MBER 8, 1994.

g snow ; their charac-ble as the rock of ages. a pure sweet face and ebauchery, and I ask he calm, clear faces of women and tell me if re engraven the lines immoral lives. In the under their care they nly by word of mouth, ily lives, the essential ure and perfect woman. the good they did in ture character."

e for Discontent

hbishop of Cambray, day by an intimate and communicate to him being always easy. the good man. my secret, with great sists in nothing more a right use of your end begged him to ex-"Most willingly," shop. "In whatever first of all look up to remember my principal how to get there. n upon the earth, and now small a portion I it when I come to be en look abroad into the erve what multitudes in many respects, are than myself. Thus I ae happiness is placed; care must end; and I ery little reason I have wered Prayers.

octor of the Church. St. ys that there are three who pray and are not ree ways in which they

e who pray in a bad that is, a state of mortal er being regenerated by d always have his soul urity, instead of which has it in a state of sin. we should either be in ce or in one of heartfelt

Those who pray in an -with a heart full of disa mind overwhelmed oils and affairs of this They may be on their may be in the temple of but their hearts are not this is the case, eard, neither will God eir prayers. ose who ask for things ould not, viz., things of those which would be inn. God, who is all love, an for everlasting glo w is it possible that He s a petition which would o our own confusion and LICS OF THE WORLD.

280,000,000, and They Lord and One Creed.

er of Catholics in the buted at about 280,000,-have all one Lord, one ptism, one creed. They same sacraments, they he same altar, and pay giance to one common sublime and consoling is that, whithersoever a over the broad world, nters his church in Pekin , in London or Dublin, lew York, or San Fransure to hear of the same

SEPI EMBER 8, 1894.

IRISH HEROES. Famous Young Irelanders in Clonmel Jail.

The following authentic description of the confinement of the Young Ire-landers will be found especially interesting to readers of this generation. It is from the pen of "Sliabh Mis," and appeared in the Nation on Oct. 5,

There were heavy hearts in Clonmel jail on Saturday evening, Oct. 22, 1848. Thomas Meagher was in the dock awaiting the verdict of the jury who had tried him. The large cell at who had tried min. In the high cells at the top of the building, which was the sleeping apartment of McManus, O'Donohoe and Leyne, and the com-mon saloon during the day of some twenty others, was silent and cheer-the aparter table was covered The central table was covered with a miscellaneous equipage of carousal glasses of all shapes and sizes, caps, mugs, jugs and contraband black bottles, containing specimens of Irish resources, prescribed by the board but seditiously introduced for the comfort and jollification of a very boisterous gang of Irish rebels. Ordi-narily, at that hour, Meagher presided at our evening festivity. And such a capital president as he made ! He was the life of our circle—so frank, gifted and beloved. His humor, his eloquence, which stirred us even there, and his intrepidity were the sunshine that made the old walls seem brighter than a palace. Oh ! around that board I have had as glorious vision and felt as riotously happy as if no cloud were resting upon Ireland - as if no chain were clanking at my feet. Many a grand old Irish song was sung there ; many a gallant sentiment was uttered many an inspiring ballad recited many a broken-voiced lament whispered for the future, and many a pro phecy for the future success raptur-ously applauded. Within the four seas there was not, at times, so disorderly a body of criminals, mad with merriment; and, when the fit had passed, oh ! but there were deep and earnest communings of the past and conjectures of the future of our dear Ireland. On one night we

