Flour trial is essential but— it is not your work!

Flour varies from time to time in baking quality. This is because wheat continually varies according to soil conditions, etc.

Therefore, if baking results are to be constantly high, baking tests are essential. It is unreasonable to expect you to make these tests at your expense.

So from each shipment of wheat delivered at our mills we take a ten pound sample. This is ground into flour. Bread is baked from the flour. If this bread is high in quality and large in quantity, we use the shipment. Otherwise we sell it.

By simply asking for FLOUR bearing this name you can always be sure of more bread and better bread.

An Influence.

You lived life bravely!
And though the fight was hard and long You never flinched from what was right, But through dark watches of the night You filled the hours with song.

You lived life bravely!
Your presence brightened all the day, Though so much sorrow crossed your path,
You met it with a quiet faith,
That swept all bitterness away.

You lived life nobly!
For by your generous self-denial, Others were taught to see the light,
That makes us strive for what is right, And meet life bravely with a smile.

—K. von KLOSTER.

Let's Pretend.

'Let's pretend,' said the little girl, 'let's pretend—and she sat very straight on the old stone wall, 'I'm Mrs. Van de Vere, and I have three maids, just to do my hair and make me pretty.'

'And I have long golden hair, and every one thinks I bleach it, to make it shine so, but I don't, and my eyes are like blue stars and my feet are tiny and tiny, and I have a necklace full of diamonds, and I go aboard on a private yacht whenever I want to, and my husband adores me and I have twelve children, every one a beauty.'

'Let's pretend,' said the other little girl, 'let's pretend I'm beautiful, too, and rich and everybody is mad at me for having the most diamonds and pearls and things, and my husband and I have quarrelled, and let's pretend that I am going to forgive him, but he doesn't know it, and—'

'Toot, toot,' said the little boy, shuffling along the red road and kicking up clouds of red dust. 'Toot, toot. I'm an engine, a great big, shiny engine, and I pull a long train clear up over the mountains—toot, toot, get off the track, here comes the engine.'

And the old shaggy dog lay in the sunshine and blinked and paid no slightest attention to the grand lady, in the checked gingham frock and the starchy shoes, or to the fine percentage in a blue drain play dress, and two braids down her chubby back and to the great engine that puffed right under his very nose.

But if one of them should start to talk, 'Woof! the old dog would be up there in a minute to call for help or to give help himself—for that is the nature of the shaggy dog and he can not help it.

'Let's pretend,' How old do we get before we stop pretending. I wonder. What fun it is to pretend!

I know a man who is as honest as the day—his word is his bond—any where in the city where he lives, and he pretends, what do you think that he is a thief. He tells how much he made from this deal, and how he got the best of that bargain, and looks all around to see if every one hears him when he talks. He's pretending—like the little boy in the red dust. Why be angry with him?

Sometimes he must be tired of pretending and longs to look his friends in the eyes naturally and as he really is, but he can't. He has pretended too long—it's a pity, isn't it?

I know a woman who plays 'pretend'—she has a husband who searches her and she is always telling us all how devoted he is and how dearly he loves her.

One day I saw a great basket of lilies in her house, her husband sent them to her, she said. An answersary, it was, I think, and I had seen her the day before at the florist's ordering the flowers herself. Yet when she told me how her husband had sent them and how good he always was, her poor, and I see lit up and she looked prettier than I ever saw her look in all her life.

I told her how pretty she was and that it was no wonder her husband adored her, and how we all envied her and—yes, why not, why couldn't I pretend, too, if it made her happy and me happy, too?

Let's pretend that the man you love doesn't do very well in business. He's faithful and honest and he works, but somehow some one else always gets in ahead of him. It isn't his fault, it's just luck—that's it—luck that's against him. Who could succeed handicapped by bad luck? Let's pretend, sister, let's pretend.

Let's pretend, let's all pretend if we cannot get the gray old world going—why not?

I was afraid, Mrs. Wotherby, said Mrs. Spatterer, that you wouldn't be able to get over to my house this afternoon for it isn't so easy to get away when you have to do your own

Oh, I wouldn't have missed coming

The Half-speed Man and Woman.

