

THE GREAT CANADIAN WEEKLY

THE HEARTHSTONE,

THE

Best Literary and Family Paper of America

ILLUSTRATED

Publishes Novels by the greatest writers of the day, such as Miss M. E. BRADDON, LOUISA ALCOTT, CHARLES READE, WILKIE COLLINS, EDMUND YATES, &c. &c., besides contributions by the best native talent of Canada, and the most popular authors of the United States.

In its columns are now being published

"A TERRIBLE TEMPTATION," by Charles Reade.

"CASTAWAY," by Edmund Yates.

"LITTLE MEN," by Louisa Alcott.

"WILL HE TELL?" by the Editor, Rev.
T. O. R. Keatinge, DD. LL.D.

In September it will begin the publication of

"POOR MISS FINCH!"

A NEW NOVEL BY WILKIE COLLINS.

All the above serials are the exclusive property of THE HEARTHSTONE in Canada, and those by English authors are printed from advance sheets, simultaneously with their appearance in London.

Besides these immense attractions, THE HEARTHSTONE presents its readers weekly with

Sparkling Editorials,

Epitome of Latest News,

Chosen Poetry,

Ladies' Column,

Literary Notes,

Gardener's Column,

Reviews, Tales,

Household Column,

Scientific Intelligence,

Correspondence,

Wit and Humour,

And carefully prepared Market Reports.

In fact we give more, and better reading matter, for a smaller sum than any other in the world. THE HEARTHSTONE is superior, on every point, to the most popular American weekly papers, while it is one-third cheaper. Compare them, and you will send in your subscription.

ONLY TWO DOLLARS PER ANNUM

Circulation, in second year of publication, already over 20,000!!

GEO. E. DESBARATS,

PUBLISHER, M.