LISTENED TO FIERY SPEECHES, full of old spirit and burning eloquence that had roused the heart of the nation, the words falling like the fiery tongues on the apostles. On another we masqueraded at a concert, Meagher leading the band on his clarionet, accompanied by twenty manly voices and every variety of sound that could be extracted from accordions, kettles, tins and tongs. On the next, we fought at the barricades. A heavy table used to be placed in the centre of the room and taken possession of by half the detachment ; the other moiety stormed the garrison. We fought with pillows-very formidable and destructive weapons, if properly handled. Such charges, such shouts, such blows, such defences, such drubbings! I think I should be valuable as a barricade man after that warm practice and invigorating discipline. I would en-gage to tumble the most stalwart member of the "B" division if I had choice of my weapon, a short, hard crammed pillow, or symmetrical bolster that would swing like Boadicea's flail. The contest lasted till we could fight no more. To a spectator the meetings around that mess table would have worn the appearance of the festive gathering of an insurgent camp, not the poor prison revels of conquered rebels. Lord, how we frightened the jail from its proing key verse: And then, as the approach of priety ! one of the prison officers was heard, all the evidences of seditious enjoyment disappear with miraculous celerity, and on the entrance of the grave governor (who was a good fellow at heart), one half of us would be found buried in books, the other devoted to the innocent and improving combinations of the profound science of backgammon. The remonstrance of the governor or his noble-souled, gen-erous deputy, would be listened to in hurra! affected respect and hypocritical silence. On his disappearance-good zealous man, convinced that he had converted us to "peace, law and order "--THE REVOLUTIONARY MANIA would break forth again and Clonmel jail be changed into a "model prison," according to our contumacious notions of "physical" enjoyment. Ah, these hours of prison life had their own joys ! bore flowers that for some of us shall ever bloom. They ripened friendships which the cold artificial world of intrigue and fashion knows not, with all its rigid formalities and genteel stupidities. This Saturday night there are no Meagher's place is vacant. But he is in all our thoughts. We canvas the chances of his escape ; and revels. every now and then one of us ap-proaches a window which overlooks the peasant, or nursed by the warm hospi-tality of the gentleman farmer, flying from the police patrols and the property of the gentleman farmer, flying from the police patrols and the others transcribing ballads from the Library of Ireland, others sketching portraits of Meagher, Michael O'Brien and Duffy, and one or two drawing pikes of formidable proportions on the whitened walls with the original hounds of the castle ; captured, hope- and typewriting, and various other less, convicted, condemned — never did one ignoble fear soil their purpose, It was a solemn hour. The fate of the most beloved of brothers trembled in the scale — the fate of him for nor one dastard regret violate the whose restoration we would have died with bounding joy. Suddenly the preconcerted signal is given from below, and the message delivered to us that "the jury had disagreed." Not a sound for a moment, and then such a thrilling crayon, a charred stick.

UPROARIOUS SHOUT OF JOY arose as never issued from mortal voices since the angels sang the world's birth hymn. Alas, our deli-rium was but short lived. Another signal from below, and this the message of doom: "The report was false! He is convicted. They are bringing him from the court!" I shall not seek to paint the change that fell like the announcement of eternal woe to us poor disenchanted mourners. Then came bursts of sorrow and im-precations of rage. We had borne up against every reverse and discom-fiture. We had seen three others torn from us and doomed by the law. But while Meagher remained we scarcely knew a regret — certainly had not utterly despaired. But now—now !" They did bring him from the court. We received him at the end of the corridor, and through the iron gateway grasped his hand. We had not the usual welcome for him this night. He laughed gaily when he met us : "Good night, boys ! Here I am, and found guilty ; and glad, too, that they did convict me, for if I had been acquitted the people might say I had not done my duty ! I am guilty and condemned for the old country. Come in, come into the cell and let me have my dinner." We accom-panied him to the cell. Some of us could not remain. Leyne stood on the corridor, weeping bitterly. O'Dono-hoe was spellbound at the doorway. McManus, shaking with agitation, held Meagher in his arms. The young convict was deeply affected by these evidences of grief and affection . But he soon recovered composure, and coming into the passage, drew us into boarding houses. the room—"Come in — come in — I'm starved. Let us have one hour's fun."

