The Sewerage Bulaw.

Final Meeting for Discussion of the and Objections Answered.

Tomorrow the vote will be taken on the sewerage bylaw. The public meeting in Waterloo street north school last night was the final one of the series held for the purpose of setting the matter before the ratepayers in the various wards, and it by far exceeded the former meetings in length and heated discussion. Mr. Seldon S. Casey was chairman, and a number of speeches for and against the bylaw were made. Dr. Campbell, the first speaker, re-yesterday's Advertiser, in which the writer stated that undue haste was shown in putting the matter through. No time had been lost, the speaker said, in getting the plans ready to submit to the people as early as possible, and the courts had decided that something must be done before Sept.

5. Then there was a personal attack. The letter referred to the doctor as a hobby-rider. Dr. Campbell said it was unfair to make this statement, as he had only done as forced to do, being chairman of the Board of Health. With regard to his action as chair-man of the school board at that time, the doctor gave no attention to the question of graded schools. Referring again to the sewerage question, Dr. Campbell said this system provides for carrying off all the sewage and rainfall of the city. He had asked Engineer Ashbridge, of Toronto, to make bone broken and was injured internally by being caught between a log and a tree while he was skidding logs.

It had been suggested that the cost would be half a million dollars, but Engineer Chipman ability that is over the mark instead of under.

Mayor Little entered while the doctor was speaking, and succeeded him on the platform. He said he had not-ed only two objections to the scheme worth considering. The first was that the matter had been sprung upon the public hastily, which he answered much as the last speaker had done. The next was as to the size of the sewers. He thought that should be left to the If Yds. for $1.00

In constructing the sedimentation basin in connection with the Chatham waterworks in that city, Superintendent Jones says that the job will probably have to lie over till next season.

Edward Winner was the cause.

He thought that should be left to the engineers, and would not set up his opinion in opposition to theirs on that matter. Although not willing to admit that it was necessary to again look into the question of size, he pledged worth 25c, selling at 5c yard.

It has been the custom at the City Hall to add 10 per cent to the cost of sewers, to provide for contingencies, so that the cost will not be any more than at present. A ratepayer wanted to know if the citizens would be given a chance to do the work, and was assured they Ald. Armstrong then spoke in favor of the bylaw, and pointed out the many advantages to be gained by the Ex-Ald. Scarrow was the next speaker, and he vigorously opposed the bylaw. He claimed that the size of the sewers would be too small, and was of the opinion that the plan was for sewage only, and not surface water, and these gentlemen (the mayor and Dr. Campbell) misrepresented what the experts had said. We should solve both problems, said the speaker, while we are at it. A trunk sewer along Carling's Creek would increase

This was only on the $150,000, but there was the $55,000, of which, he claimed, nothing was said. The mayor replied that it had been said on every platform that the scheme would cost $200,000. It had been said there before that evening, by Dr. Campbell. What had been said was that the extra burden of taxation would be on the $150,000 only. The $55,000, which the Government had

Question-Is Mr. Christie satisfied that the new system will drain the cellars of that part of the city better than at present? Mr. Chrisic answered that he was.

Ald. Armstrong spoke strongly in favor of the bylaw. He said the mayor and Dr. Campbell were actuated by the highest motives.

Ald. Cooper asked if we had paid those engineers to tell us whether this system is right or not.

M. Shea—What about the fire hall you were going to give us?

Ald. Cooper—If you had coaxed Ald. Garratt you would have had that fire hall. The alderman expressed himself strongly in favor of the scheme.

When he had used all his time, the chairman pointed out that fact, but the fourth warder turned to him, saying, "Do you know I represent this ing, "Do you know I represent this ward?" and kept on talking.

Ex-Ald. John Boyd was in favor of annexing London West to get over the sewage difficulty, and of making a trunk sewer of Carling's Creek to carry away the storm water.

Mr. Harry Carling asked if any individual living near the river might not bring action against the city for emptying the sewage into the river?

Mr. Boyd admitted they could. Dr. Niven said the drains which open into the south branch of the river were a menace to the health of that part of the city. The bylaw should be supported, as improved sewage was a dire necessity. Mr. James Parsons spoke against the bylaw.

Mr. J. M. Parsons opposed the bylaw on the ground that sufficient time had not been given to consider the Sir John Carling was the last speaker, and addressed the electors in the same strain as at the City Hall. Mr. Boyd submitted a resolution to the effect that in the opinion of the meeting the proposed bylaw should be voted down in order to give the ratepayers more time to consider the plans in detail.

The chairman was about to put the resolution, and Ald. Cooper tried to get in a word, Mr. Casey wanted to know who was running the show. The resolution received only seven
