf of the children in conjunction with whatever benefits may accrue to their parents and our city by reason of the school being established in our midst.

Possibly at the beginning our equipment for manual training would be lacking but let us see what this amounts to in Halifax and in order that no injustice be done, allow me to quote from the principal's report of 1901:—

"The teaching of trades in an institution like this with limited means will never be a great success. In a good printing office or workshop where all manner of work is being done, a boy would get more real experience in three months than he could get in three years in a workshop such as could be carried on here."

"The teaching of trades in this province has not been successful in the past, and it is not likely to be so in the future. The time for the introduction of manual training for the boys and domestic science for the girls being necessary to allow them to become self-sufficient."

"A time table, sure, but no curriculum. A time table to prevent overwork, but the curriculum, the principal but no proper standard by which to judge of the progress made from year to year nor to which the pupils are expected to attain within the school period."

Then as regards the number of children in attendance, it appears that while the management of the institution at Halifax is seeking to secure this province, the New Brunswick pupils and the government to a contract for a term of years in order, no doubt, to prevent a school being established in this province, children within their own province are often neglected and once more I quote from the report of the "principal":—

"In spite of all that has been done to secure the most remote limits a knowledge of the institution and of the benefits to be derived there, a considerable number of deaf children of school age who are not under instruction."

Now, sir, it is within my knowledge that the children of this province, who have been introduced to the Halifax school, they remain away for months and sometimes during a whole term simply because there is no one sufficiently interested to secure their return. To prove my assertion, I enclose copy of a letter addressed to the principal and directors of the Halifax institution for the Deaf and Dumb in April, 1890, together with their reply, from which it will be seen that on visiting Yarmouth in 1890, I found four deaf and four deaf children of school age who had been introduced to the school but who had not returned. To prove my assertion, I enclose copy of a letter addressed to the principal and directors of the Halifax institution for the Deaf and Dumb in April, 1890, together with their reply, from which it will be seen that on visiting Yarmouth in 1890, I found four deaf and four deaf children of school age who had been introduced to the school but who had not returned.

These three were committed to my care under the promise that I would give them some attention, so a request was made that they be sent to the institution and allowed to visit my home occasionally. This was denied by the president of the board of directors individually and afterwards by the board as such.

At the meeting at which my letter was considered a special rule was made for the benefit of the pupils, that if at the closing of the school, an attempt was made to force these children to return to Yarmouth by steamer while I had their tickets for return by rail.

Now, Mr. Editor, I submit that if these things be true and I stand prepared to demonstrate my statements, it would be wise policy on the part of those in authority to encourage the establishment of a school for the deaf here in St. John, leaving the parents free to choose for themselves as to whether or not in the best interests of their children to send them to Halifax rather than to the St. John school. It is the intention of those co-operating with me to have the school properly equipped with a competent staff of experienced teachers according to the practice of a pupils likely to be in attendance and our government, having provided for a liberal grant towards the maintenance of the children, surely it might be left to the discretion of the parents as to which school the children shall attend.

Thanking you for your space, I remain, Yours, etc.,
J. HARVEY BROWN.

COLLEGE SUNDAY AT ROTHESAY.

The services at St. Paul's church, Rothesay, Sunday were of an especially interesting nature. At the morning service a beautiful stained glass window in memory of the late Mrs. L. J. Almon was dedicated and an eloquent sermon in keeping with the occasion preached by Rev. F. Partridge, D. D., dean of the cathedral at Fredericton.

In the afternoon the boys of the college school were present in number about sixty-five and the music was furnished by a choir of the boys assisted by a male quartette from the city under Mr. Colman's direction. The church was beautifully adorned with flowers and was filled to overflowing. The address to the boys by Dean Partridge was exceedingly practical and impressive.

The Rev. A. W. Daniel, rector of Rothesay, and Rev. Dr. Raymond, of this city, assisted in the service. The male quartette was composed of Charles Knight, W. H. Belding, Charles McKelvie and W. Girvan. The closing exercises of the Rothesay Boys' College will be held on Thursday and Friday and a varied and attractive programme has been provided. The Artillery Band will be present on Friday afternoon.

Dynamiting for Trout?

St. Martins, June 20.—H. W. Rogers, C. D. I. Black, W. H. Lemont and Don McDonald, of Amherst, and W. E. Skillee, of St. Martins, spent the week at the head Lake very pleasantly, notwithstanding the unfavorable weather. A fine catch of beautiful trout was secured and the Amherst gentlemen returned to their homes full of enthusiasm of a most enjoyable trip. This favorite lake during the present season is reported as having been abundantly stocked, evidences of unlimited and indiscriminate fishing exist and nearly all the green woods about have been burnt, destroying the beauty of its surroundings, and worse than all, in the districts of the area of dynamite are apparent, it seems a pity that such a favorite lake cannot have some adequate protection.

New Pulp Mill.

The Nova Scotia Wood, Pulp & Paper Company, Ltd., of Mill Village, Queens county, are just completing an up-to-date ground wood mill, replacing the one burnt last June. The mill is equipped with four New England grinders, and the production of forty tons per day is all to be prepared to 33-65 per cent. The mill is admirably situated for trade with the United States or trans-Atlantic markets, and shipments are made the year around from Port Medway, where vessels of 6,000 tons can load, always adroit.