We His spirit infected us by magic. sat around him and heard the DETAILS OF HIS TRIAL. given with inimitable humor and mimicry. He had us all laughing at his drollery in a few minutes. I shall never forget the merriment McManus evoked by asking, in his fiercest tone, when Meagher had finished his recital : "I say, Meagher, did you say any-thing to the scoundrels when the ver-dict was read?" Meagher shrieked We had an hour's fun. As Davis has sung of another gathering : "With bumpers and cheers we did as he bade. For Tom Meagher was loved by the Irish Bri-We drank to O'Brien and Butt. We pasted "The Convicted Traitors ;" Gavan Duffy and the prisoners in Newgate and Kilmainham," and pledged a brimming glass to "The Irish Republic." Meagher, O'Donohoe and Leyne spoke speech after speech, and the last sang Duffy's noble song, "Watch and Wait," to a chorus that made the old walls reel again. How rapturously we thundered the concludcerned, the meetings are held with "Brother, if this day should set Another yet must crown our freedom : That will come with roll of drum. And trampling files with men to lead them. Who can save Renegade or slave ? Fortune oult wings her garlands For the brave ! "Gintlemin," observes an intrusive turnkey, poking his head inside the door, "the governor has heard the shoutin' an' he's coming up, flamin' mad," "Oh, the d-I take all governors to-night. Hurra, boys, tailty of the gentieman farmer, hying from the police patrols and the RECREANTS FROM DUBLIN who dogged their steps as the sleuth winter, special instruction in shorthand

THE IDEAL.

sults have not been accomplished.

And I say to you, poor, cringing slaves of Ireland, that beyond his glory in the tribune, beyond the fame which diademed his brow, beyond young men into one organization in-stead of half a dozen in the same city ; all the triumphs of his eloquence, beyond the dominion of your passions, beyond the witching homage of fair women and the affection of bold men, was the grandeur of the intrepid bear-2, the provision of useful and structive sources of relaxation ; 3, the institution of continuous interesting works, ing of the young orator of revolution either of an instructive or amusing when he stood rejoicing, defiant and nature, which rivet the attention and inspired in the shadow of the gibbet, enthusiasm of the members and excite content "to bear the cross with the their individual co-operation. same loftiness of soul with which he Taking these three points as start ers ; the formation of an ideal Catholic had worn the laurel crown." Seven days later, and it was whispered that the humane Govern-ment of Her Most Gracious Majesty, be very difficult. Queen of England and various other countries, whether through remorse of policy I know not, had delicately recommended that the hungry hangman should be robbed of the prey allotted to him by the law. A grace purchased by no "selfish penitence," by no apologies from the "condemned cells." There was no loval inhibitor for this exertion of the apocryphal pre-rogative. Neither "God Save the Queen," nor "Rule, Britannia," echoed in the prison. The "Marseillaise and "The Wearing of the Green were our Vesper hymns.

WHERE SHALL THEY GO?

An Ideal Association For Catholic Young Men.

A topic of inexhaustible interest has been raised by a statement in the editorial columns of the Catholic Review, entitled : "No Place to Go." The force of the question does not apply so directly to the young men dwelling with their parents, as to the great multitude of young men living lished into which these several associa away from their parents, beginning their career in the world unmarried, and dwelling in hired lodgings or

That the question is one of serious moment, no one interested in the social elevation of our young men, and in the general well-being of society above all petty jealousies, ambitions and other components of discord. resulting therefrom, will deny. They must be conscious, too, of the fact, that in the many various Catholic that one palatial structure will not suffice build another ; but let it be only a associations scattered throughout the country, there is an undefined something wanting, which renders them Catholic Association." practically useless for the attainment of the special end for which they were instituted. We see the picture of a Catholic association, organized under the most favorable auspices, the Clubhouse fitted up in comfortable if not extravagant style, some few attractions, such as a library or the nucleus of one, a pool table or two, perhaps a gymnasium is added in the course of time. When all these necessaries have been obtained, the association congratulates itself upon being in perfect working order, the enthusiasm of the members is aroused, the future brilliant with radiant promises of success. But what is the actual ex-perience? After the first heat of excitement has simmered down, the Club house is practically deserted ; it is deserted as far as the purposes for which it was instituted are conscrupulous regularity, but it is ex-tremely difficult to bring together the necessary quorum. Entering the atinstitution, one is st sports, and a team sent out which could compete successfully with any in the section. A cycling track where members would be taught to use the "wheel would be a desirable addition. In con nection with the grenasium would be the swimming school in summer and free baths in winter which could be fitted up in some part of the extensive useful, sustaining, or in some way profitable and interesting methods of filling up the spare hours. Summed building occupied by the association. The two last mentioned accessories up in a few words, the secret of success would in themselves attract members, for I am personally aware of the fac Young Men's Christian Association as that Catholic young men have joined the Young Men's Christian Association a model, is : 1, in the compactness of its membership, bringing together the chiefly to participate in the benefits of the swimming school.

