

....But Clayton Burns

Dear Editor:

I am very saddened to have to reply to Mr. Fryer's letter. I have attempted to restrain myself from making public comments about Mr. Fryer's actions and words.

Might I say briefly that his behaviour has been most objectionable on several points.

1) The quality and variety of photographs he has submitted to the yearbook. Almost all of his photographs are unuseable due to a lack of technical ability.

2) Inexperience in yearbook techniques. He has demonstrated absolutely no understanding of book publication.

3) Poor leadership and public relations skills. Mr. Fryer's constant attempts to exclude other people from working on the yearbook are very unhealthy. His staged "resignations" (of course Mr. Legassie is his personal friend) induce me bewilderment than dismay. Mr. Fryer, I say to you that your performance is very curious. I affirm, nevertheless, my absolute willingness to work with you or anyone else who wants to work on the Yearbook.

Yours sincerely,
Clayton Burns
