TORTURED BY BURGLARS

Buffalo, July 16.—Because he would not deliver to two burglars the keys of his employer's house, Frank Smith, 45 years old, a coachman in the employ of John Gehm, a wholesale meat dealer, was horribly tortured Sunday morning and left for dead by his assailants.

Smith slept in a room above the barn at the rear of Gehm's house. He was awakened shortly after midnight by two masked men, who demanded the keys of the house. Smith refused to give them up and the burglars then began a series of revolting tortures. Smith's tongue was slit with a knife and the soles of his feet were slashed in a score of places until he became unconscious. The man then threw Smith down the stairs, where he was found the next morning.

The matter was kept a secret by the police until yesterday, when one arrest was made. The prisoner gives his name as Taylor.

POISONED BY CANNED SALMON.

Two Families of Persons Saved by Prompt Medical Aid.

Belleville, July 16.—William Merion and family and Iven Clancy and family, eight in all, residing in the Township of Rawdon, were on Sunday evening taken suddenly ill after partaking of supper. All were poisoned by eating canned salmon, and only medical aid being near at hand saved their lives. Clancy is in a dangerous condition, but the remainder are doing well.

BALLOONIST DROWNS.

Fatal Ending to First Ascent—Descended in Lake.

Kalamazoo, Mich., July 16.—Chas. Sann, aged 30, of Battle Creek, was drowned in Gull Lake Sunday on making a parachute drop from his first ascent at a balloon ascension.

Small boats reached the parachute quickly, but Sann's body had gone to the bottom.

Descending he was heard to say: "Get a boat; I can't swim."

STRANGERS IN STRANGE LAND

Eleven English Families Dumped Into Chatham Today

Wretched scenes Presented at The C. P. R. Depot.

Homeless, friendless, almost penniless, their children crying for bread, strangers in a strange land, eleven families of tired, worn-out and half-starved Englishmen arrived in the city this morning at one o'clock. The land of plenty which they had been told of before coming out here had mighty few allurements to men, women and children whose stomachs were empty, and after they had spent over thirty-six sleepless hours in railway coaches and stations.

The C. P. R. depot presented a scene of extreme squalor and wretchedness when a Planet reporter called around there at noon to-day. Small children were rolling about the floors, tired women walked about with babies in arms, and pessimistic, dejected-looking men lounged about complaining about the hardness of their lot. All appeared to be healthy and the men were stalwart looking fellows, whom the farmers of this section would be glad to get hold of now that the harvest is coming on.

"We were sent out here by the Central Bureau of the Unemployed located on Temple Avenue, 'the Strand, London, England,' one of them told the reporter. 'We understood that we were to get work as soon as we arrived here, but here we are. We have been here since one o'clock this morning waiting. We haven't had our clothes off since two o'clock Sunday morning, when we left Montreal. We were kept at Montreal from 8 o'clock one morning till 5.30 the next morning. Some of our number have been fortunate enough to get work since we arrived here, but the rest of us had to wait. Some cheese and milk and bread has been brought to us by charitable individuals since we arrived, else we would have had nothing to eat.'

Immigration Agent Waugh, who was afterwards asked that all of the Englishmen will get employment. "Each one of them was given about $25 on their arrival in Montreal. This was to pay expenses till they secure work, so that they are not so badly off. I wasn't notified of their coming, and I was thus somewhat handicapped in getting them employment," said he. "But I am glad to say that we have already got employment for some of them, and they will be all out of here by to-night. Some of them have to wait here for their baggage anyway."

"These people will make good citizens after they have been out here for a little while. They are all healthy, honest people. Look at that little girl over there. Isn't she a pretty child? You will notice they are all clean, well-kept people despite their present unhappy circumstances."

Reduced rates to Detroit and return, going every Saturday and Sunday, returning up to Monday night, was $1.00, is now $1.50; C. P. R. is also making rate of $1.00 going every Thursday, good to return until following evening. For further information ask C. P. R. ticket agent, corner of King and Fifth streets.

Give others credit for the good they do even if none of it reaches them.

Everything that a man can honestly get in this world is the gift of God.

Doing right at any cost is the essence of heroism.