A PERMANENT ATTRACTION The third necessarium for the Cath elements combined with olic Association is the establishment of a permanent attraction. I have men tioned above how the Young Men's Christian Association started with a nightly prayer meeting. We do not want anything of that kind, but in its place let us have, during the Fall, Winter and Spring months, at least, a nightly lecture interspersed with de association, at least in theory, will not bates and musical and dramatic en tertainments, which will not only In the first place it will be readily prove a source of improvement for the members individually, both morally conceded by all who have ever been connected with our young men's Cathand intellectually, but, being open to the general public, will increase the olic associations, that they are not one, that is to say, they are divided and revenue of the association and enable sub-divided until in point of memberit to carry on its supplementary works ship there is very little left of them besides this, it will be beneficial in spreading abroad the fame and success In Baltimore the nearest approach to Union is the United Catholic Literary of the association. It may be objected that I have drawn Association ; but this cannot be called up the plan of my ideal association modeled on the lines of the Protestant a distinct association, for it is made up of delegates from numerous other organizations, each having the interinstitution for young men, Well what follows? Are we to reject a Well. est of his own association to forward even at the expense of the others, hence means teeming with genuine good, because it has been adopted by those unanimity and concord can scarcely be expected. Indeed, those who have outside the Church? Are we so narrow-minded that we will not ac been foremost in this movement are forced to day to deplore that better recept a lesson from Protestants which we may apply with even better fruit than they? If so, I say to the Catho With the knowledge dearly bought by experience before you, will you not at least consider the plan which I shall lic young men, keep on in your old grooves and ruts, divide yourselves into as many associations as possible attempt to outline, promising that all individuality local, parochial or sec-tional be wiped away: let a Young lessen each year your attractive ele ments, let the members seek else-where outside the Church the in-Men's Catholic Association be estab tellectual and moral refreshment they should draw from you, but be tions will be merged, not by delegation but by actual enrollment of mem ware lest, while they are advancing in useful and intellectual acquirebers. For this purpose it will be neces sary to dismember each separate club. ments, they are not also losing their priceless gift of Faith. For this reaand from their ruins construct a great and goodly edifice which shall tower son, if for no other, it would seem en-cumbent upon pastors of souls to think eriously of this renovation of our Catholic Young Men's societies throughout Should the membership become so large the country. There is no time like the present for starting the movement. branch of the first, and over the portals Let us at least make the experiment, let the legend read "The Young Men's and I am confident that the result will exceed the most sanguine expectation. -E. C. Kane in Catholic Mirror.

THE SECOND ELEMEMT. The second necessary element of the ideal association should be the establishment of permanent instruction which would comprise the useful, the intellectual and the amusing. In the A new remedy for dyspepsia and stomach trouble has made its appearline of utility, a permanent course of book-keeping, type-writing and sten ance in southern Oregon. It is noth-ing less than a spoonful of common, every day, river bottom sand, taken ography would certainty be most advantageous and quickly grasped by scores of our young men who, em-ployed during the day, and desirous of wet just after meals. William Bybee a well-known citizen, and proprietor of Bybee's Springs, is supposed to be the originator of this queer remedy, bettering their condition, are looking for just such an opportunity, where the expense incurred will be nominal. And the very fact of these nightly but quite a number of veracious gentle men testify to its curative properties, classes, held for an hour or two, would which are supposed to take the form of mechanical action by carrying off im be an incentive to the members to fre quent the association and enjoy the purities from the mucous lining of the ther attractions and amusements as walls of the stomach. "Take sand relaxatives after the labors of the day. is quite a popular piece of advice around Ashland when any one com-In the intellectual line, or the mean for intellectual advancement, a course plains of chronic stomach trouble. of lectures should be scheduled. there is no patent on the sand, that commodity being within the reach of The embracing scientific and historical subjects with screen illustrations, and also a course of moral and social subjects

