The average reign of monarchs of England during the last nine hundred years is given by statisticians at twenty three years. Queen Victoria reigned over sixty three years, making a record without parallel in the history of the country. Only two of the English kings came near the mark.
George III., who was eighty one years of age when he died, occupied the throne for over fifty nine years, while Henry III., reigned for fifty six years. No other monarch in the lengthy period mentioned got into the fifties, but Edward III., was on the throne for forty nine years. No continental ruler, either, had so long a reign as Queen Victoria.

KING EDWARD'S MESSAGE TO HIS COLONIAL SUBJECTS

The King has sent the following message to all the British Colonies and Dependencies:

To My People Beyond the Seas,—
"The countless messages of loyal sympathy that I have received from every part of my dominions over seas, testify to the universal grief in which the whole Empire now mourns the loss of my beloved mother. In the welfare and prosperity of her subjects throughout Great Britain, the Queen ever evinced a heartfelt interest. She saw with thankfulness the steady progress which, under wide extension of self-government, they had made during her reign. She warmly appreciated their loyalty to Her Throne and person, and was proud to think of those who had so nobly fought and died for the Empire's cause in South Africa. I have decided that it will be my constant endeavor to follow the great example which has been bequeathed to me. In these endeavors I shall have confident trust in the devotion and sympathy of the people, and of their several representatives Assembled throughout my vast Colonial Dominions. With such loyal support, I will, with the blessing of God, solemnly work for the promotion of the common welfare and security of our great Empire over which I have now been called to reign.
(Signed) EDWARD."

QUEEN VICTORIA'S DEATH

There never was such interest aroused over the death of one monarch and the accession of another as in the case of Victoria and Edward VII.
The Family Herald and Weekly Star, of Montreal, is being widely commended on the splendid way it reported and treated of these two important events. No other paper on the American Continent ever approached the Family Herald and Weekly Star in the completeness of its reports and profundity of its illustrations. The circulation of the Family Herald is increasing by leaps and bounds. It is no wonder. A paper that is superbly equipped for all emergencies deserves success.

Cause of the Delay.—Teacher— What made you so late?

your mother nearly an hour to do that.

other preparations should not induce you against "Putnam's." It was
