LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL, Thursday 29th March, 1821.

Your Committee appointed to search for preedents in case of Privilege, and if any rivilege ought (under the Constitutional ct of the 31st of the late King, George the L) to belong to the Legislative Council of this rovince, and their Officers in Session, or during the Recess, and to report such matters geerally as may, in their opinion, give informaon on the subject,—Report that,

Deeply impressed, not only with the Constitional importance of the matter submitted to heir investigation, but with the delicate naure of the inquiry; they proceeded with as much are and attention as they were able, and preent, with great deference, the result of their laours to this Honorable House.

The principal thing to be determined by your committee, was the extent of the powers and rivileges exercised by Legislative bodies similarly constituted. And here, they were naturally directed to the Mother Country, as the Constitution conferred upon this Province, was declard to be the substance of that which she has enjudyed for comming ages. When the dritish Ministratoric of the 31st of his late. Majesty, King teorge III, he considered it a transcript of the critish Constitution, and in discussing the ropriety of a Legislative Council, he said