That Tired Feeling, Constipation and Pain in the Back Appetite and Health Restored by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Broken in Health

3

St. Catherine's, Ont

C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass. To a number of years I have been troubled th a general tired feeling, shortness of breath, with a general tred teering, shortness of totalin, pain in the back, and constipation. I could get only little rest at night on account of the pain and had no appetite whatever. I was that tired in my limos that I gave out before half the day was gone. I tried a great number of medicines but did not get any permanent relief from any chased a bottle of Hood's Sarsap i made me feel better at once. I hav d its use, having taken three bottles I Feel Like a New Man. over F

Hood's the Cures

I have a good appetite, feel as strong as ever i did, and enjoy perfect rest at night. I have nch pleasure in recommending Hood's Sarsa-rilla." CHARLES STEELE, with Erie Pre-rving Co., St. Catherine's, Ostario. Nood's Pills are prompt and efficient, yet asy in action. Sold by all druggists. 25c.

Dominion Catholic Reading Charts
Introductory to the Dominion
Catholic Series, and to accom-First Reader. Part L. Twenty-First Reader. Part I. Twenty- S pany the Dominion Catholie D First Reader. Part I. Twenty- seven Charts mounted on Four-Dominion Catholic First Reader,$ c. $ c
Part I	1
Dominion Catholic First Reader,	0
	5
	0
	0
Dominion Catholic Complete Speller 2 79	90
Elementary Studies in English	0
Grammar	30
Elementary Studies in English Grammar	25
Colored Map.)	20
Outlines of Canadian History, (With Colored Man) 2 40	25
Colored Man)	39
Child's Catechism of Sacred History, 1 00	10
	10
Dominion Edition of Payson, Dutton & Scribner's Penmanship, Large size or advanced course in 12 80	10
	10
Small size or Primary Short Course 60	7
in 5 Numbers	•
Small size Tracing Course-Letters 40	5
	2
Patent Cover and Blotter, Small size 16 Large 18	-
The Hand Book of Penmanship for Payson, Dutton and Scribner's Cour e First Lessons in Book keeping by Williams & Rogers 7 20
The New Theoretical and Practical Instructive Book · keeping by Williams & Rogers	25
The New Theoretical and Practical
Complete Book keeping, by Win 10 80 2 liams and Rogers	00
Catholia School History of England.
With Fine Colored Mans	75 with Five Colored Mapartine .
Complete Lines of School Stationery.
Complete Lines of Benest
00
D. & J. SADLIER & CO.
	ma
Catholic Publishers, Church Ornamenta s	anse.
Religious Articles.
1669 Notre Dame St. 115 Church St.

MONTREAL. TORONTO. WEBSTER'S DICTIONARY -AND-

The Catholic Record for One Year FOR $4.00. As commodity being within the reach of the poorest of us, this article cannot be called a patent medicine advertise-ment.

