Stand I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the Statinstant, in reply to one addressed by me to Lett. Colonol Ruses, the Civil Secretary.—Through your reply I am informed that, it is not for His Excellency to admit, for a morement, that parties brought in castody to this city, and bound over by the Chief Janice of Upper Canada, to answer a charge of a very heaton to the fact of parties having been bound over a charge of a very heaton to be seen to brought down and bound over illegally. It is not for shown to be seen to brought down and bound over illegally of being bound over by the Chief Janice of Upper Canada, that is not selected to the fact of parties having been bound over my mergerated to the fact of parties having been bound over my my impression on its reply to the chief Janice of Upper Canada. My letter samply sustes that the parties had, been brought down illegally. I will not pressine to call in brought down illegally. I will not pressine to call in the alegation there made. But this such was the fact, in canadished by the act, of the Chief Justice of Upper Canada, who declared it to be illegal, and discharged the Canada, who declared it to be illegal, and discharged the parties from the arrest. By the fact that the Attoriery-General found is necessary to fall one windownstana, apon which to ground his application for new arrests, for this the parties tought to indemnity. That they were filegally brought down, cannot be denied and the Sault, the parties were informed that the Magistrates acted in wecordance with their instructions to act as they did; for all this wrong there must be a remedy somewher. If the Magistrates excels in wecordance with their instructions from the Government that assued those instructions?

When His Excellency commands you? to express his tions? When Has Excellency commands you, "see express his desire, to look: with indulgence upon such of the Indians as have been malead into a violation of order," it surely would have been but common justice upon the part of His Excellency for the new secretained whether any one had misled them, and whether they had in any way outraged the laws of the land.

His Excellency "declines to communicate with them through one alleged to be himself a party to the outrage." If His Excellency are consistently communicate with these men, who are under the same charge, how can be draw the distinction with regard to me! If he does, then he must act upon some prejudgment, as to the culpability of parties; and I humbly submit, that His Excellency has no right to charge one with any culpability until it shall have been proven; and I missitain that, upon my part, I would have been perfectly justifiable in unitting with the parties allated to in their demand. I cannot perceive how! could be precluded from making a demand for a wrong done trie, because I was charged with a misdementor.

would have been in their demand. I cannot perceive how I could be precluded from making a demand for a wrong done me, because I was charged with a misdement.

The whole tenor of your communication implies, that the Indiana, and particularly myself, have been guilty of a very heinous officice. You will pardon megi I deny the fact, and charge upon the Government itself the wrong and outnags, which the tendency of your letter has to fix upon the Indiana. You are well aware that, about to fix upon the Indiana. You are well aware that, about four years ago, the Government took poissession of the lands of these people without their consent, and received lands of these people without their consent, and received lands of these sends a large sum of moiety. The Indiana did nothing then but intimate their right to be paid. Every year from that time deputation after deputation has gone to the head of the Government urging their rightin claims. They received promises only to be broken again, and again harrassed and wearind out by containt but fruitless applications for common justice. Wilassess of the different treatment extended to their brethrea living which the American limes, who receive yearity a large sum of moiety for their lands, can you be surprised that discontent and irritation should prevail among these people.

A year ago it was resolved among them to drive the miners from their lands. They were induced again to send a deputation to Montreal;—a treaty was at ength promised; faith was again broken, and isnut added to the wrong. The resolves that had been heretofore made were carried into effect, and, under the peculiar circumstance in which I was placed, I deemed it right and advabable to accompany them. They repossessed themselves of it, committed not violence, were guilty of no outrage whatever. The party upon the ground admitted the Indiana right, and yielded possession. The land was their own. If the Indians committed a wrong in taking possession of their own property, they were driven to it by the acts of t
