UPHOLSTERING

Is comparitively a new feature in connection with this store, but far from new to our upholsterers, who are workmen of much experience and proficiency. The pleased patrons of this new part of our house furnishing department are already so numerous that we have decided to give upholstery a prominent place in this store, so will accept any commission of yours, from recovering the smallest stool to the construction of the costliest cosy corner. Our stock of coverings, cords, gimps, and fringes, is varied enough to make your task of selection one of ease and delight. An estimate of cost from us will convince you that our prices are reasonable and right.

ATTENDED THE SCOTCH GAMES HERE-LIST OF THE WINNERS THE PROMOTERS NOT BY ANY MEANS DISCOURAGED.

The annual Caledonian games, held under the auspices of the Sons of Scot-land, took place yesterday at Athletic Park. The games and dancing con-tests were the greatest of successes tests were the greatest of successes but unfortunately the attendance was by no means what could be desired. This is attributable to several things. In the first place, the excursions of last week, gave most people a surfeit of holidaying, the weather of the morning gave a gloomy forcast of a dull and rainy day, and lastly, the excursion to the Eau to-day kept many from attending. However, the Scotchmen are undaunted by their fack of success, and are ready to go in again and win. Wm. Robertson and R. M. Paxton were out early this morning and they took the financial morning and they took the financial failure of the games philosophically. Asked if this would be the end of Caledonian games in Chatham, Mr. Robertson and the contract of the ertson said:

"I don't think so. You know the Scetch are hard to beat. Scotland is the only country in the world that has never been conquered, and we have a reputation to sustain. For my part I wouldn't give up, and I know a number who feel as I do. The concert last evening was one of the finest ever given in Chatham, and those who missed it certainly missed a treat. missed it certainly missed a treat. It was too bad that more didn't enjoy

The athletic contests were splendid and warmly participated in. Splendid sand warming participated in Spienda feats of strength, and any marked superiority shown by one competitor over another aroused applause from the audience. A. C. Gordon was mas-ter of ceremonies, James Maciachian, ter of ceremonies, James Machachan, secretary of Camp Carlyle, was entry clerk, James Caging was clerk of the course, and Chief Charteris, Dr. Charteris, John Darling, Sam. sisting.

The dancing was the finest ever seen in this section of the country, and the contests were close and the competition keen. The piping competitions were also exceedingly good find the excellence of the whole of this the excellence of the whole of this part of the program was so evident and the ability of those taking part so even that the judges had a difficult time giving their decisions. The judges ware J. J. MacJenan, firstonto, Duncan McMillan, Duller and W. W. Gordon, Glencoe.

IN THE EVENING. .

At 8 p. m. the grand-stand and bleachers of Athletic Park were filled with a crowd of almost 1,000 specta-tors, who had come out to enjoy the final event in the dancing competition and subsequently to go into raptures over the Scottish airs and classical music furnished by the Metropolitan Band, under the directorship of Harold Todd. This band justly enjoys a old Todd. This band justly enjoys a unique distinction in the musical world of Detroit. Although it is not large in numbers, as such bands go, being but twenty-five strong, the organization is a marvel of compactness. Every member is an artist, and the volume of sound in selections requiring snap and vim would do credit to handly wice its size. For two hours a band twice its size. For two hours the large crowd sat with contentment depicted on every countenance while the inspiring music rang out on the night air, and some of them would be sitting there yet if the band had just "played on." During the evening Pipers Johnston and Beaton played a duett, and W. W. Gordon, of Glentoe, brother of Organizer A. C. Gordon, contributed a song izer A. C. Gordon, contributed a song which touched the right cord in every Scotchman's breast. It was entitled "The Highlandman's Toast," and the singer was obliged to respond to an uproarous encore with "The Standard on the Braes o' Mar."

The competition for the silver medal of the value of $5, presented by Frank W. Charteris, Chief of Carlyle Camp, No. 82, was very keen. Those who danoed for the medal were, Georgie Sage, Ina Riddell, Barbara Spark, Lottie Spark, Susie McGill and May Willey. The little lasses did all they knew and a fine exhibition resulted. The medal was won by Miss May Willey all they knew and a fine exhibition resulted. The medal was won by Miss May Willey and the fortunate young lady received the mark of distinction at the hands of the donor in the presence of the spectators.

One of the features was the butterfly dance by Miss Georgia Sager, of Floden's Corners. Miss Sager was costumed in a beautiful yellow costume bedecked with numerous and conious flounces which she numerous and copious flounces which she used to good advantage. Her grace and agility were remarkable and she received a well deserved encore.

The Irish jig was the funniest event of the night. The quaint garb of green and red, supplemented by the orthodox Irish bonnets recalled to the minds of the kilties that after all the Scotchman emanated originally from the Emerald Isle, and should be proud, therefore, of their ancient extraction. The evening entertainment was concluded with the national anthem.

NOTES OF THE DAY.

All the competitors say that the games were managed better than any they have every yet attended.

County Councillor C. L. VonGunten and Mayor Peter Haggart, of Blenders, and Mayor Peter Haggart, of Blenders and Mayor Peter Haggart and Mayor Peter Hagg and Mayor Peter Haggart, of Blenheim were conspicuous in the grand stand. Byth are warm Scotchmen.

The officers of the society and the chairmen of the society and the chairmen of the different committees were: Chief, F. W. Charteris; Past Chief, R. Riddell; Chieftain, Adam Taylor; Secretary, James McLachkan; Fin. Treas of sports, Dr. Charteris, Chairmen of Committees, James Waugh, John Cummings, P. D. McKellar, R. M. Paxton, F. W. Charteris, and John Barking.

Hugh Macaulay, of the Ark, was one of the most enthusiastic of the spectators. When the bag-pipes play the Pibroch, the music grouse to life all the Scottish instinct asleep in the blood of the descendants of the warlike Macaulay clan and once again takes the Macaulays back to the heather on takes the Macaulays back to the heather on the hillside. In their minds they see the tartans wave, the broad claymores flourish, the pipers play and the clan is on the march. The picture, however, dies away with the music.