THE CATHOLIC RECORD.

all. Her creed is now h that of the past ages. f peace that Jesus Christ the mount, the same doc-. Peter preached at An-me, St. Paul at Ephesius, hrysostom at Constanti-Augustine at Hippo, St Milan, St. Regimus in Boniface in Germany, St. n Alexandria; the same St. Patrick introduced d. that St. Augustine k to England, and St. nto Scotland, is ever he Church throughout the January to Decemberist yesterday and to day

Being Thought Pious.

sts a feeling among many t an adherence to the forms tends to make us stiff, priggish. These people, if told, are not over friendly m they style as a term of re-ous." Surely this feeling Surely this feeling stake. If they whose lives dance with the higher law happy and fearless men who can be? A happiness er of living and thinking from being habitually laid almighty, we may rest as-ot in the best sense healthy. gion is not a kill toy, but nor can there be too much

YOU take medicine for? Be-nt to get well, or keep well, of nember Hood's Sarsaparilla

With Invalids. nvalids the appetite is caparici-coaxing, that is just the reason so rapidly under Scott's Emul-as palatable as cream.

Be painting as cream: ses are more or less occasioned B. B. Cures the following Shingles, Erysipelas, Itching Rheum, Scald Head, Eruptions Blotches, by removing all ^{jar} the blood, from a condon worst Scrofulous Sore. Liniment Cures D-adraff.

street and communicates with a secret sentinel, who brings news from the court house. How eagerly we specu-late on every report that reaches uson the character, position and, alas ! religion of each juryman—on the de-lay in the finding of the verdict. The table and its stores are deserted. O'Donohoe, who, with O'Brien and Mc-Manus, had been already convicted, lies on his bed in an agony of suspense for the issue of the night. He idolized Ireland. for the issue of the night. He idolized —he absolutely lived but to think of Meagher. McManus, erect as a rifle-gang of rebels in Clonmel jail, have I Oh ! often in loneliest solitude in that man on parade, strides vehemently up

"' Who can save Renegade or slave ? Fortune only twines her garlands For the brave !'

Hurra, again." The poor turnkey stands aghast. Enter governor, look-ing "bolts and bars." "Gentlemen, to your cells. This is most improper conduct. I shall report to the board and have you separately confined." Meagher intercedes. "The fault is his. He is the head and cause of the irregularity. But as he is with delight.

GOING TO BE HANGED he hopes the board will not sentence him to solitary confinement, in ad-dition to that decisive discipline." Loud laughter from governor, corps of turkeys and rebels. Exeunt omnes, in good humor, shaking hands fiercely. This was the celebration of the con viction. There was no shrinking with-in the jail. Three days before the prison officers had been seen by some of our comrades examining "the drop," preparing the scaffold for the sacrifice of the genius, the hope, the forsaken chivalry of the trembling The appointed victims knew country. The appointed victims knew this. And still the love of Ireland, which had been their pure and glorious incentive, made them rejoice to mount the bloody platform of execu-tion, carpeted with the torn banners of thought of the heroism and intrepidity of the traitors. When hope was wild mosphere of chilling coldness greeting him, despite the glare of countless delivered by a prominent member of the clergy, will be most beneficial. It may perhaps be difficult at first to electric lights and gas jets that cast quaint ghastly shadows everywhereawaken the interest of Catholic young men in these matters, but with the aid quaint gnastly shadows everywhere— from parlor to gymnasium—ghosts of the promises that have never seen fulfilment. I ask myself: "Where is the club? Where are the members? of zealous priests co-operating, and the nntiring perseverance on the part of the managers, striding undaunted over ever obstacle, magnificent results must accrue. For the hall in which the lec-Where are the Catholic young men for whom this institution was founded?" Probably a majority of those who are tures are held being well equipped not living with their parents will be found in the more tempting quarters of the Young Men's Christian Associawith the latest improvements of stage and seating facilities, literary and dramatic features could be introduced into the association, and the dry tion, perhaps in the saloon, perhapsmay God forbid!-in the low gambling ness of the lecture course varied with a debate or a play, both of these serving den.

PROTESTANT ASSOCIATIONS.

