

DREADED SUNDAY.

Position in Which James Beatty of Kilworth Found Himself—Owing to Dyspepsia He Could Only Eat the Simplest Food. His Recommendation for Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Many people have cause to dislike or fear what should be an object of reverence to all—the seventh day, the day of rest.

Owing to the old custom which makes Sunday a feast day, dyspeptics often fail to derive any benefit, spiritual or physical, from the observance of the Sabbath.

To such people Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will be found of inestimable value. They are positive cures for all the forms and symptoms of Dyspepsia. They are in use over the greater part of the civilized world. Without exception those who have tried Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are satisfied and glad that they did so.

Mr. James Beatty of Kilworth, Ont., is one of them. He has used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. Here is what he has written about them: "If Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets do the same for everybody as they did for me they are a great medicine. I saw them advertised in the paper. I happened to be in Mr. Horner's store in Gravenhurst. I asked the clerk, Mr. Sam Murray. Mr. Murray said that he had run out of them, but would send for some. I told him that it wouldn't be necessary, as I thought they would be like most other patent medicines, but I found different. I went to Dr. Campbell's and got them there.

"For years I had to be very particular what I ate and drank. Above all things I dreaded Sunday. Now, thank goodness, I can eat what I choose, and the doctor is in my own pocket in the shape of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets. I am a different man. I had to take one every meal at first. Then I got so that I could do with one in a day. Now I don't need any. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets have cured me altogether. There are plenty of people to prove it as I am known from Toronto to Parry Sound."

Honest worth, merit and strict fulfillment of every promise made to suffering humanity have combined to place Paine's Celery Compound on the highest round of the ladder of fame. Its praises have been sounded by men and women in every walk of life—by the affluent, the distinguished, and by the humblest, but equally grateful people.

Paine's Celery Compound is the established home medicine of the large majority of our Canadian people. It is a medicine full of healing, strengthening and health-giving power. It nourishes the delicate nerve fibres, sustains strong heart action, and keeps the stomach, liver and kidneys in vigorous health.

Mrs. G. Durant, of Elms, Ont., briefly gives her experience with Paine's Celery Compound.

"For many years I have been a sufferer from liver trouble, and have doctored with several physicians, but only found relief for a very short time. My husband advised me to try your Paine's Celery Compound. I did so, and found so much relief from the first bottle that I continued, and am now using the third bottle. Your compound has done more for me than any physician. For months before using the compound I never had one night of sound sleep; now I can go to bed and sleep soundly and naturally, and feel like a new woman in the morning."
