

which the Cree Indian can learn to read in less than one month, and which has been the means of giving the Bread of Life to thousands of hungry souls. Here he resolutely withstood Sir George Simpson, Governor of the Territories, and the strong determination of the Hudson's Bay Co. to make null and void the keeping of the Lord's Day.

Self-sacrificing and grand was the life of this our first missionary to Norway House. At the early age of forty-six he heard the "signal of release," and, as men reckon time, his life was short; but he "Lived in deeds, not years.

. . . He most lives

Who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best."

Many and faithful have been the missionaries who have loyally unfurled Immanuel's banner at Norway House in the years that have come and gone since Mr. Evans first told the "Old, Old Story" to the sons of the forest gathered around their camp fires. It is still a lonely and distant post, yet the old log buildings have given place to comfortable and more modern structures, and some of the comforts of civilization have found their way even there. But above and beyond all, there are many Indians there who, in their repulsive heathenism, came to Jesus, were washed in the sin-cleansing blood, and are now telling to others what a Saviour they have found. Some who have heard these brethren pray, although in an unknown tongue, have felt that they knew the way into the secret presence of the Most High, and their loving and earnest importunities were being honored in the sensible presence and power of the Holy Spirit.

Our Student Volunteers.

THE Committee who have had in hand the arrangements for a Students' Missionary Campaign, to be carried on during the summer vacation, desire to call attention to the following response that has been made to the circular letter, sent out some days ago to each of the Methodist colleges. We hope to hear from others soon.

We wish to add that each of these men is open for work on missionary lines, if suitable arrangements can be made, within a reasonable distance of their various addresses. Some are already in their own centres, and most, if not all, will be by the beginning of June. A completed list will be made out soon, which will be sent on application.

Bread on the Waters.

THE following note was received in March, but was crowded out of the April number of the OUTLOOK. It requires no explanation:

DEAR DR. SUTHERLAND.—Enclosed please find a cheque for five dollars. The amount was sent by a lady in Connecticut, and is to be applied to mission work amongst the Indians around Lake Winnipeg. This lady bought a copy of my father's book, "By Canoe and Dog-Train" at the New York Christian Endeavor Convention, and became interested thereby in the work of Indian Missions. She lent the book to her friends after her return, on the condition that everyone who read it should give her five cents, promising that the money would be sent to help on the missionary work amongst the Indians where Mr. Young had labored. These friends read the book, and became so interested that five cents seemed too small a contribution. They added, and the other day I received a Postal note for the above amount. It is hoped that some more of the thousands of copies sold will stimulate their readers into helping on the work of Missions.

I am, dear Sir, sincerely yours,

E. RYERSON YOUNG, JR.

Hints For Our Young People.

THE following is an extract from an article published in the January OUTLOOK. That issue is exhausted, but as there are still many desiring information respecting working for a special object in our young people's societies, we have reprinted that portion referring to objects to which money may be appropriated.

While the General Board of Missions would much prefer that all contributions be given to the general fund, leaving the Board to apply them where most needed, they desire, nevertheless, to meet as far as practicable the wishes of our young people to have