WHAT IT MEANS WHEN YOU FEEL
"ALL OUT OF SORTS"

You know what it means to feel "all out of sorts." Most people have felt this way some time. Nerves out of order, irritable, languid, depressed.
An aching head, a lagged brain, appetite bad and digestion weak. With some people this condition comes and goes; they can't shake it off. It interferes with business, spoils recreation and robs life of all its joys.

These men and women are only "half-speed" people.

Half-speed people have lost that nervous natural vitality which enables others to go "full speed-ahead" through life. Their energy and nerve power have evaporated—they cannot work long without breaking down.
The trouble is nerve weakness and it is caused by poor watery blood. You can begin to improve your condition to-day by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They make rich, red blood once more pulsate through your veins and your nerves thrill with fresh vigor. Here is convincing evidence that new strength and full health can be had through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Mr. Newton Mayhew, North Tarry, P. E. Island, says: "I am a farmer and naturally have to work very hard. The result was that I found myself very much run down.
My blood became thin and watery, and my muscles flabby. I took doctors' treatment but it did not help me and I grew so weak that I could scarcely work at all. As I found the medical treatment was not helping me I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and in three weeks I found the medicine I needed, as in a short time I was restored to my old health and vigour. I shall always recommend them to all sufferers."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers, or will be mailed, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by the Dr.
Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

To Rejuvenate an Old Coat.

A woman who had an old black coat that had become very dingy says she rejuvenated it all over with a sponge dipped in liquid shoe polish, applying just a little of the liquid every evening. Her coat, she says, has been taken for a new garment.

Did the doctor tell you what you had?
'No, he took all I had without telling me.'

Cured Eozema Like Magic

Suffered for Years—Tried All Kinds of Treatment—Surprised at Results From Dr. Chase's Ointment.

You can soon tell when people are enthusiastic about medical treatment by the language they use. After experimenting with all sorts of ointments in a vain effort to cure eozema, the writer of this letter was surprisedly astonished at the quick and satisfactory results obtained by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

"I worked like magic," she writes.
Indeed, it is surprising the healing that is effected in a single night by this great ointment. The stinging and itching, the redness, the crusting, and come it only a matter of time and painless treatment.

Mrs. Clements, 11 Strange street, Toronto, Ont., writes: "I have suffered from eozema for years, and after using all kinds of ointments, at last tried Dr. Chase's Ointment. It worked like magic and proved a Godsend to me. I would advise anyone suffering from eozema to try one box and be convinced." 50 cent per box,

Increased Salaries for Rural Post Masters.

The Postmaster General, Hon. C. P.
Pelletier, with the approval of the Government, has decided to increase the minimum of rural postmasters from $35 to $50 per year. The necessary legislative action to give effect to the decision will be taken at the coming session of Parliament. The last increase to rural postmasters was granted in 1908 when the minimum salary was increased from $25 to $35.
Since then there has been a constant agitation for a further increase to $50.
The increase will affect several thousand rural postmasters in all parts of Canada. The post office surplus for the present year will be much more than sufficient to meet the additional charge on revenue.

Election Protests.

The Toronto Globe and other Liberal papers are very much excited because the protest in Macdonald, Manitoba, has not been brought to trial.
It points out that the election was held a year ago and that there is danger Mr. Morrison will occupy a seat in Parliament next session. The Globe uses a great deal of strong language, says Mr. Rogers has a reputation for "electrical diabolism" and declares that the all-things-driving Mr.
Borden will be held by public opinion fully responsible.

who are elected by fraudulent practices should be unseated. We can agree also that there should be no unnecessary delay in bringing protests to trial. But in this, as in so many other instances, it is necessary to emphasize the amazing change of heart which has overtaken the organs and leaders of Liberalism since the party passed out of office two years ago.

In Halifax an election protest was kept from trial for a whole Parliament. But there was only laughter and jeering from the Liberal organs when doubt was expressed it was intended the law should be so protected for partisan purposes. It seemed to be regarded as very clever that men against whom charges were laid in the courts should be able to hold their places undisturbed until the natural dissolution of a Parliament to which perhaps they had never been elected.

