PREACHER BORE A FIERY CROSS

English Evangelist Introduces Unique Method of Attracting the Unsaved.

New York, Dec. 10 .- Through the streets of the crowded East Side, six hundred members of the old and prom" inent Episcopal congregation of St. ler's body will be found in the swamp, George's marched and sang last night, inviting back to the fold of Christianity the wanderers, the derelicts and > the soul-sick of the town. Headed by the Rev. Dr. William J. Dawson, an English evanglist, they walked behind a cross of incandescent lights, chorusing the stirring strains of "Onward, Christian Soldiers!" And they asked all who saw and heard to join. Amazed, then inspired, hundreds upon hundreds from the streets fell in line and followed. Even the occupants of three or four taxicabs ordered their machines to proceed slowly in the rear, and joined in the hymn sing-

Led Way to the Church. Two thousand or more-men and women-thronged into old St. George's when the fiery cross at last led the way through the church doors. Nothing but reverence and enthusiasm had greeted the procession anywhere along its line of march. It seemed a daring innovation for a church among whose vestrymen are J. Pierpont Morgan and Seth Low, and in whose congregation are such fashionof four and one-half per cent for the current half year, being at the rate of able families as the Elliott Shepards, nine per cent per annum upon the paid- the Lorillard Spencers, the Schieffelins, the Greenoughs, the Douglases

But it was apparently another harking back to the direct methods of the founder of Christianity and his disciples-the carrying the religion to the people instead of waiting for the people to come to the church. Thres weeks ago St. George's, welcoming the so-called Emmanuel movement, prac-

cars stopped for their crews to view the strange procession. It was received here with quiet astonishment more than anything else. Along Sixteenth street the marchers noved to Union Square. Over in this territory the line began to lengthen. Some men, as the cross passed. raised their hats and quietly stepped into places in the rear. Women, who smiled or laughed at first, joined also, seeing other women among the march-
