Observations.

Crop Reports.
The St. John Sun has lately been seeking information concerning the average age and condition of the crops in New Brunswick. We quote below its report regarding Albert County:—
Hay—Seventy-five per cent was harvested in good condition and 25 per cent in a damaged condition by rains and the very dry spring. All the crop can be used as hay. The rest is damaged; 50 per cent is damaged by frost and 10 per cent is the total loss being 25 to 35 per cent. Wheat, little sown; damaged by frost, 20 to 25 per cent total loss.
Potatoes—An average crop, and would have been large but for effects of early frost and rain. Not all gathered yet on account of wet weather.
Root crops, 35 per cent short through injury by wet weather; not yet gathered in.

Saint John Letter.
My Editors, and Something About Other Matters.
I have some pleasant recollections of my first Editor. My aunt wrote poetry, which he published in his column, and as the Church I attended, he sang in the choir, and when my father came home one day and told me that my editor in an argument with Judge Wright had broken the nose of the Judge with a blow from his fist, I concluded that my editor could do nothing less than a genius. From that time I looked upon my editor with a good deal of awe, and when Judge Wright came along and ran his fingers through his hair, as he often did, and told me that some day I might be a Judge, I told him I'd rather be an editor.

Canada has a Future.
Canada has a future. This is all we know concerning it. It is hard to read. We guess at the contents of a book that the years will open. We see what we wish to see. Through the darkness we think we read truth in the stories that our hopes are telling.

The English Market.
Great Britain in 1887 purchased four times as much of the farm products of Canada as in 1868 while the purchases of the United States were actually less in 1887 than they were twenty years ago. During the last 20 years the United Kingdom has taken from us nearly 350 million dollars worth of the produce of the farm alone. While we sell in the U. S. each year about the same amount of our products, we purchase from them each year to the value of 12 millions of dollars worth, leaving a balance in our favour of only 23 millions. This fact shows very clearly that our trade with the U. S. is largely comprised of natural products alone while the imports from the U. S. to us are largely manufactured goods and that it would have some drawbacks in that it would deprive the American of the better to compete with our farmers in our own markets.

President Cleveland by losing favor in New York lost the election, although the south was as solid in his support as before. This is all true: the people of the United States object to a southern president the same as the people of Canada would object to being governed by one of Bial's half-breeds. The St. John Globe very sensibly remarks that "the presidential election has passed off in a way to prove that the people of the United States value their institutions and display self-control, calm judgment and moderation in an important crisis." The Evening Gazette, generally quite off its base when speaking of American affairs, in its Friday issue, after referring to Cleveland's retention policy very sensibly said,—"The defection of the business men from Cleveland is clearly shown by the great falling away in his vote in Brooklyn where the majority of the down town business men of New York reside. These men want a safe and sane loving President, not a dangerous crank who irritates war and bloodshed for the sake of a few Fenian votes. The Irish vote is not nearly so important as most people suppose and we venture to predict that there will be no special effort made to gain it in 1892. The result of the present election shows that the Irish vote is much less weighty and potent than even we were willing to believe it was. Cleveland crawled in the very dirt to gain it, and yet with his help, he was defeated, because every Irish vote he gained by such means was bought at the price of two judicious and self-respecting American citizens. The time has gone past when you appeal to Irish passions and hatred to England can win an election in the United States, and it is well that it is so, and that you should be less than administered to a man who has proved himself one of the most blatant and unprincipled demagogues who ever filled the presidential chair."
J. Thero Robinson, of Montreal, has published a book which will deeply interest all those who are prone to repeat lies on the hereafter. It is entitled "Letters From Hell", and has a preface by Rev. George McDonald. The idea of the author is that Hell is an eternal remembrance of guilt, which is most vividly depicted in his book. Mr. McDonald recommends it to the careful perusal of all within whose reach it may come.

Almost an Enoch Arden Case
A number of years ago Paul Adams, of Portland, married a Miss Street, of Carleton by whom he had five children. About ten years ago Adams left this city, and as the years passed by and nothing was heard from him, Mrs. Adams came to the conclusion her husband was dead. Richard Ratley, at present in the employ of David Council in his stable, Sydney street, wood and w.d.ed, four years ago, Mrs. Adams, and nothing occurred to mar their domestic happiness until a few evenings ago when Ratley went home for his supper. On entering the house he noticed a man sitting at the head of the table and his better half at the opposite side. Ratley looked at the man and then at the woman, but neither ventured an explanation or spoke a word. Not getting any satisfaction from his wife, Ratley left the house and soon afterwards learned that the strange man was none other than Paul Adams, was the woman's first husband. Ratley has been taking up his abode at the Central house, leaving the woman to the care of the first husband, Adams, however; does not seem disposed to claim his wife, for he is living with his brother in law, James T. Boyle of Portland.