The greatest feature in Protestant the members. As to the amusements, comprising especially recreative sports, associations is their wonderful unanimity, the quality of "holding together" the gymnasium must always come first, which is the first requisite in all organizations no matter what their separate many sports and exercises. The gym-nasium must be large, the whole, or or individual interests may be. Among the associations which are strictly Progreater part of the lower floor of the testant as regards religion, and strictly building, space being one of the abso-lute necessaries for a gymnasium. It American as regards nationality, the Young Men's Christian Association holds first place.

must of course be fully equipped with all the latest applicances for healthy There are gathered together all Protestant young men of respectable exercise; and an instructor who can, when needed, fill the position of trainer, must be added. In the winter character regardless of sect or denomination. There is not a separate organmonths, with a screen or net, made of stout roping, around the room to pro-tect the windows and the plastering, the base-ball nine could be trained in the gameaium. Lhave witnessed this ization for each and every Church and congregation, the lines upon which it is organized are the broadest, admitting to membership oftentimes those of the gymnasium. I have witnessed this a different creed. The object of this with good results at Fordham College, New York. Here, too, the members institution was to give Protestant young men "a place to go" that would be free from the temptations and could be trained in other athletic dangers that beset all unattached

The torture of dyspepsia and sick head-ache, the agonizing itching and pain of salt thoum, are removed by Hood's Sarsaparilla. young men in a city. It began in a small way with many peculiar Protestant adjuncts, chiefly among which was the regular "prayer meeting." This may cause some of my readers to smile ;

Take Sand for Dyspepsia.

THE LATEST CURE.

the poorest of us, this article cannot be called a patent medicine advertisement.
Home and Abroad.
It is the duty of everyone, whether at home or travelling for pleasure or business, to equip himself with the remedy which will keep up strength and prevent illness, and care such ills as are liable to come upon all is every day life. Hood's Sarsaparila keeps the blood pure and less liable to absorb the germs of disease.
Hood's PILLS are hand made, and perfect in proportion and appearance. 25c per box. Mrs. Celeste Coon, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "For years I could not cat any kinds of food mit unequaled for base years of the about 30,000 square increases in my stomach. I took Parmele's Pills according to directions under the head of the best years of the astilar standard stree, containing about 300,000 square increases without distressing me in the least." These pills do not cause pain or gripping, and should be used when a cathartic is required. Gentlemen. — I have used your Yellow of and have found it unequaled for burns, sprains, scalds, rheumatism, croup and colds. All who use it recommend it. Mrs. Highl, Montreal Que.
Parents buy Mother Graves'Worm Externing the increase of the cathor is a safe medicine for their children and an effectual expeller of the increase of the cathor's II of Uters musice and strades and stand strease of the cathor's II of Uters musice and strades. All orderes musice and strade is a safe and is more the action of the strease of the cathor's II of the base ty statisfactory to the purchaser it may be returned at our expension. A pay set of the ast part of the strease with the Dictionary. These pills do not cause pain or gripping and should be used when a cathartic is required.
Gentlemen. — I have used your Yellow Oil and have found it unequaled for burns, sprains, scalds, rheumatism, croup and cold. All who use it recommend it. Mrs. Highly Monter Graves'Worm Externing the incrediate and as a stat of the cathor of the ast there there their purpose of instruction and at the same time keeping up the interest of because it is a kind of compendin of Parents buy Mother Graves'Worm Exterm-inator because they know it is a safe medicine for their children and an effectual expeller of It worms. Where can I get some of Holloway's Corn Cure ? I was entirely cured of my corns by this remedy and I wish some more of it for my friends. So writes Mrs. J. W. BROWN, Chicago.

Minard's Liniment relieves Neuralgia.

LONDON. ONT

5, 10 & 20C. PLUGS.

MAKE "UNION"

NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Coughs. NORWAY PINE SYRUP cures Bronchitis NORWAY PINE SYRUP heals the lungs. ITS SALES ARE

BURDOCK PILLS, small, safe and sure, regulate the liver and cure Constipation.

DR. LOW'S PLEASANT WORM SYRUP removes worms of all kinds from children or adults.

THAT HACKING COUGH can be quickly cured by Hagyar 1's Pectoral Balsam. Price 25c,

