King George, General Haig and David Lloyd George Praise "Somme" Battle Pictures.

O N THE EVENING OF SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 2nd, the official War Office film, "The Battle of the Somme," was by royal command exhibited at Windsor Castle. There were present besides His Majesty, Her Majesty the Queen, the party from the royal household and others. Captain J. C. Fairthorpe, of the General Headquarters and Lieutenant E. Distin Maddick, representing the War Office, were in charge of Miss Pearl Miller spent Friday in The King expressed to them his unqualified approval of the "Battle of the Somme" pictures, and advised the British public and that of the Empire at large, to see them. Both officers in charge of the film had the honor of being presented to their st., will be at home to her friends majesties and receiving royal congratulations.

The King's Advice:

"The public should see these pictures that they may have some idea of what the army is doing and what war means."

THE KING

SIR DOUGLAS HAIG,

HON. DAVID LLOYD-GEORGE.

Edited by General Haig These wonderful pictures comprise the first war film to be allowed out of England without coming before the British censor. They were released for public exhibition as a tribute to the heroism of the British army, including the expeditionary forces of the British Dominions beyond the seas. And the sub-titles and explanatory notes were edited by Sir Douglas Haig himself. As the film stands it is official, and must not be tampered with. If it shows something of the horror of war, it shows more of British hero"THIS IS YOUR DUTY.

"THIS IS YOUR MISSION."

"I am convinced that when you have seen this wonderful picture, every heart will beat higher in sympathy with its cause and purpose, which is no other than that every one of us at home and those abroad shall see what our men at the front are doing and suffering for us, and how their achievements have been made possible by the sacrifices at home.

"Be up and doing also! See that this picture, which is in itself an epic of self-sacrifice and gallantry, reaches everyone. Herald the deeds of our brave men to the ends of the earth. This is your duty.

"Ladies, I feel that no word is necessary to urge upon you the importance of throwing in the whole ardor and strength of your invaluable aid. Mothers, wives, sisters affianced ones—your hearts will beat, your voices speak, in honor and glory of the living and the dead. You are great and powerful. This is your mission."—David Lloyd-George.

Copies of this film have reached Canada and will be presented for public exhibition in the best theatres, under the auspices of the leading Canadian newspapers in the chief cities from coast to coast. In Brantford this wonderful record of British heroism and of British victory will be shown under the auspices of The Brantford Courier, at the Colonial Theatre, November 2, 3, 4. In order that as many people as possible may see this wonderful picture, a popular price will be charged for every seat in the house, 25c. Matinees daily.