But if in the judgment of the Liberal press this long delay at Halifax was at worst a pretty offence it should feel nothing but joy and gratitude that only a year has elapsed since the "eye election" in Manitoba over which it is now sneering. Fortunately, no doubt in forgetfulness of the honored precedents which were established under Liberal government.

Conservation of Rural Communities.

If it is not succeeding generations of rural boys and girls are to remain on the farm, life in the country must become more sociable and pleasant, and the standard of rural comfort and pleasure must be increased.

It is not enough that farming should be a paying business. If the needs of life are neglected, the young people on the farm will go where they will be supplied. Youth must have its pleasures.

We would like to see around all rural schools and churches a piece of ground set apart and properly equipped for games, a place that could be easily flooded in winter months for skating; where the boys and girls could meet on Saturday afternoons and attend to enjoy themselves. In towns and cities the young folks have these opportunities for recreation, but in the country we seldom have games or "doings" in which boys and girls can meet on equal terms.

We should have, in the country, most pleasant social interests which would go to make life more wholesome and interesting.

All work and no play makes Jack a dull and dissatisfied boy and Jack is flattered in the same way. Not only that, it sours in Jack and his sister the desire or rural life beyond remedy, because life on the farm seems to hold out to them only hard and careless work in the run of their years to come.

Supply your daughter with some of the pleasure giving, home satisfying things her cousin in the city enjoys.
She is as much entitled to them and the boy! Make it a point to learn his want, and supply them as far as it is within your lines. Your boys and girls are worth it, for they are the very best investment you can put money into. It is the only sure way of keeping them home, contented and helpful.—County Life in Canada.

Prepare for Colds.

Keep up the heat of your body by careful stoking with selected fuel, that's the tip for the coming cold weather. Keep warm, and your liability to colds, coughs, chills and chills will drop to the merest minimum.

Remember that the heat of your body comes from the food you eat, and not from the clothes you wear.
Men who die from starvation really die from cold. Look first of all, then, to your food when you are cold, and then to your clothes. Remember, too, that warm underclothing and a light overcoat is better than this under clothing and fur.

Snut puddings, butter, cream, the fat of all meats, cocoa, beef, pork, custard, bread puddings, nuts of all sorts, blanc-manges, etc. are all good 'heat' foods. There is no need for you to begin suddenly to fill yourselves with fat. Gradually add 'fatty' foods to your diet until you can assimilate them easily. It is perfectly true that those who shiver with cold are those who shudder at fat.

Chills, contrary to general belief, come from within, and not from without. Eat generously, and at fatty foods, take exercise and chills will be a thing of the past.

Give me a chance to PROVE my flour

I WANT folks to know what a splendid flour Cream of the West is. I want you to buy a bag at your grocery store. Use it for a couple of bakings and see the result.

Cream of the West Flour is guaranteed for bread

With Cream of the West you will have success or your money back. Your bread will do you credit or you don't pay one cent for the flour. Bring back what you have left in the bag and your grocer will refund your money in full.

It's an absolutely straight guarantee, madam, and all the best dealers co-operate. A strong, nutritious, light-rising flour, unbeatable for bread. That's Cream of the West. Try it.

Guarantee

We hereby affirm and declare that Cream of the West Flour is a superior bread flour, and as such is subject to our absolute guarantee—money back if not satisfactory after a fair trial. Any dealer is hereby authorized to return price paid by customer on return of unused portion of bag if flour is not as represented.

and chapped hands will be strangers to you.

If by careful attention to our diet we don't generate colds, this does not make us quite immune from catching them. But the well nourished, 'warm' person repels unseasonably many an attack which otherwise would have laid him low.

The cause of the annoying cold in the head is still one of the unmet problems of physics, but it is generally agreed that sudden changes of temperature is a likely cause. An alleviation for a cold in the head—there's no cure after it has become established —is spirit of camphor sprinkled on a handkerchief and inhaled. This checks the most unpleasant symptoms. For a cough, a medical man says: 'That a few drops of vinegar of squills in water will act like magic if used as a gargle.' That is a hint worth remembering.
